RYE, N.H., Feb. 25, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it effected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of Dr. Swett's PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

About seventeen years ago I discovered a bunch growing in my breast, attended with severe piercing pain, and when about as large as a hen's egg it broke out, and proved to be a Cancer of the most dangerous character. And from the abundant evidence I had of the good effect of Mr. Swett's Panacea in many such cases, I was encouraged to depend upon it for a cure in this case, and by keeping my stomach pure by emetics, which he prepared, and taking twelve bottles of Panacea, my Cancer was fully cured in about two months, and I have had no trouble from it since. CAROLINE H. SWETT.

This statement of my wife is correct.
SIMEON SWETT.

Portsmouth, N. H., April 18, 1861.

I have been greatly afflicted with a Humor called Erysipelas, which has been a great pain, causing many sores on my side. And seven bottles of Dr. Swett's Panacea I believe have effected a radical cure, as I feel as well as ever in the principle part. I believe this medicine to be the most sure remedy in the world for Humors.
HANNAH ROWE.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with dizziness at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give me any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

Exeter, Feb. 24, 1863. Dr. Swett:—"Sir, for the benefit of those who are afflicted as I have been, with a humor, which prevented quiet rest night and day, I would say, that your PANACEA has effected a radical cure on me; and we (and improved; therefore, I cheerfully recommend it as superior to any other medicine I ever used for humors and consumptive complaints."
WM. P. LEAVITT.

From ELDER I. CHESLEY, Lee, May 21, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker until she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I consider your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may28e

THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with tinner, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meat is prevented from coming into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & ANTI-WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots is used for respiration, it is found by to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 50 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off in large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the escape of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without being disturbed.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert E. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

MONDAY, DECEMBER 15, 1862.

THE REBELLION.

A dispatch from Nashville to the N. Y. Herald, states that a Union army of several hundred men from East Tennessee is regularly fortified on a line between Haywood county, N. C., and Tennessee. The Haywood rebel militia, mustering 250, with 60 Cherokee Indians, are holding them in check.

Nothing is definitely known as to where the rebels in Mississippi have fallen back.

A U. S. transport arrived at New York Sunday, from Newbern, 10th. Our troops were making preparations for a movement destination unknown.

Fredericksburg is now the centre towards which all are most anxiously turning, and the country is listening with the utmost solicitude for reports respecting the progress of the Army of the Potomac. On Thursday evening we lost 26 men, while driving the rebels through the city,—some of whom had secreted themselves in and behind the houses. Not much mercy was shown to those who were caught. Early on Friday morning our troops commenced moving across the river, rapidly and well concentrated. At a quarter past nine the first gun was fired, the engagement lasting about half an hour, the rebels not making a very spirited reply. The rebels are reported to have two strong lines of batteries in the rear of the city, the first one being one mile back, and the second a mile from the first. At a quarter past two the rebels opened with all their guns on the first ridge of hills. Their main fire was directed upon the city, which was filled with our troops.—The guns on the left of the ridge were opened on the larger body of our troops which crossed on the two lower bridges and had formed in line of battle, and were moving obliquely down the river fronting the Massaponix. Although several of their shells exploded, no one was injured. The troops which crossed below slept on their arms Friday night, the advance being within three-quarters of a mile of Massaponix Creek, the enemy occupying the opposite side of the creek in force. Our guns, posted on the north side of the river, silenced the enemy's artillery after a duel of half an hour. This ended the firing for the day.—The main body of the army was then over the river—the balance being in position to cross at any time. Nearly every house in the city has been damaged. The churches and several splendid residences have been completely riddled.

On Friday morning, Hampton's rebel cavalry captured Dumfries, a town situated about half way between Washington and Fredericksburg, and cut the telegraph wires. Later in the day, Gen. Steinwehr, in command of Gen. Sigel's advance, attacked the rebels and a fight ensued. In consequence of this occurrence there was no telegraphic communication with Gen. Burnside during the day.

The great battle between the two armies commenced on Saturday morning. At an early hour, Gen. Reynold's corps on the left advanced, and at quarter past 9 engaged the rebel infantry. Seven minutes afterwards the rebels opened a heavy fire of artillery, which had continued up till 11 o'clock without intermission. But a dense fog obstructed all view, and their artillery fire must have been at random. Our heavy guns answered them rapidly. At 11 o'clock not much infantry had become engaged. A portion of the enemy's cavalry had crossed a ford above our troops, and on Friday were found on our right and rear. A sufficient force was sent out to meet them.

BY TELEGRAPH,

to Messrs. Hutchings, Raley, William H. Sise and others.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF POTOMAC,
Saturday 12th, 11 P. M.

The fog began to rise early in the forenoon affording an unobstructed view of our own and the rebels' positions. It being evident that the first ridge of hills in the rear of the city, on which the enemy had their guns posted behind works, could not be carried except by charge of infantry, Gen. Sherman assigned this duty to Gen. French's division, which was supported by Gen. Howard's. The troops advanced at 10 minutes before 12 at a brisk run, the enemy's guns opening on them a very heavy fire. When within musket range of the base of the ridge, our troops were met by a terrible fire from the rebel infantry who were posted behind a stonewall and some houses on the right of the line. This checked the advance of our men, who fell back to a small ravine but not out of musket range.

At this time another body of troops moved to their assistance in splendid style, notwithstanding large gaps were made in their ranks, by the rebel artillery. When our troops arrived at the first line of rebel defences, they double-quicked and with fixed bayonets endeavored to dislodge the rebels from their hiding places. The concentrated fire of the rebel artillery and infantry which our men were forced to face, was too much for them, and the centre gave way in disorder. But afterwards they were rallied and brought back. From that time the fire was spiritedly carried on and never ceased until after dark.

Gen. Franklin, who commenced the attack on the left, met with better success.—He succeeded after a hard day's fight in driving the rebels about a mile. At one time the rebels advanced to attack him, but were handsomely repulsed with terrible slaughter, and the loss of between 400 and 500 prisoners, belonging to Gen. A. P. Hill's command. Gen. Franklin's movement was directed down the river and his troops are encamped to-night not far from the Massaponix Creek. Our troops sleep to-night where they fought to-day. The dead and wounded are being carried from the field.

The following is a list of Union officers killed or wounded, as far as yet known:—Gen. Jackson, Penn. Reserve, killed; Col. Sinclair, do., wounded seriously; Gen. Bayard, struck in the thigh by a shell and afterwards died; Gen. Vinton wounded in the side seriously; Gen. Gibbons in the head; Gen. Kimball, in two places, not seriously. Of the 5th N. H. regiment, Col. Edward E. Cross, Lancaster, wounded in the abdomen; Maj. E. E. Sturtevant, Concord, killed; Adj. Charles Dodd, Boston, killed; Captains John Murray, New Castle, and James B. Perry, Lebanon, killed.

The firing of musketry ceased about 6 o'clock P. M., but the rebels continued throwing shell into Fredericksburg until 8. The position of the rebels was as follows: Longstreet on the left, and holding the main works; A. P. Hill and Stonewall Jackson were in front of Gen. Franklin, with Jackson's right wing resting on the Rappahannock, and Hill's forces acting as a reserve.

Gen. Burnside will renew the battle at daylight Sunday. The troops are in good spirits, and not in the least disheartened.

SECOND DISPATCH.

SUNDAY, 11 30 A. M

There is no fog to day; the sun is shining brightly, with a strong breeze. At daylight there was a heavy fire of artillery and infantry in front of the first line of works, where Gens. Sumner and Hooker were engaged on Saturday. The fire slackened about an hour afterwards and has been heard only at intervals since. The same occurred in front of Gen. Franklin's division down the river. The object of each party was, evidently, to feel the other. During last night and this forenoon the rebels have considerably extended their works and strengthened their forces. Large bodies of troops are now to be seen where but few were to be found on Saturday. Our dead, who were killed yesterday while charging the enemy's works, still remain where they fell. When an attempt was made to remove them the rebels would open with infantry; but the wounded have all been removed.

WASHINGTON, Sunday.—It is thought here, from information received early this morning, that about 40,000 of our troops were engaged in yesterday's battle. Preparations were making all night for a conflict to day, Gen. Burnside remaining on the field, giving orders and looking to the position and condition of our forces.

[Owing to the state of the atmosphere on Sunday evening the wires worked badly, and consequently no further advices were received in this city.]

THE LUCKY LEGAL FEE.—A gentleman of Cincinnati states that Nicholas Longsworth, who was, in his native State, a shoemaker, practiced law on his removal to that city during the years between 1804 and 1820. He once received as a legal fee for defending a horse thief two second hand copper stills. The person who had them in possession refused to give them up, but proposed to Mr. Longsworth to give him a lot of thirty-three acres on Western Row, so called, in lieu of them—a proposal which the latter, whose sanguine opinions of the value of such property were ahead of his time, gladly accepted. The transaction formed the basis of an immense fortune the naked ground being now worth over two millions of dollars.

PURSUIT OF THE ALABAMA.—The N. Y. Times of Friday morning says:—

"It is not worth while to conceal the fact that a whole fleet of steamers are after the Alabama. The Vanderbilt sailed yesterday from the 'Lights' direct to Fayal, and runs a fair chance of falling in with the pirate on the way. She is expected to meet there two U. S. men-of-war, detached from a foreign squadron, and the three will then take different courses. The names of the steamers cannot be given. At the Brooklyn Navy Yard at present, there are two splendid regular navy steam frigates, and one 'ten knot steamer,' all of which will be off in a few days. At Boston another fine fast steamer is ready to leave. One left Philadelphia on Thursday, another started from Portsmouth, N. H., on Monday, and five have taken their departure from this and other ports within a few days. Of them all, however, only one, the Stettin, prize steamer, built expressly to run the blockade, and subsequently captured by our ships, is probably fast enough to catch the Alabama."

There may be some doubt about that steamer from Portsmouth.

Correspondence of the Chronicle.

U. S. STEAMER MAHASKA,
Off Yorktown, Dec. 5, 1862.

Messrs. Editors:—I thought as we have on board of this steamer several persons from Portsmouth and vicinity who are acting in different capacities, and as we were fitted out at that place, a few lines from one who has seen and knows, would not prove unacceptable.

Our first expedition was made under our zealous Captain, who is always on the move to execute the laws. We proceeded as far as West Point in a cautious manner, our object being to discover whether any new batteries had been built or old ones occupied. We saw no rebel forces, however, and returned. The next day, we again proceeded to the place, determined to accomplish something if possible. So we landed a couple of boats' crews, armed with picks and spades and guarded by a few marine. The rebels had formerly built a small earthwork and mounted a few guns at this place, but it was evacuated by them on the advance of our forces after the successful issue before Yorktown. The neighborhood is almost deserted by the male portion of its inhabitants, most of them being in the rebel army, or hucksters for them. We dug away part of the earthworks and blew up the magazine, and then started on our return. When within about 8 or 10 miles of our anchorage, we discovered a huge pile of wood, and soon after we loaded two canal boats for the use of the army at Yorktown. On the same evening the rebels set fire to the wood, and consumed the whole pile, containing from 200 to 300 cords.

Another expedition captured the notorious rebel, Peter Smith, who is supposed to be concerned in the burning of the ship Alleghany in Chesapeake Bay. Two or three boats loaded with calico, medicines and other articles,—quite necessary to the rebels, have been taken. Hardly a day passes but some illegal offender is arrested, and his boat and cargo confiscated to our use.

The most important undertaking yet attempted was successfully carried out not long since. We, in company with our two tenders, "May Queen" and "Gen. Putnam," together with several companies of soldiers, made a visit to East River, where we discovered a small salt work. The troops and sailors landed, with a force of about 300 men, without opposition, and proceeded to the work, which was capable of making 10 or more bushels a day. They tore down the whole concern, and smashed 30 or 40 salt pans, some of them belonging to individuals engaged in making salt in a small way. Every one who has an old kettle goes into the business: excepting the slaves, who are not permitted to.

In the meantime, some of the boats' crews proceeded in different directions, destroying every craft which might be used for running the blockade. Some 30 small boats, peculiar to this section, and 3 schooners were burned. Several of the crew, guided by a contraband, discovered a boat load of salt and a barrel of whiskey; the salt was demolished,—but the whiskey demolished some of them, and they were unable to return to the steamer without help. One of them got dead drunk, dropped out of the lines, and was captured; and with two soldiers, also lost, were heard of on the road to a Richmond prison.

Quite a number of the inhabitants are of Northern birth, but of Southern principles. We stopped at this place about 36 hours.

Several other expeditions have followed, in all of which schooners and boats were destroyed. No doubt, we have caused some uneasiness to the enemy. Even as I write, two schooners, valued at $1000 and $400 respectively, are coming down the river, a prize to our energetic officers and crew.

I am happy to state that Mr. Frank M. Drake, of your city, formerly Yeoman of this vessel, has been promoted to a Master's Mate's position. Other Portsmouth boys have also been rated in their several departments. Ever yours, G. C.

CONGRESS.

FRIDAY.—The Senate instructed the Committee on Military affairs to inquire into the expediency of allowing enlisted men now in the service entitled to a bounty of $100, before the passage of the act of Jan. 5, 1862, the same advance bounty as is allowed enlisted men by that act, and also what legislation is necessary to secure a more speedy payment of troops.

The House was not in session.

☞ A man, residing near Newburyport, left that city a few evenings since, in a sleigh, and, having imbibed freely of the liquor which inebriates, ran into a snow drift, breaking the shafts of his sleigh. His horse trotted along home without him, and an hour afterwards the man was found sitting in his sleigh all unconscious of the accident, and stupidly wondering why it took him so long to get home.

☞ Capt. Dahlgren, in his Ordnance report, urges on our government the purchase of a large amount of nitre, which comes from India. In case of war with England we should be shut out from a supply of the indispensable article.

NAVAL.—It is stated that the squadron of Admiral Wilkes was at Matanzas on the 6th inst., having been in Turtle Harbor on the 1st. The officers were confident in the hope of taking the rebel privateer Alabama. Though the squadron consists at present of only six vessels, it was understood this number would soon be doubled.

Lieut. Buchanan, of the gunboat Calhoun, states that the rebel steamer Victoria was fired and blown up off Last Island about the 12th ult. It appears that she broke her piston rod and sent a boat to Bashier City for assistance, when hearing that our forces were in possession they went back, set her on fire and deserted her.—She was loaded with arms, ammunition, clothing, and other "neutral" supplies.—An expedition from the Calhoun, up Bell river, on the 28th, returned with a launch mounting a 12 pound Dahlgren howitzer, and two prisoners. The launch had on board sixty tents and a few worthless shot guns.

☞ The N. Y. Post remarks: "J. Wesley Greene, who is the soi-disant ambassador between Jeff. Davis and the Chicago Times, is the notorious Confidence Greene who imposed upon many of our citizens some years ago, and who was sent to Sing Sing to serve five years. He is a very proper person to mediate between the rebels, Fernando Wood and other peace Democrats."

☞ A Washington dispatch re-asserts that no propositions of any kind in any form from any insurrectionary quarter have been received by President Lincoln or any of his Cabinet.

☞ The names of 34,051 visitors to the cupola, at the State House, Boston, are recorded on the books from May 1 to Dec. 11, 1862, inclusive. The cupola has been open 158 days, so that the visitors have averaged about 215 each day.

☞ The subscriptions in New York for the relief of the English workmen have reached nearly one hundred and twenty thousand dollars.

SALISBURY, Feb. 19, 1862.

Mr. Grace, I was badly afflicted for six weeks with chapped hands and cracked fingers, brought on by working over coal fires and handling hot Irons, so much so that I was on the point of quitting work, when I commenced the use of your Salve, and obtaining instant relief. The use of half a box completely cured my hands and I can cheerfully recommend it for its healing virtues.

WARD ONE REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE.

President—John H. Bailey.
Vice Presidents—George W. Pendexter, John S. Harvey.
Corresponding Secretary—J. P. Morse.
Recording Secretary—Joseph D. Pillow.
Executive Committee—John H. Bailey, Joseph P. Morse, Thos. L. Tullock, Wm. G. Cole, Moses Wherren, Wm. C. Hatch, John Hodgdon 2d, William Conn, Oliver Hanscom, John M. Davis.

The delegates from Ward 3 to the State Convention at Concord, Jan. 1, are:—
Samuel Gookin, Charles E. Blunt,
Charles Abbott, Samuel W. French.

It is stated that as far as can be ascertained the preference of the Portsmouth delegation for the nomination of Governor, will be in favor of Hon. Joseph A. Gilmore, of Concord.

LECTURE ON THE SANITARY COMMISSION.—Rev. J. F. W. Ware, of Cambridge, Mass., will read a lecture on the Sanitary Commission, and matters connected with the Army, in the Stone Church, on Tuesday evening, Dec. 16th, at half-past 7 o'clock. His lecture has met with much favor in Massachusetts, and it is hoped will be interesting to our citizens. A collection will be taken up at the close of the lecture for the objects it specifies.

☞ At the Portsmouth Navy Yard on Saturday, as a man named Hussey, employed in the carpenters' department as a hole-borer, was standing under a staging on the side-wheel steamer Sassacus, a large block of wood fell upon his head, injuring him seriously. He was taken to the Hospital.

POLITICAL ARREST.—The rebels at the South, and their allies in the North and in England, are greatly exercised about the arrest of such patriots as Marshal Kane and Dr. Batchelder,—wondering what has become of the writ of habeas corpus,—and fearing that our liberties are likely to be swallowed up by modern despots who disregard the examples set them by the fathers of the country.

The offence, however, is not new, even in this country, but as old as the Revolution,—and the old offender was one George Washington, of whom the reader may possibly have heard.

This statement is made by "Perley" of the Boston Journal, who is decently well posted in such matters. He says, under the head of "the author of political arrests":

It may not be generally known that the author of political arrests in this country was George Washington, when he was at Cambridge during the winter of 1775-76, organizing the army with which he afterwards won our independence. On the 12th of November, 1775, he directed Col. Wm. Palfrey, of his Staff, to arrest the tory office holders at Portsmouth, N. H., and later in the season urged the Governors of States to have laws passed for this purpose. "Why," he wrote Gov. Trumbull, of Connecticut, "should persons who are preying upon the vitals of their country, be suffered to stalk at large, whilst we know they will do us every mischief in their power?"

When Gen. Washington is on one side of a question, and Kane and the Doctor on the other, which shall we choose?

The difference is between the patriot and the traitor. One pleads for justice, quick and sure,—the other pleads for parchment and red tape, to keep himself out of the pillory. What honest man can hesitate in his choice? U. T.

☞ A special dispatch from Washington states that the Committee on Ways and Means have agreed upon three appropriation bills for the next fiscal year, which will be reported to the House on Monday. They are the army bill, which appropriates $741,000,000; the West Point bill, which is essentially as usual; and the fortification bill, which makes unusually large appropriations, especially for New York harbor, various points on the coast of Maine, and the Tortugas and other Florida forts.

A GREAT THING.—A loving heart and a pleasant countenance are commodities which a man should never fail to take home with him. They will best season his food and soften his pillow. It were a great thing for a man that his wife and children could truly say of him, "He never brought a frown or unhappiness across his threshold."

☞ Twenty-two cents per pound was offered in Boston for a lot of white rags on Thursday morning last, and the offer refused, and the same lot was offered in the afternoon of the same day for sixteen cents, but found no purchaser.

☞ According to a paper cal ed the Silver Age, published in California, the product of silver in portions of that rich country, is immense. It learns from a pretty reliable source that the Ophir Company are shipping weekly, from their works in Washoe county, the sum of not less than $60,000 in bullion, and some weeks it amounts to nearly $100,000 in value. At this rate the yield of the mine will probably reach the enormous sum of three millions of dollars this year. The Age says there are hundreds of mines in that vicinity equally as good, which are undeveloped, but which only require the capital to make them yield.

☞ The Worcester Spy remarks, in relation to delays in movements of troops, that if Gen. A. failed to make his connections because Gen. Z. failed to send pontoons in season, the shifting of responsibility may relieve Gen. A.'s reputation, but affords very slight consolation to the country. It adds, and with propriety too: "With the power of the government and its sharp experiences, no such blunders ought to occur, or if they do occur, they ought not to go unpunished."

☞ The Portland Argus mentions a fine display of meteors on Thursday evening at about half-past eleven o'clock. It states that one appeared about one-half as large as the moon. It descended in an easterly direction, and just before reaching the horizon, exploded, the fragments assuming all the colors of the rainbow and making a magnificent pyrotechnic dispiay.

☞ The Grenada (Miss.) Appeal states that John M. Botts has been presented with a magnificent estate in the county of Culpepper, recently purchased from Hon. Jeremiah Morton by Franklin Stearns, Esq., who in former days was an ardent political supporter of Botts, and shared his imprisonment in Gen. Winder's jail. Mr. Botts has kept very quiet since his release from prison.

☞ At the present moment, if a lady is invited to stay at Compiegne as the Empress Eugenie's guest for a week, she must take with her no less than twenty-eight different toilets, for the fair guests are expected to dress four times a day and it isn't at all the thing to appear twice in the same costume.

From the Journal

CONGRESSIONAL CONVENTION.

A correspondent wishes to know "whether it is intended to re-nominate Col. Marston at the Convention to be held at Dover next week." He says he "has no objection to him as a statesman, or as a soldier, but thinks he should not enjoy the double emolument of both offices." He asks too "whether the upper portion of the District has not claims to the nomination from that section."

In reply we have only to say that we know nothing of the purposes of the Convention.—Doubtless some good man will receive the nomination—and if one of more ability, and more devoted than the present incumbent to the cause of the Country and the State can be found, by all means his services should be secured.

Our correspondent misapprehends the position of Col. Marston. He can receive pay for only one office. He has not absented himself from his post in Congress at any time when his vote or voice has been needed—and his extra service on the battle ground has been the means of organizing one of the most effective regiments in the service.

As to local claims, in the services of Mr. Pike, whose home is at Sanbornton Bridge, the different sections of the District have been pretty equally represented. This we say without expressing a preference for any candidate.

At a meeting of the Republicans of Ward 2, held at the Court House, on Thursday evening, Dec. 11th, 1862, Edmund M. Brown was chosen chairman, Rufus K. Oxford, Secretary.

The following gentlemen were elected Ward Committee for the ensuing year:—Samuel Rowell, Edmund M. Brown, Charles H. Hayes, L. W. Brewster, Secretary.

And the following gentlemen were elected as delegates to the several Conventions:

John E. Salter,	Rufus K. Oxford,

NEW CURRENCY.—Dr. J. C. Ayer, of Lowell, has issued three cent and one cent postage stamps, neatly cased in white metal, on the size of a quarter of a dollar, with a display of the postage-stamps on one side beneath a mica covering. On the reverse is inscribed "Ayer's Sarsaparilla to purify the blood." They pass for the intrinsic value of the stamps enclosed—although they must cost at least two cents extra for this neat covering. Mr. Preston has them, and the Sarsaparilla also. If one will be of as much aid to the currency, as the other is to the general health of the public,—Dr. Ayer will become a double benefactor to his fellow men.

THE MUMMIES OF THEBES.—Messrs. Ayer & Co. have received from Alexandria a cargo of rags to pay for their medicines, which are largely sold in Egypt. They are evidently gathered from all classes and quarters of the Pacha's dominions—the cast-off garments of Hadjis and Howadjis—white linen turbans, loose breeches and flowing robes.—Not the least part of their bulk is cloth in which bodies were embalmed and wound for preservation three thousand years ago. They are now to be made into paper for Ayer's Almanacs, and Pills, after having wrapped the dead for thirty centuries, are used to warm the living from the narrow house which they have so long inhabited and to which, in spite of all our guards and cautions, we must so surely go.—Daily Evening Journal.

SOZODONT.—There seems to be something forbidding in the termination of that name—but to look upon the countenance in the advertisement, we are lead to think that the man is really enjoying a stick of candy. Those who use it will find it as pleasant to the taste as that countenance indicates, and an excellent dentfrice.

AN EXTRAVAGANT BEAUTY.—A Richmond correspondent of a Southern paper says: Folly and extravagance have not ceased with the war. I heard of a young Richmond belle, yesterday, just about to be married, who paid $85 for one bonnet, $50 for a second, and $45 for a third, for her nuptials. This is none of Dixie's business, but the young bride had far better have given two-thirds of the money to cover the feet of the soldiers than her own pretty head.

REPORT OF THE SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR.—The Cherokees, Choctaws, Chickasaws, and Seminoles were early in the rebellion overawed, by a rebel force sent among them, into renouncing their allegiance to the United States, and treating with the rebels. Some 7,000 souls, that part of them who refused, were driven into Kansas, and suffered much before being relieved by the Indian Bureau. Three regiments were organized from among them last spring, and are now in service.

(After a brief summary of the Indian war in Minnesota, the report says:) I am satisfied that the chief cause of this outbreak is to be found in the insurrection of the Southern States.

The Minnesotians require indemnity, and also guarantees for the future by the removal of the Indians. It has been an error to treat them as other nations. They should be placed within limits, kept under control, and taught to earn a living by agriculture.

The number of applications for patents during the year ending Sep. 30, 1862, was 5,309, of which 3,522 were granted.

The census report for 1860 is in great part ready for publication, and is proceeding rapidly. Congress must direct the manner of publication.

The public printing of the past year has been much greater than for any previous year, owing to the number of war, navy, and revenue blanks, and the large quantity required by the last session of Congress. The Government printing office has proved very economical, saving all the large profits of the public printer under the old system.

ROCKINGHAM FARMERS' M. F. INS. CO.—The annual meeting of this company was holden in Exeter, on Monday, Dec. 1st, at which the old Board of Officers was chosen as follows:

Wm. Conner of Exeter, President.
Geo. B. Webster, East Kingston,
Nehemiah P. Cram, Hampton Falls,
Joseph Judkins, Kingston,
Greenleaf Clark, Atkinson, Directors.
Charles E. Lane, Secretary and Treasurer.

Morning Chronicle.

☞ Thanks to Mr. Grace, the Salve man, for a box of his ointment, which we were fortunate enough to have at hand the other night, when we ran a bodkin (a printer's tool, not the ladies' ivory,—and a weapon "mightier than the pen,") under our left thumb, (which thumb "left" its previous position pretty quickly, we believe;) for although the awl went under to the roots of the nail, and we anticipated all sorts of trouble with the wounded member, yet one "doing up" in Grace's Salve, took out about all the soreness in twelve hours, and we have hardly thought of it since next morning—till happening to think that we owed Mr. G. thanks for his graciousness to us. We believe in his Salve, we do, now, and recommend all to "go and do likewise,"—except pricking their thumbs.

Ayer's SARSAPARILLA,

THE WORLD'S GREAT REMEDY FOR

Scrofula and Scrofulous Diseases.

From Emery Eaton, a well-known merchant of Oxford, Maine.

"I have sold large quantities of your SARSAPARILLA, and never yet found a single instance but it effected the desired effect and full satisfaction to those who took it. As fast as our people try it, they agree there has been no medicine like it before in our community."

Erupsions, Pimples, Blotches, Pustules, Ulcers, Sores, and all Diseases of the Skin.

From Rev. Robt. Stratton, Bristol, England.

"I only do my duty to you and the public, when I add my testimony to that you publish of the medical virtues of your SARSAPARILLA. My body, for years, has been a mass of sores, and my blood, at times, was so impure that I could not walk. Your SARSAPARILLA has cured me, and I feel its influence to be salutary in purifying the blood."

Scrofulous—General Debility—Purify the Blood.

From Dr. Robt. Satein, Hamilton St., New York.

"DR. AYER. I seldom fail to remove Eruptions and Scrofulous Sores by the persevering use of your SARSAPARILLA, and I have just now cured an attack of Malignant Erysipelas with it. No alterative we possess equals the SARSAPARILLA you have supplied to the profession and the public as a remedy."

From J. E. Johnston, Esq., Wahoma, Ohio.

"For twelve years, I had the yellow Erysipelas on my right arm, during which time I tried all the celebrated physicians I could reach, and took hundreds of dollars worth of medicines. The ulcers were so bad that the cords became visible, and the doctors decided that my arm must be amputated. I began taking your SARSAPARILLA. Took two bottles, and some of your PILLS. Together they have cured me. I am now as well and sound as any body. Being in a public place, my case is known to every body in this community, and excites the wonder of all."

From Hon. Henry Monro, M. P. P., of Newcastle, C. W., a leading member of the Canadian Parliament.

"I have used your SARSAPARILLA in my family, for general debility, and for purifying the blood, with very beneficial results, and feel confidence in commending it to the afflicted."

St. Anthony's Fire, Rose, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Sore Eyes.

From Harvey Sickler, Esq., the able editor of the Tuskingum Democrat, Pennsylvania.

"Our only child, about three years of age, was attacked by pimples on his forehead. They rapidly spread until they formed a loathsome and virulent sore, which covered his face, and actually blinded his eyes for some days. A skilful physician applied nitrate of silver and other remedies, without any apparent effect. For fifteen days we guarded his hands, lest with them he should tear open the festering and corrupt wound which covered his whole face. Having tried every thing else we had any faith in, we began using your SARSAPARILLA and applying the iodide of potash lotion, as you direct. The sore began to heal when we had given the first bottle, and was well when we had finished the second. The child's eyelashes, which had come out, grew again, and he is now as healthy and fair as any other. The whole neighborhood predicted that the child must die."

Syphilis and Mercurial Disease

From Dr. Hiram Stout, of St. Louis, Missouri.

"I find your SARSAPARILLA a more effectual remedy for the secondary symptoms of Syphilis, and for syphilitic disease than any other we possess. The profession are indebted to you for some of the best medicines we have."

From A. J. French, M. D., an eminent physician of Lawrence, Mass., who is a prominent member of the Legislature of Massachusetts.

"DR. AYER. My patients have found your SARSAPARILLA an excellent remedy for Syphilis, both of the primary and secondary type, and effectual in some cases that were too obstinate to yield to other remedies. I do not know what we can employ with more certainty of success, where a powerful alterative is required."

Mr. Chas. S. Van Liew, of New Brunswick, N. J., had cruelful ulcers on his legs, caused by the abuse of mercury, or mercurial disease, which grew more and more aggravated for years, so that he could find no remedy or treatment that could be applied, until the persevering use of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA relieved him. He was on his crutches when he commenced, and distressing than this, and it took several dozen bottles to cure him.

Leucorrhœa, Whites, Female Weakness, are generally produced by internal Scrofulous Ulceration, and are very obstinate, yielding only to the alterative effect of this SARSAPARILLA. Some cases require, however, in aid of the SARSAPARILLA, the skilful application of local remedies.

From the well-known and widely-celebrated Dr. Jacob Merrill, of Cincinnati.

"I have found your SARSAPARILLA an excellent alterative in diseases of the system, many cases of Irritability, Leucorrhœa, Internal Ulceration, and local debility, arising from the scrofulous diathesis, have yielded to it, and there are few that do not, when its effect is properly aided by local treatment."

A lady, unwilling to allow the publication of her name, writes:

"My daughter and myself have been cured of a very debilitating Leucorrhœa of long standing, by two bottles of your SARSAPARILLA."

Rheumatism, Gout, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Heart Disease, Neuralgia,

when caused by Scrofula in the system, are rapidly cured by this EXT. SARSAPARILLA.

☞ ATTENTION, THE WHOLE! ☜

RYE, N. H., Feb. 28, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the scalt throughout a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians in Boston, Portland, Saco, &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some one or twelve bottles of Dr. SWEETS PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can by no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago, while other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who have afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

...About seventeen years ago I discovered a bunch growing in my breast, attended with severe pleurisy stings, and continued to grow as large as a hen's egg it broke out, and proved to be a Cancer of the most dangerous character. And from the abundant evidence, which I had of the good effect of Dr. Swett's Panacea in many such cases, I was encouraged to depend upon it for a cure in this case, and, by the use of three bottles, I was perfectly healed, which he prepared, and taking twelve bottles of Panacea, my Cancer was fully cured in about two months, and I have had no trouble from it since. MARGARET ROWE.

This statement of my wife is correct. SIMEON SWETT.

Portsmouth, N. H., April 18, 1851.

I have been greatly afflicted with a Humor, called by the doctors Salt Rheum and Erysipelas, causing many sores on my side. And seven bottles of Dr. Swett's Panacea have effected a radical cure; as I CAN SAY and no sign of the plaint since. I believe this medicine to be the most sure remedy in the world for Humors.

HANNAH ROWE.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with dizziness at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often times my food would immediately after eating, in and all medicine failed to give me relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

Exeter, Feb. 24, 1853. Dr. Swett:—"Sir, for the benefit of those who are afflicted as I have been, with a humor, which gives me quiet rest night and day, I would say, that your PANACEA has effected a radical cure on me; and we I add—that by the use of it, my health has been greatly improved; therefore, I cheerfully recommend it as superior to any other medicine I ever used for humors and consumptive complaints."

WM. P. LEAVITT.

From ELDER I. CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest, by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA, and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY.

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicine shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N.-H., promptly attended to. may26c

THE MAGEE

COOKING STOVE.

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. Also, the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water. The large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with, the grate regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for a length of time, thus saving the expense of re kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture of the above valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the great est amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating Furnaces have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass through the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney hot enough to set your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world, and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq., Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum, Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

—— The proprietors of the cotton factories at Suncook purpose erecting a monster mill next season for the manufacture of the same kind of goods hitherto made there.—The building, about six hundred feet long, is already staked out on the Allenstown side of the Suncook river.

—— Col. Gilman Marston is reported to be on the new list of Brigadiers, which is very carefully kept from the public.

—— George W. Smith, of Lebanon, Orderly Sergeant in the 17th U. S. Infantry, has been promoted to a 2d Lieutenancy.

—— Lieut. Col. Titus, of the 9th Regiment, has been promoted to the Colonelcy, and Capt. Babbitt has been made Lt. Colonel.

—— At the recent term of the S. J. Court, holden at Concord, Hazen G. Davis, of Manchester, was divorced from his wife, on the ground of adultery. The Mirror says that this is only the third time Mr. Davis has been divorced.

—— The democratic nominee for Councillor in District No. 3, is Hon. Horace Chase, of Hopkinton. The resolutions adopted at the Convention on Thursday, were evidently framed from those adopted by the recent Democratic Congressional Convention in this city. The preamble and several of the resolutions are copied verbatim, but the first resolution is modified, and the fourth, declaring the Constitution sufficient for all emergencies, and the seventh, praising the gallantry of the soldiers in the field, and expressing sympathy for the friends of those who have fallen, are omitted.

—— There is trouble in Exeter over the draft. Exeter has been called upon to furnish 22 more men before the 24th, or Exeter must submit to the draft. Now the prospect isn't pleasing, and Exeter says her quota, under the various calls made by the President is 222 men and the town has sent, including the three years' and nine months' men, 236, making a surplus of 14 men.—The error will probably be corrected, and Exeter be relieved of her apprehensions.

—— A portion of the N. H. 15th regiment, attached to Gen. Banks' expedition, embarked on board the steamer Cambria at New York on Thursday.

—— The Post Offices in this State chosen by the Government, at which soiled post office stamps will be redeemed, are those of Portsmouth and Concord.

The "sunny slopes" of "Los Angelos" have announced to the world that America is a wine growing country, and as the discovery of gold sent a thrill through the old world, so will the discovery of these Wines startle them again, as it says, "one more link broken which has bound us to Europe," "one more step to independence." Let every man, woman and child who uses Wine, see to it that they buy none other than these.

"The Hock" is a most delicious Wine, and rivals in delicacy its German predecessor.

The "Angelica" and "Muscatel" are melting, luscious and rich, and will take the place of Malaga, Tokay, or other rich Wine.

The Port has a fine flavor and body; and The Port is excellent because it is pure.

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 16, 1862.

AN OLD PAPER.

The Herald of Gospel Liberty, now published at Newburyport under the management of Rev. Daniel P. Fike, and John W. Haley, a student of the theological school at Andover, is to be enlarged, and its fifty-fifth volume will commence Jan. 1st, 1863, with six thousand subscribers. All the papers of its denomination are to be united, and able writers are appointed. The price will be raised to $2, to be paid invariably in advance. It was the first religious paper published in this country, its first number being issued at Portsmouth, Sept. 1st, 1808, by Elias Smith. It should be stated that the Herald, at the beginning and for several years of its early years, was strongly political and partisan, as well as religious and sectarian. Mr. Smith was an ardent republican, and the pioneer of a new denomination. He was able and fearless, fond of controversy, sarcastic and witty. His opponents were the ministers and active members of what was then called the "standing order" in New England. These ministers were for the most part settled by the several towns, and thus their connexion with the public was somewhat political as well as religious.

The federal party, the conservatives of that day, generally favored the old order of things, while the republicans as generally went for pulling it down. Hence, nearly all the adherents of every new sect, joined the republican party. And against the allied powers of the clergy and federal party, Mr. Smith directed all his artillery of argument, ridicule and bitter invective, satisfied, we suppose, that he was doing God service.

Of course it was a very spicy paper;—and the pulpit discourses of the editor were often of the same sort. All the political sheets of that day were pale and tame compared with them. Some of his opponents attempted to use similar weapons against him, but with no great success. He was more than a match for them in this kind of warfare, which lasted on the side of the new sects, until the object was accomplished, in the passage of the "toleration law," so called, which was dreadfully feared by many Congregationalists, and ardently hoped for by the rising sects.

The result, however, disappointed all parties: After the first blow, which unsettled a few elderly pastors, the Congregationalists gathered strength, and their societies were generally more quiet than for many previous years,—while the growth of the newer sects was sensibly checked.—The great bone of contention was removed; and when those who had quarreled over it were gradually removed by death, the sects became more tolerant of each other,—and the younger members of to-day have but little idea of the sectarian bitterness of fifty years ago.

The same old bone was also a great loss to the demagogues who had indulged in the luxury of gnawing it once or twice a year; but it had become too dry for their picking when they got no votes by it.

The reader may perceive that political subjects got into religious papers at the start, and that such subjects were discussed by preachers half a century ago. Indeed it is ignorance alone, that can excuse any writer in asserting that the discussion of secular and political subjects is a new or a strange thing in the pulpit. On the contrary, it has been there ever since there was a pulpit. And it will stay there till preaching is done by machines.—Minds will think, and "when the fire burns" the preacher will "speak with his tongue."

And those advocates and champions of "freedom of speech and of the Press," who at the same time would forbid free speech in the pulpit, would do well to remember that all our churches now are on the voluntary system,—that preachers will be as free as their people,—and that in New Hampshire, from Joshua Moodey's time to this day, the pulpit has been a power in the State, not to be despised. U. T.

SURINAM.—Advices from Demarara, at New York, report a slave insurrection in Surinam, without giving particulars. Our people, excepting a few seamen, know very little about Surinam. It is the central part of Guiana, and is under the government of the Dutch. It has a population of about 50,000, of whom five-sixths are black; and the hills are chiefly peopled by runaways or Maroons. The Dutch government abolished slavery in 1851, by a law, but as a compensation to the master left the negro as an apprentice without pay till 1863.—The outbreak probably grew out of some disputes as to property or homes, at the close of the term.

Louis Napoleon suggested to England and Russia to demand an armistice of six months to see if some compromise could not be effected between the contending parties in this country. It was rejected. If it had been submitted to Fernando Wood's party and Jeff Davis it would have been accepted. The idea probably originated in New York or Richmond.—Newburyport Herald.

THE REBELLION.

The Richmond Inquirer says: Important movements are on foot in Eastern North Carolina. On Saturday, 6th, twelve Federal regiments left Newbern; some think their destination is Wilmington, but the more general belief is that they design an early attack on Weldon or Petersburg. On Sunday two transports and five gunboats ascended the Chowan river, and a land force of 10,000 was seen in motion from Suffolk, indicating a movement on Weldon. The Raleigh Progress announces the landing of a large Federal force in Gates county.

A dispatch from Nashville reports that Gen. Stanley, on Thursday, left our front, and disturbed the enemy early in the day, fighting a considerable cavalry force and defeating them. On Friday, he drove the rebels out of the town of Franklin. After destroying the flouring mills and other property useful to the rebel army, the expedition, satisfied with the reconnoissance and having ascertained the position and numbers of the rebels in that vicinity, returned, losing only one man. Five rebels were killed and ten wounded. Twelve were taken prisoners, and a large drove of horses were captured.

Brig. Gen. Steinwehr occupied Dumfries, Va., after the raid of Hampton's cavalry.—"Perley" reports that on Saturday Gen. Sigel, with his reserve corps, was within 20 miles of the enemy. A Washington dispatch says that gentlemen in high public positions repeat the assertion, as coming from Gen. Burnside, that he has men enough, and therefore desires no further reinforcements.

Intimations are given out respecting our forces near the Blackwater, to the southeast of Richmond. Nothing is known about them, relating to their orders and capacity to co-operate with Burnside. But they constitute a strong column, and it is a fair inference that they will in some way be made available in this crisis.

A Washington dispatch to the N. Y. Herald says that an old army officer, who scanned the rebel works behind Fredericksburg closely with a powerful glass, reports that there are six distinct lines of works. Another dispatch to the same paper says the rebel army numbers nearly 200,000 men.

A dispatch from the Army of the Potomac, Monday, 11 A. M., states that there was considerable firing between the advanced troops of the two armies on Sunday. At one time the rebels showed a disposition to move upon Gen. Franklin's forces, and occasionally they would throw a few shells among our troops. With these exceptions everything was quiet during the day. On Monday morning there had been some skirmishing, with considerable artillery firing. During the fight on Saturday nothing was seen of Gen. D. H. Hill's command, and some anxiety was felt among our troops as to its whereabouts. Some thought that he has gone to intercept Gen. Sigel, and others that he may be working in our rear. Gen. Sigel is reported to have 50,000 men, within striking distance of Gen. Burnside. Our scouts estimate that the rebel army numbers 100,000, and ridicule the report that they have twice that number.

A Washington dispatch to the Philadelphia Press states that Gen. Banks has landed at Winton, N. C., and formed a junction with the troops at Suffolk. He is supposed to be advancing on Weldon, having assumed command of the troops under Gens. Foster, Peck, Augur and Emory.

☞ Among the killed at Fredericksburg on Friday last was the Rev. Arthur B. Fuller, chaplain of the Massachusetts 16th regiment. He was a brother of the late Margaret Fuller, the talented authoress, and was for a time pastor of the New North church in Boston. He left a flourishing society in Watertown, Mass., to assume the office of chaplain. He was a man of good talents, one of the most highly respected ministers of his years, among the Unitarians and others.

☞ Capt. Mellen, of the ship Levi Starbuck, destroyed by the pirate Alabama, says that there was an English barque, laden with 400 tons of coal, at Port Royal, the captain of which went on board the pirate; after a consultation, his barque weighed anchor and sailed that night, undoubtedly for the same rendezvous, to supply the pirate with coal.

☞ A man in Portland, on Saturday, was compelled to pay a fine and costs, amounting to $5.17, for not clearing the snow from the sidewalk in front of his premises.

☞ The Portland Kerosene Oil Company have finally made prices for their oil, which will give great relief to the dealers generally. The prices now are for 1000 gall. lots 80c, 5 bbl. lots 82 1-2c, single bbls. 85 cts.

☞ Governor Brown, of Georgia, acting under the Legislature of that State, has seized from $300,000 to $400,000 of goods in Augusta, to be paid for, of course, at reasonable rates. It has caused great excitement.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— A report has been received and published that Adj. Dodd, of the 5th N. H. regiment, had been killed at Fredericksburg, but a dispatch has been received from him to the effect that he is alive and uninjured.

—— Col. Cross, of the 5th regiment, wounded at Fredericksburg, is in Washington, doing well. Col. Cross has probably been in as many battles as any volunteer officer in the service, and this is the third time he has been wounded.

—— A letter from the 12th regiment, published in the Laconia Democrat, charging Col. Potter with inhumanity, is condemned and the statement denied by other officers.

—— A handsome Fawn, measuring 7 feet 8 inches from tip to tip, was shot in Hampton last week by Josiah C. Palmer.—A rare thing in this neighborhood.

—— The Citizens of Hampton are attending a course of lectures on Geology, by Prof. Brown of Lowell, delivered in their Town Hall.

A DESERTER SHOT.—A correspondent of the N. Y. Herald states that private Wm. W. Lunt, of Co. I, 9th Me. Vols., met the just fate of a deserter at Hilton Head, S. C., Dec. 1. In the presence of the entire command, he paid with his life the fearful forfeit of his folly and his crime. During his sojourn in the Confederacy, Lunt commenced a career of crime which was not long in exasperating his newly made friends. Various stories are told of his exploits. It is said that when the rebel major before whom he was brought made an examination of his person, Lunt abstracted from that officer's pocket his gold chronometer, and, slipping it beneath his waistband, allowed it to fall to the ground, and buried it in the deep sand with his heel. On the day after his arrival he perpetrated a highway robbery, stealing from Miss Ellen Manning, who resided near the railroad bridge called Lofton, on the Fernandina and Baldwin road, a sum of money amounting to two hundred and sixty-eight dollars. To such a degree did his continued peccadilloes annoy the rebels that they at length returned him to one of our gunboats in the St. Mary's river, and gave him back to us for punishment. He was soon after arraigned before a court martial at St. Augustine and convicted. For some days, even, after the preparations for his melancholy fate had commenced, he spoke lightly of them. In his depravity he made them the subject of his jokes, and with regard to his destiny, professed an indifference which was an armor against ordinary sympathy. The faithful services, however, of Chaplain Butts, of the 47th New York, and of Chaplain Hill, of the 3d New Hampshire, were not long in effecting a change in the mental condition of the unhappy man, and thro' their kindly ministrations he was led to believe that he had an interest in Christ, to feel that his sins had been forgiven, and to trust in the completeness of his preparation for death and for eternity.

☞ A newspaper correspondent writes: "I have seen mention made in the papers of the hero of Corinth—a private. Let me tell you of another, who belonged to our Division. He was a private in the 52d Illinois, and, unfortunately, drunk—so drunk that they had taken his gun from him.—When the line fell back before that furious rebel charge, and when they so nearly obtained possession of the fort, he refused to go back, and picked up a gun and remained in possession. A rebel captain, who was one of the first to enter the works, called on him to surrender; he replied, "I never surrender," and shot the captain; a private attacking him just then, he knocked him down with his gun and bayoneted him; and before any more could get at him, our men had rallied and driven the rebels off, so that he held the work solitary and alone. By the time the regiment got in again, he had robbed the rebel captain of $140 in Confederate money, and such other little articles of value as he had about his person."

☞ The famous confidence man and peace emissary Greene (not a greenhorn by any means) who is said to have diddled President Lincoln out of a $100 greenback, puts Uncle Toby in mind of the once famous but now forgotten John Henry, who diddled Pres. Madison by pretending to be an emissary from Great Britain to the federalists in this country, and so got from him a much larger sum than Greene has secured.

☞ Commercial circulars from Japan, of the 26th October, say a revolution had broken out there, but of what character published reports do not make clear. The power of the Tycoon has been greatly restricted, and a policy adapted adverse to the foreign interest. Mr. Richardson, a prominent English merchant, had been assassinated by the servants of the Japanese Prince.

☞ A young woman in New Orleans shot a fellow for asking her if she would marry him. He popped the question, and she the questioner.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS.

The combination of ingredients in these Pills are the result of a long and extensive practice.—They are mild in their operation, and certain in correcting all irregularities, Painful Menstruations, removing all obstructions, whether from cold or otherwise, headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, whites, all nervous affections, hysterics, fatigue, pain in the back and limbs, &c., disturbed sleep, which arise from the interruption of nature.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS was the commencement of a new era in the treatment of those irregularities and obstructions which have consigned so many to a PREMATURE GRAVE. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular, and whenever an obstruction takes place the general health begins to decline.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS are most effectual remedy ever known for all complaints peculiar to FEMALES. To all classes they are invaluable, inducing, with certainty, periodical regularity. They are known to thousands, who have used them at different periods, throughout the country, having the sanction of some of the most eminent Physicians in America.

Explicit Directions, stating when they should not be used, with each Box.—The Price One Dollar per Box, containing from 50 to 60 Pills.

Pills sent by mail, promptly, by remitting to the Proprietor Sold by Druggists generally.

THE CITY MISSION held its Annual Public Meeting at the Middle Street Church on Sunday evening, when a large congregation were greatly interested in the services. Rev. Mr. Patterson presided, and the Report was read by Rev. Mr. Medbery, the City Missionary. Addresses and remarks were made by Mayor Simes, ex-Mayor Walker, and Mr. Ezra A. Stevens, and by Rev. Messrs. Reed, Eddy, Waterhouse, and Muzzey of Newburyport. The Mission is eminently useful, and must not be suffered to languish.

LECTURE ON THE SANITARY COMMISSION.—Rev. J. F. W. Ware, of Cambridge, Mass., will read a lecture on the Sanitary Commission, and matters connected with the Army, in the Stone Church, on Tuesday evening, Dec. 16th, at half-past 7 o'clock. His lecture has met with much favor in Massachusetts, and it is hoped will be interesting to our citizens. A collection will be taken up at the close of the lecture for the objects it specifies.

☞ The Chief of the bureau of Yards and Docks, in his estimates for the coming year, which have already been submitted, asks for $132,362 for the Portsmouth Navy Yard. The total amount asked for is $1,604,123.

☞ On Monday morning, as Mr. Harry Bright, of this city, was discharging a cargo of lumber from a schooner at the Portsmouth Navy Yard, a stick of timber, which was being taken out, by some means swung to, striking Mr. B. in the hips and jamming him against a pile of timber, injuring him to such an extent that it is feared he cannot survive. He was taken to the Hospital, and there made as comfortable as possible, after which he was conveyed to his home in this city.

DEATH OF A VENERABLE MAN.—A well-known and venerable citizen, Deacon James H. Foster, died in Boston on Wednesday, at the age of 89. He carried on the business of upholsterer for many years on Washington street, and for half a century was a deacon in the First Church. He married, 15th Nov., 1798, Elizabeth Smith, (born 3d of October, 1771,) a relative of the late John Adams, second President of the United States. He had thirteen children, of whom only a daughter survives him. His wife died in 1854, aged 82 years. —Boston Post.

He was a brother of the late Deacon John W. Foster, of this city.

ERROR CORRECTED.—We are assured by a gentleman of Hampton, who is interested in the raising of troops there, that there is no deficiency there, but her quota is full!

The error, in this case, came from using the Commissioner's report in making out the list of deficiencies: but men enough were enlisted, though the Selectmen had not completed their returns, or they were not handed to him when the report was made.

The alleged deficiencies in other towns, may, perhaps, be explained in the same manner.

☞ Lt. Frank D. Webster, of this city of the nine months volunteers, is to be presented with a sword and belt by his friends in the Unitarian Society, of whose choir he was a member.

☞ The U. S. steamer Ossipee is to sail from the Navy Yard this (Tuesday) morning.

A MARVELOUS ESCAPE FROM DEATH.—The Bangor Courrier publishes the following extract from a letter written by Sergeant Wm. P. Holden of the 2d Maine, who was wounded at the last Bull Run battle, and for a long time supposed to be dead. It shows a marvelous escape from death:

"The ball, a round ounce musket ball, struck me in the centre of my forehead, about three-quarters of an inch above the nose, breaking in the bone, so that on the second day after I was hit, on my pulling out the ball, which had flattened up almost as thin as a cent, I extracted two pieces of bone with it, and after I arrived at Washington, the surgeon took out four or five pieces more, leaving a space about one and one-half by one and three-quarter inches of the forehead without any bone, but it has almost entirely healed over; only a small space, about as large as a large bean, and the same shape, which runs quite hard yet. I lay out on the grass in the open air seven or eight days (two rain storms during the time) without having a thing done for me, with the exception of having my head washed with water (the time I pulled the bullet out,) by a wounded soldier. I don't recollect of eating anything but twice during that time.

☞ There is such a glut of silver coin in Canada that the banks will not receive it except at 1 at 3 per cent. discount. It is not a legal tender beyound $10. Postmasters are instructed by a recent order not to take silver coin for money orders, excepting at bank rates.

When the price of a thing is inquired of anyone now-a-days, the phrase is, "What is the postage on that?"

Ladies at a party are often pressed to play. Young men in these times have to be pressed to fight.

☞ The U. S. sloop-of-war Narragansett arrived at Panama on the 2d, making four American war vessels in port, with four French and one English. The French leave immediately for Mexico, and the others will remain in port.

☞ It is suggested that the Indian Agents who have cheated the red men out of their stipends should be hung at the same time with the Minnesota Indians. The frauds of the former induced the crimes of the latter.

☞ It is rumored that the Naval Commission who have examined into Commander Preble's case will sustain the President in ordering his dismissal.

ANOTHER NEW STOVE!

THE MODEL COOK

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking; giving an oven nearly 3 feet long; or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! A check draft is applied to this stove by means of which the consumption of fuel is greatly lessened, and a steady fire can be kept day and night if desired.

THE MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be THE STOVE for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is needed

We believe the MODEL COOK to be the very best Stove in the Market, and invite every one to examine it whether they wish to purchase or not. It has had a very extensive sale since its introduction. Reference might be made to more than a hundred families in this city or vicinity who are using the Stove, and give it the highest commendation.

We refer to the following individuals who have purchased the Model Cook:—

David Kimball, Thos. F. Burt, John T. French, Rev. Mr. Davies, Wm. Pettigrew, Capt. John Davis, Jeremiah Raitt, Mrs. Ann T. Perkins, James W. Jarvis, Francis C. Jarvis, Thos. L. Tullock, Jacob Wendell, Capt. Jacob Thompson, Gen. J. G. Hadley, G. Melvin Huntress, Jos. D. Akerman, James F. Shores, Wm. C. Newton, Horton D. Walker, Benj. Cheever, John Trundy, Richard L. Lamberi, Joseph Stiles, John Senter, Wm. Ball, Cyrus Plumer, Freeman Hurd, James M. Locke, Daniel L. Randall, Isaiah Wilson, John E. Roberts—of Portsmouth; Samuel C. Dixon, Daniel I. Pryor, Cushman Pryor, of Trefethen's Island; Geo. N. Dixon, Samuel F. Paul, Elias Remick, Timothy Dame, Eliot; Wm. S. Locke, Benj. Fernald, Mr. Wm. Locke, Kittery; R. F. Gerrish, Kittery Point; Hon. VICTOR COAL STOVE.

We offer this beautiful coal burner to the public, with full confidence in its merits.

It was brought into market two years since, and has come rapidly into use.

The Victor is one of the handsomest parlor stoves in the market, and is perfect in its operation. The arrangement for dumping the ashes is very fine—no dust need escape into the room—a continuous fire may be kept throughout the winter—the coal all burned, and no clinkers made.

The quantity of fuel used is very small indeed. There is in this stove an excellent arrangement for ventilating the room in which it is placed, a feature not possessed by any other parlor stove.

Some of the sizes are provided with an oven and boiling place, making them very desirable for a dining room.

We sold a large number of Victor Stoves in our city last season, and they receive the highest commendation from those who are using them.

We have also the celebrated McGregor Stove, so well known in the market as to need no commendation.

A great variety of cheaper Stoves for coal and wood—Coal-hods—Patent Coal-sifters.

COAL LININGS,

and Repairing pieces for most of the stoves in use. Job Work attended to with dispatch.

☞ The gentlemen elected to represent the First and Second Congressional Districts of Louisiana are unconditional Union men. Mr. Flanders is a native of New Hampshire, and a graduate of Dartmouth College. He has resided in New Orleans thirty years. Mr. Hahn is of German descent, but has lived in Louisiana since his boyhood. He is a lawyer by profession, and was a staunch Unionist through the darkest hours of secession madness.

When Haydn was asked how all his sacred music was so cheerful, the great composer replied: "I cannot make it otherwise. I write according to the thoughts I feel; when I think upon God, my heart is so full of joy that the notes dance and leap as it were from my pen; and since God has given me a cheerful heart, it will be pardoned in me that I serve him with a cheerful spirit.

☞ In a case before an English court lately, it was shown in evidence introduced that a French acrobat receives a salary greater than the income of the Archbishop of Canterbury, twice as much as that of the President of the United States, and vastly more than the income of any general, lawyer, or editor in the country.

"Say, what's to be done with this window, dear Jack?
The cold rushes through it at every crack!"
Quoth Jack; "I know little of carpenter craft;
But I think, my dear wife, you will have to go through
The very same process the rest of us do,
That is—you must 'list, or submit to the draft!"—Vanity Fair.

☞ Gen. Spinner, U. S. Treasurer, has heard nothing of the certificates stolen from his desk a few days since. It is his opinion that the parties who purloined them have burned them, and the police are of the same opinion. In no case, however, it is said, can they be used.

☞ Cassius M. Clay said Governor Seymour ought to be hung. The Providence Post asks if, in his reported correspondence, the President is inviting him to submit quietly to the ceremony.

MATHEWS' Arnica HAIR GLOSS

This is a new and invaluable preparation for preserving and beautifying the hair.

The wonderful virtues of Arnica in allaying and removing inflammation are universally known.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is a combination of these virtues, with other tried and excellent ingredients.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS stimulates and invigorates the hair, prevents it from falling out—restores it when lost—promotes its growth and strength—renders it proof against all diseases.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS permanently cures all irritations and eruptions of the scalp, and makes it healthy and fertile. For the removal of dandruff it has no equal. Its operations in this particular are magical and permanent.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is unequalled as a hair-dressing compound. It not only cleanses the scalp and invigorates the hair, but it renders the latter charmingly soft and lustrous. Its odor is particularly delicate and fragrant—the proprietor having taken special pains to secure this result.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is the very best preparation for the hair ever discovered.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS, notwithstanding its surpassing merits—is retailed at only Twenty-five cents a bottle, by all Druggists.

☞ ATTENTION, THE WHOLE! ☜

RYE, N.H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of DR. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many felt cures. I cheerfully recommend it as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

About seventeen years ago I discovered a bunch growing in my breast, attended with severe piercing pain, and when about as large as a hen's egg it broke down, and proved to be a Cancer of the most dangerous character. And from the abundant evidence I had of the good effect of Mr. Swett's Panacea, in many such cases, I was encouraged to depend upon it for a cure in this case, and by keeping my stomach pure by emetics, which he prepared, and taking twelve bottles of Panacea, my Cancer was fully cured in about two months, and I have had no trouble from it since. CAROLINE H. SWETT.

This statement of my wife is correct.
SIMEON SWETT.
Portsmouth, N. H., April 18, 1861.

I have been greatly afflicted with a Humor called by the common name of Salt Rheum and Erysipelas, causing many sores on my side. And seven bottles of Dr. Swett's Panacea I believe have effected a radical cure, as I have had no sign of the complaint since. I believe this medicine to be the most sure remedy in the world for Humors.
HANNAH ROWE.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.
I have for several years been afflicted with dizziness at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of those complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

Exeter, Feb. 24, 1858. Dr. Swett:—"Sir, for the benefit of those who are afflicted as I have been, with a humor, which prevented quiet rest night and day, I would say, that your PANACEA has effected a radical cure on me; and so I add—that by the use of it, my health has been greatly improved; therefore, I cheerfully recommend it as superior to any other medicine I ever used for humors and consumptive complaints."
WM. P. LEAVITT.

From ELDER I. CHESLEY, Lee, May 21, 1841.

Dr. Swett: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may25o

THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE.

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging stoves to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove. Hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, without the trouble—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former machines, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

The Chronicle.

A star for every State: a State for every star.

NO PARTY—ONE COUNTRY.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every ism fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address.

☞ About twelve years ago, according to the London Times, an English country clergyman with a lively conscience took possession of a city parish, and found he had a splendid church, a noble body of officials, a superior organ, and all the appointments of a grand establishment, but he had no congregation. Looking around him, he found within a stone's throw of his own church and of each other several more churches in a like predicament. The reason was simple: the people had all moved away, and business had usurped the dwellings of men; but the churches remained. This clergyman instead of closing his church and living somewhere pleasantly on the salary, inaugurated an effort to have the churches follow the people; and at last after an incredible amount of labor, a favorable issue has been reached, and the London churches are to be made of some service. Some of them are to be consolidated, and others to be moved and rebuilt in other sections, thus giving their benefits to three or four thousand instead of half a dozen people.

☞ A deaf and dumb man recently walked from Edinburg to London to visit the Great Exhibition; he accomplished the distance, 535 miles, in nine days, in one thirty-six hours walked one hundred miles. He put grease upon his shoes and whiskey on his feet, and preferred moonlight to daylight, considering the former better by a mile an hour.

A class of patriotic gentlemen think it downright despotism to restrain men from talking and encouraging treason, but it would be no violation of their ideas of freedom of speech and liberty of conscience to gag a man against speaking adversely of slavery.—Portland Press.

The "sunny slopes" of "Los Angelos" have announced to the world that America is a wine growing country, and as the discovery of gold sent a thrill through the old world, so will the discovery of these Wines startle them again, as it says, "one more link broken which has bound us to Europe," "one more step to independence." Let every man, woman and child who uses Wine, see to it that they buy none other than these.
"The Hock" is a most delicious Wine, and rivals in delicacy its German predecessor.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 17, 1862.

WHAT WE SAID LAST YEAR.—In the Daily Chronicle of Sept. 25, 1861, Uncle Toby said,—

"The surrender of the little U. S. army at Lexington, Mo., to the rebels, should admonish our government and people, that a larger army, raised at once, is not only desirable, but indispensable.

"We see no objection whatever to a requisition from the President and War Department, on the Governors of the several States, for such a number of men in so many days,—volunteers, if they volunteer; but drafts, if they do not.

"We surely can pay them, and we hope are able to arm and equip them, forthwith. Six months will do very well for many places—but we need them now,—before winter sets in."

And now, at the end of 15 months, when we have a large army, we say keep up to the full number, by recruiting, North and South, enlisting men of all nations, tongues, and colors, who are ready to go into the service. War is a great waster of treasure and of life. Therefore, with the means in our hands, we should make it short and decisive! U. T.

☞ Eliphalet Case, recently an editor of the Portland Advertiser, died in Indiana last Sunday night, after a short illness of inflammation of the lungs. Years ago, he was editor of the Portland Argus, also of a paper in Lowell, was postmaster there, and likewise a preacher. Of late years he "began to be a husbandman, and he planted a vineyard" and made Catawba wine. He was a man of great enterprise and energy, and was in former days an able editor; but the marks of age were visible on his later writings, as it commonly occurs to old men: their friends see it before they do. He was a man of industry to the last,—and of courage always. Peace to his ashes, and honor to his memory.

☞ Wm. E. Forrester, a New Yorker, is the successor of Gen. Ward of Salem, Mass., as commander of the Chinese armies. Mr. Forrester a few years since went to China as a sailor, and entering the Chinese service, rose to a high military rank. He became a Chinese mandarin, the next but one in rank to Gen. Ward, and is now his successor, thus keeping an American at the head of the Chinese army. He has passed through many perils and dangers. At one time he was captured by the rebels, who marched him about six hundred miles through many large cities, where he was shown—always in a state of utter nudity—to the people, at the same time a chain was fastened around his neck and his hands tied behind him. He was at last ransomed by the English Admiral Hope, with muskets and powder valued at $10,000

CONGRESS.

MONDAY.—In the Senate, a resolution censuring ex-President Buchanan, was laid over. A resolution was adopted requesting the President to transmit the report of Reverdy Johnson as Commissioner to New Orleans. The bill providing for the confirmation by the Senate of volunteer appointments in the navy was taken up and discussed until the expiration of the morning hour, when the resolution relating to the arrests of certain citizens of Delaware was taken up.

In the House, a bill was introduced to establish a postal money order system. A bill to reduce the duties on paper from 30 to 25 per cent, was referred. A resolution was adopted that in the judgment of the House there should be no legislation changing the existing laws providing for the payment of interest on the public debt in coin. A resolution was adopted—78 against 51—that the proclamation of the President of Sept. 22 is warranted by the Constitution, that the policy of emancipation as indicated therein is well adapted to hasten the restoration of peace; that it is well chosen as a war measure, and is an exercise of power with a proper regard to the rights of citizens and the perpetuity of our free government. The resolution authorizing the Secretary of the Navy to dispatch an armed vessel to convoy any ships carrying contributions for the relief of the starving operatives of England, was rejected by a vote of 46 to 71.

☞ The Transcript mentions as a curious fact that on Wednesday, before learning of the fate of the T. B. Wales, she was offered by her owners to a committee of the Boston Board of Trade, to gratuitously convey a cargo of provisions from that port for the Lancashire sufferers. Instead of going on this errand of charity to the starving operatives of England, she has been wantonly destroyed by a piratical craft, built in England with means furnished by British merchants. In this case, as in scores of others, English sympathy with Southern rebels, has proved disastrous to the unfortunate subjects of British misrule.

THE REBELLION.

A Fortress Monroe letter states that Plymouth, N. C., has been destroyed by fire, but by what division of the Federal army is not known.

On Monday evening, 395 rebel cavalry under Maj. White made a raid into Poolesville, Md., and captured 35 of our cavalry, but not till after a determined struggle, nor till the house in which they were, was on fire. The rebels robbed our men and then paroled them. We lost one killed, Sergt. Stiles, who had been ten years in the regular service, and two wounded; the rebels lost two killed and thirteen wounded.

Advices per the Bienville from Port Royal, mention an expedition projected against Mobila. The steamer Ericsson and a propeller, both with troops, coaled and left on the 10th, bound south. The rebels in the vicinity of Hilton Head have erected powerful batteries on James and Sullivan Islands, and all along the coast of Bull's Bay. Beauregard is reported to be intrenching at Charleston with 40,000 men.

Abner Jackson, a prominent citizen of Nashville, has been arrested for treason by the rebels. He openly avows himself a Union man. The Charleston Mercury has great apprehensions concerning Mobile. The same paper states that the small steamer North Star had been captured by the rebels near Palquemine, where she had been from New Orleans for sugar. The crew, ten in number, were taken prisoners. A Mobile dispatch, 9th, states that a man just from Yoknabateff, reports the enemy, 40,000 strong, crossing the river. They burned a portion of the town of Water Valley.

The Richmond Examiner says: "The preparations of the United States to subjugate us are now truly gigantic. In the East, West and North, on land and water, the movements of the Federal armies indicate a zeal, a hope, a fanaticism, a desperate activity that should banish from every Southerner's mind all thought of an early peace, and nerve every loyal Southern hand for a battle in which there will be no quarter. Northern Virginia is again overrun, and Richmond, Petersburg, Weldon, Charleston and Mobile are again threatened. Texas, undefended, lies helpless and bleeding in the power of the enemy. Forces are being prepared in Missouri and Kansas for the invasion of Arkansas. The communication between the West and Richmond is menaced at Chatanooga and Knoxville, and the Mississippi and its tributaries are bristling with gunboats for operations as soon as the floods come."

A dispatch of Monday, from New York states that it was not believed in well informed quarters there that Gen Banks had landed in North Carolina, but that some other of the numerous late expeditions had been confounded with his. The following is the dispatch to the Philadelphia Press. It is dated Monday, Dec. 15:—

"I have just received information from good authority that Gen. Banks has landed, with 20,000 men at Winton, N. C., near the head waters of the Chowan river. He has assumed command of the Army of the Blackwater, consisting of 3 corps d'armee, forming a grand division of the army. Gen. Foster will command the left wing; Gen. Peck the right wing, and Gen. Augur the centre. Gen. Emory will command the reserve troops, composed of twelve trusty regiments, three batteries of artillery, and two squadrons of cavalry. Gen. Banks is already advancing, having formed a junction with our troops at Suffolk. Gen. Foster's army has joined him by this time. It may be that Weldon may be taken immediately, but Petersburg must fall in a few days, while Burnside is driving Lee back upon Richmond to receive the last 'toss of the fork' from Gen. Banks as he endeavors to retreat to Lynchburg or Danville. Gen. Banks had full possession of the Seaboard and Roanoke railroad, and his future supplies will reach him by two other routes besides this one."

It is reported from Newbern that a portion of Gen. Banks' Expedition passed Beaufort on Wednesday last. "Perley's suggests that Gen. Banks may have gone out to supersede Gen. Butler at New Orleans, and says perhaps the latter may accompany Gov. Hamilton to Texas.

The Thames, a transport of the Banks' expedition, broke down, and was towed into Hilton Head on the 10th, by the Ericsson. The secret of Gen. Banks' expedition had been well kept. No one on board either the Ericsson or the Thames was able to impart it. Both vessels were under sealed orders, not to be opened till after passing Port Royal.

The following dispatch, dated Falmouth, Va., Dec. 16—8.45 A. M., has been received: It is raining very fast, and the river is rising rapidly. Our troops are all on this side of the river. The pontoons are taken up.—The Portland Argus, of Tuesday, says:—"We have seen a letter from a Maine officer of high repute and long service, who is in Gen. Howard's division, which says:—'Burnside is crossing the river, and in doing so is acting against his better judgment.'—The inference is inevitable that this crossing was by direct orders from Washington."—A dispatch to the President from the Headquarters of the Army, received at 4 o'clock on Sunday morning, stated that we had carried the first line of the enemy's works opposite the town and three miles below.—Our loss in killed and wounded was estimated at about 5000. The N. Y. Herald says that the whole number of killed, wounded and missing in Franklin's grand division is 5932. On Sunday, Gen. Burnside was reinforced, it is stated, by Gen. Sigel.

There was a heavy rain in Virginia, on Monday night, which will unfit the roads for military operations for several days. Our troops evacuated Fredericksburg during the night, and though the movement was a perilous one, it was conducted in safety. Our artillery was the first to cross. The last of the infantry crossed soon after daylight.—The enemy did not discover the movement until it was too late to do us harm. As soon as the last man was over, the pontoon bridges were removed, cutting off all communication. Our wounded are all safe on this side of the river.

Two of our regiments, and a cavalry company, on Saturday, surprised 2000 rebels at Tuscumbia, Miss., completely routing them. We took 70 prisoners, and burned the baggage of the rebels. Our loss was 4 killed and 14 wounded: the rebel loss is unknown.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— George S. Fullonton, in the 5th N. H. Regiment, died in Washington, D. C., Nov. 26, aged 23. He was from Raymond, and enlisted in Sept. 1861. He was with his regiment in the Peninsular campaign in the late summer, and in the disastrous retreat. His remains were brought home for burial.

—— A boy of about six years of age, while coasting in Manchester on Sunday, with a party of other lads, fell from the sled and was run over, receiving severe injuries upon the head. He remained in a comatous state for some two hours.

—— Special dispatches to the Boston Herald state that the N. H. regiments in Gen. Sturgis's division had lost as follows: Sixth, 4 killed and 68 wounded; Ninth, 10 killed, 48 wounded; Tenth, 3 killed, 46 wounded; Eleventh, 30 killed, 170 wounded; Thirteenth, 2 killed, 22 wounded.—The Fifth, on Sunday, mustered only 54 men.

—— A dispatch has been received in Concord, stating that Col. Cross, of the 5th N. H., was killed. We hope this is not true, though his wound, reported to be in the abdomen, must have been dangerous.

—— Thomas O. Christie of Dover, Sutler of the 11th regiment, was among those captured by the rebels at Dumfries, Va.

THE POPE'S LITERARY STAFF.—A Paris letter says: "It is curious to see the heterogenious elements of which the Papal army of litterateurs is made up. M. Proudhon does not profess christanity. M. Drouyn de l'Huys believes in transmigration of souls and other theories held by French dreamers, which are in direct opposition to all the Catholic dogmas. The majority who rejected Jules Favre's motion for the evacuation of Rome are Voltaireans. M. Guizot, who represents the temporal power of the Institute, is a Protestant of the Evangelical School. M. Cohen, the principal redacteur of La France, is a Jew, and although he says in the columns of that journal that the Papacy is the great conservative principle of modern society—in short, the salt of the earth—goes every Saturday to the Synagogue, and is as scrupulous an observer as he can well be of the law of Moses and the ordinance of the Rabbi."

☞ A man in Newburyport, the Herald says, the other day wrung a rooster's neck, picked him clean, and left him lying on the ground while he went into the house with the basket of feathers. On his return the rooster was gone. After a short search he was found running around the garden, and was finally driven into the hen-house, where the plucky bird came to a front face, flapped his featherless wings and crowed loudly.—The battle was then renewed, and ended in the capture and decapitation of the obstreperous chanticleer.

☞ The brig Winthrop, formerly of New York, now British, was brought into Rio Grande by the second mate of a Brazilian brig. The second mate of the Winthrop named Jones, an Austrian, murdered Capt. Lapaire, his wife and the first mate.—Jones was in charge of the British Consul and on trial. He had been put in irons by the crew when the vessel was boarded by the Brazilian brig. The Winthrop was from San Francisco for Montevideo.

☞ Senator Arnold has presented resolutions to the U. S. Senate, of the City Council of the city of Newport, tendering to the Government Coaster's Harbor Island, for the site of the Naval Academy, which were referred to the Committee on Naval Affairs.

☞ The Postmaster General has rescinded all orders heretofore made excluding from Post Offices and the mails certain papers presented by grand juries and otherwise represented as disloyal to the Government.

☞ The Richmond Examiner of last Friday says that the small pox has broken out most pestilentially in Richmond, and a number of citizens have died, and others are now laboring under this terrible disease.

☞ Artemas Ward, in delivering a lecture at Detroit, the other day, made the following observations:—

"Speaking of the discoveries and inventions of the present age he would mention spiritualism as one of the most important. At one of the circles recently held at the White House in Washington, the question was asked if the spirit of Andrew Jackson was present. The reply was, 'No, not much.' It was then asked. 'Has the spirit of Jackson been here recently?' to which the reply was given that the spirit of Jackson had not been within a hundred miles of Washington for a good many years."

We alluded some weeks since to a singular wager which had been made by a gentleman in Boston, who was to forfeit a suit of clothes if he did not eat a pigeon a day for sixty days, or to win a suit if he succeeded, his opponent to find the doves.—The suit of clothes has been won, the sixty pigeons have been eaten in sixty successive days, and the gentleman is in excellent condition, and more dove-like than ever in his disposition.—Sat Eve. Gazette.

The abolitionists predicted, that, in consequence of the rebellion, the slaves would everywhere rise, but, on the contrary, they have fallen fifty or a hundred per cent.

☞ It is proposed to light the British Museum from the outside, as the trustees are afraid of introducing gas. Reflectors are to be used for transmitting the rays into the building.

☞ Jeff. Davis was in Tennessee on Friday; so says a rebel paper of Murfreesboro.

☞ It is said that Gen. McClellan and wife contemplate an early visit to Boston.

☞ The Congregational Church at New Castle has one sermon each Sabbath, this winter, delivered in the afternoon, with the usual devotional services. It has also service in the forenoon, chie y, though not exclusively, for the Sabbath School. The exercises of this forenoon service, are,—the two usual morning hymns, sung by the choir, with the usual morning prayer, offered by the pastor. Following the second hymn, in the place of the morning sermon, comes an Exposition or Running Commentary on the portion of Scripture assigned to the Sunday School for a lesson. The lessons recited by the classes follow this Comment, and a brief address concludes the morning service.

☞ The only casualties in Co. G, 10th N. H. Regiment, Capt. G. W. Towle, in the battle at Fredericksburg, which we have yet seen reported, are—Michael Gilligan, of this city, wounded slightly, and Joshua Hoy, also wounded.

☞ Elias Parris, for several years connected with the Cape Cod Railroad, has been appointed Engineer, and ordered to report at the Portsmouth Navy Yard, for duty on screw sloop Sacramento.

☞ The steam frigate Colorado, from the Portsmouth Navy Yard, arrived at Fortress Monroe on Sunday.

COM'R PREBLE.—"Perley" writes to the Boston Journal, that with the consent of Com'r Preble, President Lincoln submitted to a board of three officers, consisting of Admiral A. H. Foote, Com. Chas. H. Davis and Lt. Com'r Phelps, the three letters of Com'r Preble narrating his action, and instructed them to decide whether or not the latter had performed his duty in permitting a rebel steamer to enter the port of Mobile, which he was blockading. These officers, after having carefully examined Com'r Preble's own statements, have reported that that officer did not do his duty, thus sustaining the action of Sec. Welles in dismissing him from the service. The Commissioners have made a report, showing what is expected of the commander of a vessel engaged in blockading a port, and how he is to "challenge" all who approach. Had Com'r Preble thus "challenged" the Ovieto, he would not have mistaken her for a British vessel, and by his own showing, if he had not so mistaken her identity, he could have captured her.

☞ The barque Reindeer, from St. Thomas Nov. 30, arrived at New York on Tuesday, and reports: passed frigate San Jacinto off that port; also that it was reported at St. Kitts on the 29th, that the pirate Alabama returned to Martinique on the 26th, and was loading with coal from a British neutral vessel in that harbor.

☞ The experiment of Thanksgiving day did not prove a great success in Canada. The papers describe it as dull and stupid, and blame the Governor General for setting forth the "bountiful harvest" as a cause of thanksgiving, when, in reality, it was "the worst ever known."

☞ The Bangor Whig learns that Gen. Sam'l. F. Hersey of that city, has paid up the whole of the indebtedness of the bondsmen of B. D. Peck, the defaulting State Treasurer, amounting to about twenty thousand dollars.

☞ The present manner of supporting the cartridge-box is productive of hernia or rupture, and the Surgeon General recommends that soldiers wear a shoulder-strap to hold the accoutrement.

☞ The reported wounding of General Meagher, it is said, is untrue. His horse fell upon him, and he was only slightly bruised, and is in active command of his brigade.

ANOTHER NEW STOVE!

THE MODEL COOK
FOR WOOD OR COAL.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking; the oven can even nearly 2 feet long; or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! A check draft is applied to this stove by means of which the consumption of fuel is greatly lessened, and a steady fire can be kept day and night if desired.

THE MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be THE STOVE for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is needed.

We believe the MODEL COOK to be the very best Stove in the Market, and invite every one to examine it whether they wish to purchase or not. It has had a very extensive sale since its introduction. Reference might be made to more than a hundred families in this city or vicinity who are using the Stove, and give it the highest commendation.

We refer to the following individuals who have purchased the Model Cook.—

David Kimball, Thos. F. Burt, John T. French, Rev. Mr. Davies, Wm. Pettigrew, Capt. John Davis, Jeremiah Raitt, Mrs. Nan T. Perkins, James W. Jarvis, Francis C. Jarvis, Thos. L. Tullock, Jacob Wendell, Capt. Jacob Thompson, Gen. J. G. Hadley, G. Melvin Huntress, Jos. D. Akerman, James F. Shores, Wm. C. Newton, Horton D. Walker, Benj. Cheever, John Trundy, Richard L. Bell, Cyrus Plumer, Freeman Hurd, James M. Locke, Daniel L. Randall, Isaiah Wilson, John E. Roberts—of Portsmouth; Samuel C. Dixon, Daniel I. Pryor, Cushman Pryor, of Treefethen's Island; Geo. N. Dixon, Samuel F. Paul, Elias Remick, Timothy Dame, Eliot; Wm. S. Locke, Benj. Fernald, Mrs. Wm. Locke, Kittery; R. F. Gerrish, Kittery Point; Hon. Clement March, Albert Blaisdell, Stephen M. Weeks, Geo. W. Davis, Greenland; John Smart, Stratham; Mrs. Reuben P. Jenness, David Jenness, Moses Philbrick, Rye.

VICTOR COAL STOVE.

We offer this beautiful coal burner to the public, with full confidence in its merits.

It was brought into market two years since, and has come rapidly into use.

The Victor is one of the handsomest parlor stoves in the market, and is perfect in its operation. The arrangement for dumping the ashes is very fine—no dust need escape into the room—a continuous fire may be kept throughout the winter—the coal all burned, and no clinkers made.

The quantity of fuel used is very small indeed. There is in this stove an excellent arrangement for ventilating the room in which it is placed; a feature not possessed by any other parlor stove.

Some of the sizes are provided with an oven and boiling place, making them very desirable for a dining room.

We sold a large number of Victor Stoves in our city last season, and they receive the highest commendation from those who are using them.

We have also the celebrated McGregor Stove, so well known in the market as to need no commendation.

A great variety of cheaper Stoves for coal and wood—Coal-hods—Patent Coal-sifters.

COAL LININGS,

and Repairing pieces for most of the stoves in use. Job Work attended to with dispatch.

The wonderful virtues of Arnica in allaying and removing inflammation are universally known.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is a combination of these virtues, with other tried and excellent ingredients.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS stimulates and invigorates the hair, prevents it from falling out, restores it when lost—promotes its growth and strength—renders it proof against all diseases.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS permanently cures all irritations and eruptions of the scalp, and makes it healthy and fertile. For the removal of dandruff it has no equal. Its operations in this particular are magical and permanent.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is unequalled as a hair-dressing compound. It not only cleanses the scalp and invigorates the hair, but it renders the latter charmingly soft and lustrous. Its odor is particularly delicate and fragrant—the proprietor having taken especial pains to secure this result.

This peculiar taint or infection which we call SCROFULA lurks in the constitutions of multitudes of men. It either produces or is produced by an enfeebled, vitiated state of the blood, wherein that fluid becomes incompetent to sustain the vital forces in their vigorous action, and leaves the system to fall into disorder and decay. The scrofulous contamination is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered digestion from unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children." The diseases it originates take various names, according to the organs it attacks. In the lungs, Scrofula produces tubercles, and finally Consumption; in the glands, swellings which suppurate and become ulcerous sores; in the stomach and bowels, derangements which produce indigestion, dyspepsia, and liver complaints; on the skin, eruptive and cutaneous affections. These, all having the same origin, require the same remedy, viz., purification and invigoration of the blood. Purify the blood, and these dangerous distempers leave you. With feeble, foul, or corrupted blood, you cannot have health; with that "life of the flesh" healthy, you cannot have scrofulous disease.

is compounded from the most effectual antidotes that medical science has discovered for this afflicting distemper, and for the cure of the disorders it entails. That it is far superior to any other remedy yet devised, is known by all who have given it a trial. That it does combine virtues truly extraordinary in their effect upon this class of complaints, is indisputably proven by the great multitude of publicly known and remarkable cures it has made of the following diseases: King's Evil, or Glandular Swellings, Tumors, Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches and Sores, Erysipelas, Rose or St. Anthony's Fire, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Coughs from tuberculous deposits in the lungs, White Swellings, Debility, Dropsy, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Syphilis and Syphilitic Infections, Mercurial Diseases, Female Weaknesses, and, indeed, the whole series of complaints that arise from impurity of the blood. Minute reports of individual cases may be found in AYER'S AMERICAN ALMANAC, which is furnished to the druggists for gratuitous distribution, wherein may be learned the directions for its use, and some of the remarkable cures which it has made when all other remedies had failed to afford relief. Those cases are purposely taken from all sections of this country, in order that every reader may have access to some one who can speak to him of its benefits from personal experience. Scrofula depresses the vital energies, and thus leaves its victims far more subject to disease and its fatal results than are healthy constitutions. Hence it tends to shorten, and does greatly shorten, the average duration of human life. The vast importance of these considerations has led us to spend years in perfecting a remedy which is adequate to its cure. This we now offer to the public under the name of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, although it is composed of ingredients, some of which exceed the best of Sarsaparilla in alterative power. By its aid you may protect yourself from the suffering and danger of these disorders. Purge out the foul corruptions that rot and fester in the blood, purge out the causes of disease, and vigorous health will follow. By its peculiar virtues this remedy stimulates the vital functions, and thus expels the distempers which lurk within the system or burst out on any part of it.

We know the public have been deceived by many compounds of Sarsaparilla, that promised much and did nothing; but they will neither be deceived nor disappointed in this. Its virtues have been proven by abundant trial, and there remains no question of its surpassing excellence for the cure of the afflicting diseases it is intended to reach. Although under the same name, it is a very different medicine from any other which has been before the people, and is far more effectual than any other which has ever been available to them.

AYER'S
CHERRY PECTORAL,
The World's Great Remedy for Coughs, Colds, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

This has been so long used and so universally known, that we need do no more than assure the public that its quality is kept up to the best it ever has been, and that it may be relied on to do all it has ever done.

☞ ATTENTION, THE WHOLE! ☜

RYE, N.H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even walking about the house very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of DR. SWEET'S PANACEA; and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Sweet's in curing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

About seventeen years ago I discovered a bunch growing in my breast, attended with severe piercing pain, and when about as large as a hen's egg it broke out, and I was informed it was a Cancer of the most dangerous character. And from the abundant evidence I had of the good effect of Mr. Sweet's Panacea in many such cases, I was induced to depend upon it for a cure in this case, and by keeping my stomach pure by emetics, which he prescribed, and taking twelve bottles of Panacea, the Cancer was fully cured in about two months, and I have had no trouble from it since. CAROLINE W. SWEET.

This statement of my wife is correct. SIMEON SWEET.
Portsmouth, N. H., April 18, 1851.

I have been greatly afflicted with a Humor called, by the doctors, Erysipelas and St. Anthony's fire, causing many sores on my side. And seven bottles of Dr. Swett's Panacea I believe have effected a radical cure, as I feel no sign of the complaint. I believe that medicine to be the most sure remedy in the world for Humors.
HANNAH ROWE.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give me relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of those complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

Exeter, Feb. 24, 1838. Dr Swett:—"Sir, for the benefit of those who are afflicted as I have been, with a humor, which prevented quiet rest night and day, I would say, that your PANACEA has effected a radical cure on me; and wo i, add—that by the use of it, my health has been greatly improved; therefore, I cheerfully recommend it as superior to any other medicine I ever used for humors and consumptive complaints."
WM. P. LEAVITT.

From ELDER I. CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of DR. SWEET'S medicines shall have pay for it if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWEET, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may26

COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall Stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet introduced, there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be confined day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and use of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this invaluable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection is common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass over the fire, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke pipe or flue at the top of the dome can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney hot enough to set fire to your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert A. Hatch, Esq.,
Amos H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

Soldiers, Sailors, and Fishermen, will find this Salve their best friend.

It has none of the irritating, heating properties of other remedies, but cools, cleanses, and heals the most serious Sores and Wounds. Every family, and especially those containing children, should keep a box on hand in case of accident, for it will save them much trouble, suffering, and money. All it wants is a fair trial to cure old and inveterate Sores.

NO PARTY—ONE COUNTRY.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every ism fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address.

EFFECTS OF COFFEE ON DISEASE.—Dr. Mosely observes, in his treatise on coffee, that the great use of the article in France is supposed to have abated the prevalence of the gravel. In the French colonies, where coffee is more used than in the English, as well as in Turkey, where it is the principal beverage, not only the gout, but the gravel is scarcely known. Dr. Frau relates, as an extraordinary instance of the effects of coffee on gout, the case of Dr. Daveran, who was attacked with the gout at the age of 25, and had it severely till he was upwards of 50, with chalk stones in the joints of his hands and feet, but for four years preceding the time when the account of his case had been given to Dr. Frau to lay before the public, he had by advice used coffee, and had no return of the gout afterward.

BUY CALIFORNIA WINES.
They are the Purest!
The Best!
The Cheapest!
The "sunny slopes" of "Los Angelos" have announced to the world that America is a wine growing country, and as the discovery of gold sent a thrill through the old world, so will the discovery of these Wines startle them again, as it says, "one more link broken which has bound us to Europe," "one more step to independence." Let every man, woman and child who uses Wine, see to it that they buy none other than these.
"The Rock" is a most delicious Wine, and rivals in delicacy its German predecessor.
The "Angelica" and "Muscatel" are melting, luscious and rich, and will take the place of Malaga, Tokay, or other rich Wine.
The Port has a fine flavor and body; and
The Port is excellent because it is pure.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 18, 1862.

☞ Some papers seem despondent, and some indignant, at the retreat of Gen. Burnside across the Rappahannock. We do not see sufficient cause for either indignation or despondency. The enemy was too strongly posted on the hills, and had no idea of abandoning his position. Monday was spent by Lee's force in adding to their fortifications; and as rain came on and the river was rising, the situation of Gen. Burnside was no longer tenable, and in the storm of Monday night, without his movements being known to the rebels, he recrossed in safety, bringing all his guns and wounded, and their bridges were removed. It must have surprised the rebels to wake up on Tuesday morning and find the Union army gone.

Our army in this case, did something like what the rebels did after the battle of Antietam,—and also at Manassas. Reverses are not pleasant, but a cowardly snivelling over them is not the best way to improve our condition.

We have seen a deal of foolish speculation in Washington despatches lately. A few days ago, we were gravely informed that Burnside's plans would not be meddled with—and now some one, profesing to be an officer, writes that Gen. Burnside crossed over to Fredericksburg "against his own judgment."

We place no great reliance on either of the statements—and suppose that those who make them, know no more about the matter than we do.

NEWSPAPERS.—At the meeting of the New Hampshire editors, at Phenix Hotel, Concord, Monday, a scale of advertising prices, uniform for the State, relative to circulation, was adopted. Also, resolutions recommending publishers to reduce the size or increase the price of their papers, or both—and stating that pay for deaths, marriages, and all other notices, will be accepted in cases where proffered. An official report of this printers' important convention, will be made.

The size of all the Concord papers is to be reduced the first of the new year—old prices retained. The Patriot, Statesman, and Independent Democrat will henceforth be not much larger than this sheet of ours. The days of great cheap papers are gone.

"THE STATES AND UNION."—Mr. J. L. Foster, of Manchester, formerly of the Dover Gazette, announces by prospectus, that he will commence the issue of a new Democratic weekly newspaper in Portsmouth, with the above distinctive and expressive title, on the first of January. It is to be a little larger than this paper, and $1.25 per year in advance—too cheap for these times, or for any times. It will be issued from the old Democratic printing office and headquarters in Daniel street; and the Democracy of Rockingham County are amply able to support the paper well if they choose.—We wish success to the actual States and the Union they form, and to all papers, pens, and less mighty weapons, which labor for their real interests.

☞ There is no mail in the early morning train on the C. & P. Railroad; and we find it too expensive, delivering our Dailies in Greenland, and elsewhere on the route, by private conveyance. So, for the present, such papers will be sent by the regular afternoon mail. Next summer, we hope for three trains daily on that road, and better mail accommodations.

☞ Our free lists, especially of the Weekly, will be much curtailed after this week. "Agents" must pay half price at least, and all others full rates.

A NEW PIRATE SHIP.—According to the following paragraph from the Columbus Sun, the rebels have another pirate ship afloat:—

"We have before us a private letter, written on board the above vessel, Nov. 23d.—From the intimations of the writer, we infer that the '606' is now somewhere out on the 'deep blue sea.' Dr. Dwight, of the crew, is dead; a noble and faithful man.—We may expect soon to hear of 'Capt. Vernon G. Locke,' of the '606.' The name of the officers are Capt. John Parker, first officer; C. Carroll Hicks, second officer; G. Hay, third officer; G. Price, ordnance officer; W. W. Gray, purser; J. Gordon, prize-master; J. B. Jones, boatswain."

☞ Mrs. Lincoln, the President's wife, has promised to supply one of the largest hospitals in Washington with a good Christmas dinner. All honor to her for this good work. The wife of the Secretary of the Interior, Mrs. Caleb B. Smith, had received between three and four thousand dollars for the same object, and the ladies of the Capital are resolved that all the sick and wounded soldiers shall be bountifully supplied on Christmas. All honor to them.

☞ The Gardiner (Me.,) Journal says Messrs. Richards & Hoskins of that city manufactured paper from husks, twenty years ago.

THE REBELLION.

Near Nashville, on Monday, a party of rebel cavalry grossly violated a flag of truce by dashing on a detachment of the 4th Michigan cavalry, which was awaiting a reply, and capturing 53 of them. There is no prospect of a general advance of the rebels.

The rebel Morgan has been made a Major General by Jeff. Davis. Bragg a day or two since issued an order to conscript every exiled Kentuckian or Tennesseean, and Breckinridge, Buckner and Hanson threatened to resign if this was done. Jeff. Davis took the matter under advisement.—There is great hostility on the part of the Tennesseeans and Kentuckians against the Mississippians.

Dispatches from the Southwest report that Gen. Grant still remains at Oxford, 50 miles north of Grenada; Gen. Sherman has returned to Memphis, and Gen. Hovey to Helena. A further advance of the Federal armies in that quarter, at present, is not probable.

A Washington dispatch of Tuesday night states that from what was then known of the length and extent of the enemy's fortifications, there was a general approval of Gen. Burnside's movement in recrossing the Rappahannock. There was nothing known there to show that the rebels were inclined to leave their strongholds to meet our troops in an open field. All possible attention was being bestowed upon the wounded, but comparatively few of them had as yet arrived in Washington. Altho' our loss is heavy, it is far below some of the published statements; but the precise number cannot for days to come be ascertained. Many of the wounded have been sent to the hospital at Point Lookout.

The Philadelphia Press publishes a dispatch from Gen. Burnside to Gen. Halleck, announcing the withdrawal of the army from Fredericksburg. Gen. Burnside says:

Feeling fully convinced that the position in front could not be carried, and as it was a military necessity either to attack or retire, and as a repulse would have been disastrous to us under existing circumstances, the army was withdrawn without loss either of property or men."

The N. Y. Times' correspondent gives the following as the position of the rebels, which our forces were expected to storm and take:—

"There is a bare plateau of a third of a mile which the storming party will have to cross. In doing so they will be exposed to the fire, first of the enemy's sharpshooters, posted behind a stone wall running along the base of the ridge; of a double row of rifle pits on the rise of the crest; of the heavy batteries behind strong field works that stud the top of the hill; of a powerful infantry force now lying concealed behind these; of a plunging fire from the batteries on the lower range; of a double enfilading fire from the cannon to the left of them. Sebastopol was not half so strong."

The Times' account of the battle shows that Gen. Hooker's grand division was kept on this side of the river until 4 o'clock, Saturday afternoon, when it was ordered to cross, Gen. Hooker remarking to a General that he was going to put this thing through. In half an hour prodigious volleys of musketry announced that Hooker with his reserves was in, engaged; this last assaulting column consisted of the divisions of Humphrey, Monk, Howard, Gette and Sykes. They had, however, hardly got fairly engaged before the sun went down and night closed around.

A dispatch from Falmouth reports that on Tuesday morning the rebels seemed to be perfectly astonished that our army had succeeded in returning to this side of the Rappahannock. We did not lose a man or a gun, and yet the pickets of the two armies were separated by only a few yards. Our pickets on the outposts were unaware of the movement until just before daylight, when an officer went to each man and in a low tone of voice ordered him to fall back. At 9 o'clock the enemy advanced their skirmishers, and by noon established their pickets near the river, while the rebel soldiers commenced robbing the bodies of those of our dead left on the field. Our army has been considerably reinforced.

It is reported that Gen. McClellan was called to Washington on Tuesday and started in the evening.

A barque at New York from New Orleans, reports 9th inst., off St. Augustine, Fla., saw six large steamers—judged from their course they were bound further south than Florida. They are probably a part of Gen. Banks' expedition.

A Washington dispatch says that Gen. Wool has been removed from the command of the Department of Maryland, General Schenck succeeding him, (perhaps the old story revived.) Gen. Seymour sails to-day for Port Royal, to succeed Gen. Saxton.

☞ The Washington correspondent of the Commercial Advertiser, under date of the 15th, says: Should any mishaps occur before Fredericksburg it may lead to a reconstruction of the Cabinet and the recall of Gen. McClellan to the command of the army. Every one is excited, feverish and impatient. The same correspondent says the censorship will not allow any war news to go over the wires unless approved by Gen. Burnside.

REPUBLICAN CONGRESSIONAL CONVENTION.—The Republican Congressional Convention for District No. 1 met at the City Hall, Dover, on Wednesday. The Convention was called to order by Hon. Thomas L. Tullock, a member of the State Committee: Wm. H. Hills, Esq., of Plaistow, was chosen temporary Chairman, and Thomas B. Garland, of Dover, and B. F. Parker, of Wolfborough, Secretaries.

The following gentlemen were appointed committee on credentials—Messrs. Odlin of Exeter, Plumer of Epping, Burleigh of Somersworth, Hall of Dover, Merrill of Meredith, Berry of Barnstead, McMellan of Conway, and Cate of Brookfield.

The committee on permanent organization was—Messrs. Bell of Exeter, Dearborn of Deerfield, Converse of Rollinsford, Stevens of Dover, Hubbard of Tamworth, Weed of Sandwich, Hackett of Upper Gilmanton, and Moony of Alton.

The committee on resolutions was—C. H. Bell of Exeter, Thos. L. Tullock of Portsmouth, T. J. W. Pray of Dover, E. A. Rollins of Somersworth, Eben. Stevens of Meredeth, John J. Morrill of Gilford, Chas. C. Chesley of Wakefield, and Asa Beacham of Ossipee.

The Committee reported the permanent officers of the convention as follows—Hon. Thomas E. Sawyer, of Dover, President; T. L. Tullock, of Portsmouth, S. Woodman of Deerfield, John McDuffie, Rochester, D. S. Horn of Dover, Gorham Swain of Upper Gilmanton, H. Beede of Meredith, Joseph Gilman of Tamworth, and C. Blanchard of Sandwich, Vice Presidents; Thomas B. Garland of Dover, and Benj. F. Parker of Wolfborough, Secretaries. At half past 12 the convention adjourned, to meet at half past one.

In the afternoon an informal ballot was had for a candidate for Representative to Congress, to be supported at the election in March next, with the following result:—

E. A. Rollins had	1
J. D. Lyman	46
Gilman Marston	90
Joel Eastman	91

On the next ballot the vote resulted as follows:—

J. D. Lyman	33
Joel Eastman	102

And there was no choice. The third ballot:—

J. D. Lyman	20
Joel Eastman	112

And again there was no choice. The 4th ballot was:—

Joel Eastman	140

And Hon. Joel Eastman, of Conway, was declared the nominee of the Convention, which nomination was, on motion, made unanimous. A committee waited on Mr Eastman, who was present, and he, with a few remarks, accepted the nomination.

Of the resolutions adopted, the first relates to National affairs; the second condemns the resolutions passed by the recent Democratic Congressional Convention, held in this city; and the third endorses the nominees of the Convention and of the Republican party in this State.

CONGRESS.

TUESDAY.—In the Senate a message was received from the President, placing at the disposal of Congress three swords captured by Gen. Butler, formerly belonging to Twiggs. The President says if these swords are given to any officer for valuable services, Gen. Butler is entitled to the first consideration. Referred to the committee on Military Affairs. A resolution that the government will maintain the payment of coin for interest of debts, and that duties on imports shall continue to be collected in coin and the old issue of demand notes only; was referred to the Committee on Finance. Bills were introduced severally relative to a canal between the Minnesota and Red rivers, and relative to a removal of the Sioux Indians. The resolution censuring ex-President Buchanan was tabled by a decisive vote. Mr. Stevens' Union resolutions were postponed three weeks. The West Point Academy appropriation bill was passed. The death of Hon. Luther Hanchett of Wisconsin was appropriately noticed in both branches.

☞ Gen. Burnside issued an order on the 4th to check the practice of too rapid firing of artillery, by which vast amounts of ammunition are wasted. He says if the expenditure of ammunition continues to be as extravagant as heretofore, it will be impossible to keep the army supplied.

☞ J. Wesley Green, who represents himself as having been a peace commissioner from Jeff. Davis to President Lincoln, has been arrested at Chicago on a charge of swindling a dealer in Washington out of a set of furs. But Green has such a cool way about him, that it is not surprising that he should need a set of furs.

☞ Secretary Smith's nomination to a United States Judgeship was sent into the Senate on Tuesday. "Perley" says it is thought that Assistant Secretary Usher will be his successor as Secretary of the Interior.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Gov. Berry has appointed Messrs. Geo. W. Riddle of Manchester, Ephraim Hutchings of Concord, and John Chamberlain of Canterbury, commissioners to proceed immediately to Virginia, to attend to the wants of the wounded soldiers belonging to this State. All are active, energetic men.

—— Mr. George Flanders, of Hopkinton was killed a few days since. He had just cut down a tree, which, in falling, tore off a large limb from another tree close by. The limb was hurled with great violence and struck him upon the head. He survived the blow only about eleven hours. He was about thirty years of age.

—— The N. Y. Tribune's lists of the wounded at Fredericksburg include the names of Corp. H. Hayes and R. Ruker, of the 6th N. H. regiment.

—— A special correspondent of the N. Y. World, in partially summing up the losses at Fredericksburg, from returns already made, gives the following in N. H. regiments:—

Sixth N. H.—Killed, 4; wounded, 68.
Fourth (Fifth?)—Killed, 16; wounded, 68.
Eleventh—Killed, 30; wounded, 170.

—— A dispatch to the N. Y. Tribune states that the report that Col. Cross of the 5th N. H. is mortally wounded, proves untrue. He is doing well and will recover, though this is the tenth wound he has received during the war. He says the rebels will have to shoot him at least once more before they kill him. His veteran regiment went into the battle with 250 men, and came out with 75.

CHRONOLOGY SET BACK.—The Boston Courier of Dec. 17 has a little editorial in which it "could almost commiserate the present feelings of some of those who voted in favor of the Emancipation resolution,"—and says:—

"As the thunders of the first Bull Run rang on their ears, the House hastened to pass the following resolutions by a nearly unanimous vote, February 15th, 1861."

The vote referred to, is the well-known disclaimer of congressional legislation on slavery in the States.

Now as the first battle of Bull Run was fought July 18, and the one where there was most thunder July 21, Congress must have had the sound rung in their ears about six months before the guns were fired. If this be so, then how natural it would be now, for Congress to pass a resolution of emancipation, as the thunder of next New Year's day rings in their ears in advance! Who says that miracles have ceased?

TRY IT! TRY IT!!

It saves Money; it saves Carpets; it saves Furniture; it saves Labor; it is cheaper than Brooms at five cents apiece.

It gathers up all dust, dirt, and loose lint on the carpets, and raises no dust to settle on the furniture, drapery, or ornaments, or to smother, stifle and irritate the lungs.

It does not wear the carpets half so much as brooms or any other sweeper.

It is the only practicable sweeper made, and the only article fit to sweep a carpet.

With our late improvements it gives universal satisfaction to all who use it according to directions. For sale at No. 12 Market Street by

BUY CALIFORNIA WINES.

They are the Purest!
The Best!
The Cheapest!

The "sunny slopes" of "Los Angelos" have announced to the world that America is a wine growing country, and as the discovery of gold sent a thrill through the old world, so will the discovery of these Wines startle them again, as it says, "one more link broken which has bound us to Europe," "one more step to independence." Let every man, woman and child who uses Wine, see to it that they buy none other than these.

"The Hock" is a most delicious Wine, and rivals in delicacy its German predecessor.

The "Angelica" and "Muscatel" are melting, luscious and rich, and will take the place of Malaga, Tokay, or other rich Wine.

The Port has a fine flavor and body; and The Port is excellent because it is pure.

ANOTHER NEW STOVE!

THE MODEL COOK
FOR WOOD OR COAL.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking; giving an oven nearly 3 feet long; or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! A check draft is applied to this stove by means of which the consumption of fuel is greatly diminished, and a steady fire can be kept day and night if desired.

THE MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be THE STOVE for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is needed.

We believe the MODEL COOK to be the very best Stove in the Market, and invite every one to examine it whether they wish to purchase or not. It has had a very extensive sale since its introduction. Reference might be made to more than a hundred families in this city or vicinity who are using the Stove, and give it the highest commendation.

We refer to the following individuals who have purchased the Model Cook:—

David Kimball, Thos. F. Burt, John T. French, Rev. Mr. Davies, Wm. Pettigrew, Capt. John Davis, Jeremiah Raitt, Mrs. Ann T. Perkins, James W. Jarvis, Francis C. Jarvis, Thos. L. Tullock, Jacob Wendell, Capt. Jacob Thompson, Gen. J. G. Hadley, U. Melvin Bustress, Jos. D. Akerman, James F. Shores, Wm. C. Newton, Horton D. Walker, Benj. Cheever, John Trundy, Richard L. Kendall, Geo. Rice, Benj. F. Caney, Benj M. Parker, Charles A. Wiggin, George W. Plumer, Nath'l Dennett, Henry F. Gerrish, John Harratt, Thos Murphy, Capt. Wm. Lambert, Joseph Stiles, John Senter, Wm. Bell, Cyrus Plumer, Freeman Hurd, James M. Locke, Daniel L. Randall, Isaiah Wilson, John E. Roberts—of Portsmouth; Samuel C. Dixon, Daniel I. Pryor, Cushman Pryor, of Trefethen's Island; Geo. N. Dixon, Samuel F. Paul, Elias Remick, Timothy Dame, Eliot; Wm. S. Locke, Benj. Furnald, Mrs. Wm. Locke, Kittery; R. F. Gerrish, Kittery Point; Hon. VICTOR COAL STOVE.

We offer this beautiful coal burner to the public, with full confidence in its merits.

It was brought into market two years since, and has come rapidly into use.

The Victor is one of the handsomest parlor stoves in the market, and is perfect in its operation. The arrangement for dumping the ashes is very fine—but does not escape into the room—a continuous fire may be kept throughout the winter—the coal all burned, and no clinkers made.

The quantity of fuel used is very small indeed. There is in this stove an excellent arrangement for ventilating the room in which it is placed; a feature not possessed by any other parlor stove.

Some of the sizes are provided with an oven and boiling place, making them very desirable for a dining room.

We sold a large number of Victor Stoves in our city last season, and they receive the highest commendation from those who are using them.

We have also the celebrated McGregor Stove, so well known in the market as to need no commendation.

A great variety of cheaper Stoves for coal and wood—Coal-hods—Patent Coal-sifters.

and Repairing pieces for most of the stoves in use.

Ayer's SARSAPARILLA

Scrofula and Scrofulous Diseases.

From Emery Eddy, a well-known merchant of Gardiner, Maine.

"I have sold large quantities of your SARSAPARILLA for twenty years and have never met with a single case which failed of the desired effect and full satisfaction to those who took it. As fast as our people try it, they agree there has been no medicine like it before in our community."

Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches, Pustules, Ulcers, Scurvy, and all Diseases of the Skin.

From Rev. Robt. Stratton, Bristol, England.

"I only do my duty to you and the public, when I add my testimony to that you publish of the wonderful virtues of your SARSAPARILLA. My daughter, aged ten, had an affecting humor in her ears, eyes, and hair for years, which we were unable to cure until we tried your SARSAPARILLA. She has been well for some months."

From Mrs. Jane E. Rice, a well-known and much-esteemed lady of Dunstable, Cooper Co., Mo.

"My daughter has suffered for a year past with a scrofulous eruption, which was very troublesome. Nothing afforded any relief until we tried your SARSAPARILLA, which soon completely cured her."

From Charles P. Gage, Esq., of the widely known Gage, Murray & Co., manufacturers of enamelled papers in Hadam, N. H.

"I suffered for several years a very troublesome humor in my face, which grew constantly worse until it disfigured my features and became a most terrible affliction. I tried almost every thing a man could of both advice and medicine, but without any relief whatever, until I took your SARSAPARILLA. It immediately made my face worse, as you told me it might for a time; but in a few weeks the new skin began to form under the blotches, and continued until my face is as smooth as any body's, and I am without any symptoms of the disease that I knew of. I enjoy perfect health, and without a doubt owe it to your SARSAPARILLA."

Erysipelas—General Debility—Purity the Blood.

From Dr. Bell, Scovin, Houston St., New York.

"Dr. AYER. I seldom fail to remove Eruptions and Scrofulous Sores by the persevering use of your SARSAPARILLA, and I have had more cured attack of Malignant Erysipelas with it. No alterative we possess equals the SARSAPARILLA you have supplied for purifying the blood in such cases."

From J. S. Johnston, Esq., Wabenaw, Ohio.

"For twelve years, I had the yellow Erysipelas on my right arm, during which time I tried all the celebrated physicians I could reach, and took hundreds of dollars worth of medicine. The ulcers were so bad that the cords became visible, and the doctors decided that my arm must be amputated. I began taking your SARSAPARILLA. Took two bottles, and some of your PILLS. Together they have cured me. I am now as well and sound as any body. Being a public place, my case is known to every body in this community, and excites the wonder of all."

From Hon. Henry Moore, M. P. P., of Newcastle, C. W., a leading member of the Canadian Parliament.

"I have used your SARSAPARILLA in my family, for general debility, and for purifying the blood, with very beneficial results, and feel confidence in commending it to the afflicted."

St. Anthony's Fire, Rose, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Sore Eyes.

From Harvey Sickler, Esq., the able editor of the Tuskhannock Democrat, Pennsylvania.

"Our only child, about three years of age, was attacked by pimples on the face and neck. They rapidly spread until they formed a loathsome and virulent sore, which covered his face, and actually blinded his eyes for some days. A skilful physician applied nitrate of silver and other remedies, without any apparent effect. For fifteen days we guarded his hands lest he should in his agony tear the festering and corrupt wound which covered his whole face. Having tried every thing else we had any hope from, we began giving your SARSAPARILLA, and applying the iodide of potash lotion, as you direct. The sore began to heal when we had given the first bottle, and we felt well hope we had finished the second. The child's eyelashes, which had come out, grew again, and he is now as healthy and fair as any child. The whole neighborhood predicted that the child must die."

Syphilis and Mercurial Disease

From Dr. Hiram Stone, of St. Louis, Missouri.

"I find your SARSAPARILLA a more effectual remedy for the secondary symptoms of Syphilis and for syphilitic disease than any other we possess. The profession are indebted to you for some of the best medicines we have."

From A. J. French, M. D., an eminent physician of Lawrence, Mass., who is a prominent member of the Legislature of Massachusetts.

"Dr. AYER. My dear Sir: I have found your SARSAPARILLA an excellent remedy for Syphilis, both of the primary and secondary type, and effectual in some cases that were obstinate and to yield to other remedies. I do not know what we can employ with more certainty of success, where a powerful alterative is required."

Mr. Chas. S. Fox, Editor of New Brunswick, N. J., had dreadful sores on his legs, caused by the abuse of mercury, or mercurial disease, which grew more and more aggravated by time. He tried every remedy or treatment that could be applied, until the persevering use of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA relieved him. For cases can be found more inveterate and discouraging than this, and it took several dozen bottles to cure him.

Leucorrhœa, Whites, Female Weakness, are generally produced by internal Scrofulous Ulcers, and are very often cured by a single bottle of this efficacious medicine.

From the well-known, and widely-celebrated Dr. Jacob Morrill, of Cincinnati.

"I have found your SARSAPARILLA an excellent alterative, in diseases of the Throat, Nasal Catarrh, Irregularity, Leucorrhœa, Internal Ulceration, and local debility, arising from the scrofulous diathesis, have yielded to it, and there is no other medicine when it is duly and properly added by local treatment."

A lady, unwilling to allow the publication of her name, writes:

"My daughter and myself have been cured of a very debilitating Leucorrhœa of long standing, by two bottles of your SARSAPARILLA."

Rheumatism, Gout, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Heart Disease, Neuralgia,

when caused by Scrofula in the system, are rapidly cured by this REV. SARSAPARILLA.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS

possess so many advantages over the other purgatives in the market, and their superior virtues are so universally known, that we need not do more than to assure the public their quality is maintained equal to the best it ever had, and that they may confidently depended on to do all that they have ever done.

☞ ATTENTION, THE WHOLE! ☜

RYE, N.H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter had been troubled with a salt rheum for a long time, some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to no purpose, by the best physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but the obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of Dr. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago, and no other medicine has equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintance, who were afflicted, and it witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

About seventeen years ago I discovered a bunch growing in my breast, attended with severe pleuritic pain, and from year to year it kept on growing it broke out, and proved to be a Cancer of the most dangerous character. And from the abundance of the cures I saw of the good effect of Dr. Swett's Panacea in many such cases, I was encouraged to depend upon it for a cure in this case, and by using the stomach pure by emetics, which he prescribed, and taking twelve bottles of Panacea, my Cancer was fully cured in about two months, and I have had no trouble from it since. CATHERINE H. SWETT.

This statement of my wife is correct.
SIMEON SWETT.

Portsmouth, N. H., April 15, 1851.

I have been greatly afflicted with a Humor called by the doctors Salt Rheum and Erysipelas, causing many sores on my face. And seven bottles of Dr. Swett's Panacea I believe have effected a radical cure, and I can now speak of my complaint with confidence. I believe this medicine to be the most sure remedy in the world for Humors.
HANNAH HOWE.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all or the food immediately after taking it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, and I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

Exeter, Feb. 24, 1858. Dr Swett:—"Sir, for the benefit of those who are afflicted as I have been, with a humor, which prevented quiet rest night and day, I would say, that your PANACEA has effected a radical cure on me; and as I, confident that by the use of it, my health has been greatly improved; therefore, I cheerfully recommend it as superior to any other medicine I ever used for humors and consumptive complaints."
WM. P. GRAVITY.

From ELDER I. CHASLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with a scrofulous humor, which proved so to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that ever came to the disease above named." ISRAEL CHASLEY.

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. N. F. MATHES. may26o

COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper boiler for fitting up, along side the warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of kindling fires daily.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would also call attention to remodeling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus, have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases ignite much sooner than air, off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the fuel, they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the retention of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These advantages consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world.—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

GRACE'S CELEBRATED SALVE,

A SURE RELIEF FOR THE SUFFERER.

This Salve is a vegetable preparation, invented in the 17th century, by DR. WM. GRACE, surgeon in King James's army. Through its agency he cured thousands of most serious sores and wounds that baffled the skill of the most eminent physicians of his day, and was regarded by all who knew him as a public benefactor.

Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Burns.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Scalds.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Fresh Wounds.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Corns.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Felons.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Frozen Limbs.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Scurvy.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Callouses.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Salt Rheum.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Chilblains.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Sore Breast.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Sore Lips.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Erysipelas Sores.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Abscesses.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Ulcers.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Chapped Hands.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Ringworms.

And from Sores and Wounds of the most serious nature down to a common Pimple. It eradicates Pimples from the face, and beautifies the skin. There is no preparation before the public that can equal this Salve in prompt and energetic action for the speedy cure of external diseases, as those who have tried its virtues testify. Soldiers, Sailors, and Fishermen, will find this Salve their best friend.

It has none of the irritating, heating properties of other remedies, but cools, cleanses, and heals the most serious Sores and Wounds. Every family, and especially those containing children, should keep a box on hand in case of accident, for it will save them much trouble, suffering, and money. All it wants is a fair trial to cure old and inveterate Sores.

NO PARTY—ONE COUNTRY.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every ism fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it has been in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address.

Communication.

THE CAUSE OF THE GREAT TROUBLE.

In the Senate of the United States, Dec. 15, the resolution relating to the arrests of certain citizens of Delaware was taken up.

"Mr. Davis of Ky. spoke at length in favor of the resolution, arguing that the President has no authority to make such arrests, nor has the right to suspend the law of habeas corpus or define its execution. He denied that slavery was the cause of the war, but it was caused by New England and other States abolishing slavery, and making a crusade against the States which held on to the original status of the country. He thought the people would arise and reconstruct the Union, leaving Massachusetts out in the cold. If the war had been carried on according to the Crittenden compromise, it would have been finished long ago."

If Senator Davis intended the latter part of his speech as a joke, it is the richest of the season, says Uncle Toby. The war carried on according to this compromise (which by the way is no compromise at all, for it was never made) would no doubt have been ended very quick, by the most abject and absolute submission to every demand of the rebels, and to the government of Floyd and Wise, Wigfall and Slidell.

The Hon. Senator from Kentucky is doubtless seriously in earnest as to the cause of the war,—and his logic is remarkable, inasmuch as he begins the argument by saying that slavery did not cause the war, and ends it by proving that it did. We have seen similar logic elsewhere, and it usually provokes only a smile;—but as it appears in the Senate in this condensed form, it may be worth one moment's examination.

The abolition of slavery in the now free States of the old Thirteen, is at the bottom of all the mischief, as Senator Davis assures us. If so, then the evil began to work long years and generations before the present Republican party was dreamed of, and before Sumner and Garrison were born. In Massachusetts (including Maine and New Hampshire) slavery was not abolished by statute nor convention,—but a legal decision in her high court proclaimed that slavery never had a legal existence there. Under this decision, the actual slavery existing here, gradually melted away. For this crime these places are to be left out in the cold, when the happy new era begins.

As to the crusade against States, the Senator imagines an Indian where there is not even a bush. No such thing has ever happened. The crusade begun by those old abolitionists, Franklin, Jay, and above all Jefferson, was never against States at all, but was against slavery. Franklin and Jay began their crusade as soon as we were free from British rule:—Jefferson began his crusade before that, and kept it up as long as he remained in public life. To say that the war is caused by abolitionism is only another form of saying that slavery caused it,—exactly as fire and water make steam. Neither alone, but both by collision.

Jefferson, born in the 18th century, did all he could to break up the old status;—but Davis, born in the 19th, would hold on to it; or rather go back to it! But this is impossible: the world cannot roll backwards a century, even to accommodate a whole race of old fogies, or of young ones who were born 100 years too late. U. T.

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 19, 1862.

THE REBELLION.

On Tuesday night the enemy increased their entrenchments on the terraces in the rear of Fredericksburg, and threw up rifle pits near the river, on the left of the city.

The correspondent of the N. Y. Tribune gives a sad account of the loss of our troops in the battle of Saturday. He states, as the estimated total loss in the right grand division, 7505; centre grand division, 2850; left grand division, 3050. Total, 13,505.—It is believed that these figures will fall under rather than exceed the official reports. The report that Gen. Banks is not to operate against Richmond causes intense dissatisfaction through the army. Gen. Burnside will visit Washington to consult personally with the government, within a day or two. The rebels estimate their loss at 500 and 2500 wounded.

Gen. McClellan has not been summoned to Washington. He was in New York on Wednesday soon.

It is reported in New York that no more troops will be sent to Gen. Banks, as they will be needed nearer home.

Buckner has gone to assume command of the defences of Mobile.

Maj. Gen. Evans, commanding the rebels at Kingston, N. C., telegraphed to Adj. Gen. Cooper, at Richmond, on 14th inst., as follows:

"Gen. Foster attacked Kingston, N. C., yesterday with 15,000 men and nine gunboats. I fought them ten hours and have driven them back to his gunboats. His army is still in my front."

Gen. Herron reports that the victory at Prairie Grove, Ark., was much more complete, and the enemy's loss far greater, than first reported. Over 1500 rebels were killed and buried by us. Their wounded were scattered through the woods for miles, and many died for want of attention.

A steamer at New York from Bermuda, 14th, reports British neutral steamers Phœbe, Hornet, Pinckney, Justitia and Merrimac as all there, loaded with arms, ammunition and stores for the rebels. A very fast side-wheel steamer, the Caromba, sailed from St. George, ostensibly for Trinidad, but undoubtedly to run the blockade.

A scouting party in Western Virginia fell in with the traitor Floyd, and drove him across the Big Sandy river, into Kentucky. They also burned the town of Logan, with the residence and other buildings of Floyd; broke up a gang of bushwackers, and returned with 37 prisoners and about a hundred cattle.

☞ A committee of the Border State Congressmen, under the lead of Mr. Crittenden, have been appointed to wait upon the President, to ask a suspension of the Emancipation Proclamation. One Senator and three Representatives from Missouri held aloof from the movement.

THE NEW NAVAL DEPOT.—The majority report upon the selection of a site for a Navy Yard and Naval Depot, signed by Rear Admiral Stringham, Com. Gardner, Com. Van Brunt and Engineer Sawyer, makes choice of New London in preference to League Island. Narragansett Bay being objectionable on account of fogs, it claims for New London superiority in the ease of access, freedom from obstruction by drift and moving ice, safe anchorage, adaptation for construction of dry docks, grading or filling, site, rage of tides, rapidity of currents, and healthfulness of location. The report makes League Island and New London equal in facility for providing workmen and supplies, cost of site, security against attack, depth of water and supply of fresh water, and gives League Island superiority in the facility of obtaining coal and iron and fresh water, better for the preserving the bottoms of vessels.

The minority report of Professor Bache and Lieutenant Commander Thomas S. Phelps gives League Island the preference in defensibility against exposure to violent winds, area of anchorage, preparation of site, facility for procuring supplies, and inferior to New London in only two points, viz: health and exposure to ice.

STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Concord, Dec. 16, 1862.

Whereas, by an order issued from this Office on the 4th inst., a draft for the balance due on the quota of this State was ordered to commence on the 24th inst., and whereas, information has been received that the towns generally are making unusual exertions to fill their respective quotas, and whereas, many towns finding it necessary to call legal meetings for the purpose of offering additional inducements; it is hereby ordered that the draft be postponed, and that it commence on the 8th day of January next, at 9 o'clock A. M., and continue to 4 o'clock P. M., and also continue from day to day between said hours until the quotas are filled. The draft to be conducted as before ordered at the County Seat of such counties as contain delinquent Towns.

By order of the Governor.
ANTHONY COLBY, Assistant General.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Dr. Buzzell, of Dover, has been appointed Surgeon of the 3d Regiment, in place of Dr Moulton resigned.

—— Capt. J. Ware Butterfield, of the 12th Regiment, who was captured some time since in the vicinity of Falmouth, and shortly after paroled, reached home at Sanbornton Bridge, on Wednesday Dec. 10.

—— It has been decided to erect a new jail in Hillsborough County to be located at Manchester.

—— It will be seen by the official order in another column that the draft in this State has been postponed to Jan. 8.

——The townsmen and friends of Col. Henry O. Kent, of the 17th regiment, recently presented him with a horse, as a testimonial of their appreciation of his patriotism and of their friendly regard.

—— The friends in Concord of Lt. Col. Billings, of the 1st Regiment South Carolina Volunteers (colored) have purchased a fine sword and sash for him. They were sent to Port Royal on Tuesday last. Rev. James H. Fowler, Chaplain of the Regiment, formerly resided in Manchester. Dr. J. M. Hawks, of the same city, is surgeon of the same Regiment.

—— The ladies of the M. E. Church in Raymond, will hold a Social Festival in the Town Hall, on Tuesday evening next.—There will be speeches, an original poem will be read, and music will be furnished by the Raymond Serenade Band. Tickets 25 cents: children under 12 years of age half price.

——Capt. George A. Gerrish, of the N. H. battery, is reported to have been wounded in the battle of Fredericksburg. He lost many men and had eighteen horses killed.

—— "Carleton" writes to the Boston Journal that in the battle at Fredericksburg, New Hampshire had the 5th, 6th, 9th, 10th, 11th and 13th engaged: perhaps others. The 5th suffered severely—he did not know to what extent. The 10th, Col. Donohue's, lost 8 killed and 48 wounded. The 11th, Col. Harriman's, lost 217 killed, wounded and missing. Capt. A. B. Shuttuck, of Co. E, has lost a leg; Capt. Pingree received a wound in the leg; Capt. Caswell of the 6th is severely wounded; Lieut. Cummings and Major Bixby received slight wounds.

☞ Mr. Joshua P. Atkins of Provincetown, first mate of the T. B. Wales, which was burned by the Alabama, states that the latter vessel had about fifty chronometers on board which had been taken from captured vessels. Mr. Atkins, who found means for frequent communication with some of the Alabama's crew, represents them to be very much dissatisfied and constantly grumbling at their lot. Their feeling seemed to be already strong enough to excite them to open mutiny at the first opportunity.

☞ A few nights ago, Mr. Henry Phelps, of Enfield, Conn., arose in his sleep, from bed, proceeded to his wood-house, took his axe, returned to his bed-room and made a murderous assault on his slumbering wife. Mrs. Phelps, awakened by the blow, started up and grappled with her husband.—Before she could awaken him, however, she received several blows, which made scalp wounds upon her head without crushing the skull. When Mr. Phelps did come out of his sleep, his surprise and dismay at what he had done only equalled his gratitude that his wife was not killed. She is in a fair way to recover.

☞ The quantity of live stock at present in Pittsburg city and Alleghany awaiting shipment, is enormous. It is said that it will take fully seven hundred cars to carry off the cattle, hogs, &c., at present congregated there. During the past week twenty-five thousand hogs have been received in the Alleghany stock yards. All this stock is for the army.

☞ The redemption of postage stamps that have been used as currency commenced on Tuesday at the New York Post Office. About $35,000 worth of stamps were handed in, some of which were in packages marked as high as $1,400.

☞ The invalid pension bill appropriates nearly eight million dollars for the year ending with June, 1864. The deficiency bill for the year ending with June, of the present year, appropriates $108,800,000.

☞ Forgeries amounting to $8000 were perpetrated on three of the banks in Newark, N. J., on Wednesday. Part of the payments were made in three $1000 bills on the Mechanics Bank. The forger has not been arrested.

☞ The Washington correspondent of the Boston Traveller says "it is now admitted on every hand that our troops met with a disaster on Saturday last—yes, disaster is the word."

☞ By order of the Governor, the draft in Massachusetts, which was to take place on the 18th inst., is again postponed for 21 days.

NOTES OF FORMER DAYS.

Collected and Collated — By UNCLE TOBY.

Closing Review of Joshua Moodey's Life and Times.—[He died in 1697. This Review was written in 1854.]

Mr. Moodey, if we measure his life by the new years or new moons, lived only a moderate period; and could hardly be said to grow old. But if we measure his life by the deeds of kindness and benevolence he performed, by his acts of industry, honesty and independence,—then his life was a long one—for it answered life's great end. He wrote more than four thousand sermons: the ninety-third volume of his manuscript sermons is said to be now extant, in the Library of the Massachusetts Historical Society, the last sermon of which is numbered, in his own hand, 4070. Several of his sermons and other productions were published in his lifetime, and were then highly esteemed.

Not only was he a diligent writer and a popular preacher; he was also a good pastor. He lived with his people; was of them; and taught them how to live by example as well as by precept. And when, as in the case of Mr. English, a hearer could not or would not take the hint from a public discourse, he went to him in private, and said, Thou art the man.

This brief sketch of Joshua Moodey's life, enables us to hold up his times as a mirror, wherein we can see a picture of the day wherein we live; and his character as a model, whereby we may improve our own. In doing this, if we look back a little, we shall see Cranfield and Randolph and Andros, acting over again the old part of the Herodians, as they tried to make New England Puritans worship according to a Royal Commission. And we may also perceive, if we scan closely, a little of the leaven of the Pharisees, when Mather, and Parris, and Noyes, used the civil arm and the criminal court to propagate and enforce their deplorable and detestable superstitions.

The Herodians, in the days of John the Baptist and of Jesus, taught that the civil power could lord it over the conscience of the subject, and that he must not only submit, but acquiesce, conform and obey. The Pharisee of the same time would make his superstition the paramount law—his tithe of mint and anise and cummin to weigh more than judgment, mercy and love—and after compassing Heaven and earth to make one proselyte, when he was made, render him if possible ten fold more the child of hell than themselves.

The Herodians and Pharisees who met Moodey in Portsmouth and Boston, were probably not clothed exactly like their illustrious predecessors who flourished sixteen hundred years before; nor did they bear exactly the same titles. But their principles and mode of operation were almost exactly alike.

Moodey met and resisted and triumphed over both these opposite forms of error. He met them like a man, he overcame them like a Christian,—he fought the good fight, he finished his course, he kept the faith!—he wears and shall forever wear the crown!

Is he, as a model, too high for our vision? Is his mark too high for our aim? By no means. We may not all be like him, public men; there is no reason why we should be. But we may all be as honest men and as earnest Christians! Why should we not be?

The world needs now, as it did then, a set of champions, who are neither afraid nor ashamed to believe the truth, and to maintain the right. There is need of men, who, like Joshua Moodey, will not only resist tyranny when a personal enemy and political foe plays the tyrant; but will also resist as earnestly the same tyranny, when it appears in their own party or sect, in their own church or household.

We need men of Moodey's stamp, not only as commanders, but as soldiers;—we need them by thousands, and as fast as they can be trained.

We bring, therefore, this character before our readers, that each one may contribute his mite, whether in church, State, school or nursery, to make the whole people a race of noble, honest Christian men.

PERSONAL.—Elias Howe, the celebrated sewing machine millionaire, who is a private in the 17th Conn. Vols., has just returned to his regiment from home, whither he had gone on a furlough to obtain money to pay off the men, as they had not received pay from the Government for a long time. He procured enough to pay every man in full.

☞ A congressional delegation waited on the President on Wednesday, to urge the appointment of Hon. Eli Thayer as military governor of Florida, with authority to raise 20,000 loyal emigrants. The committee is said to have been well satisfied with the interview.

☞ It is said that Hon. John S. Sleeper, the People's candidate for Congress in the Third Massachusetts District, intends to contest the legality of the election of Mr. Rice, to whom a certificate of election was given by the Governor and Council.

Notice to Housekeepers.

Rubber Band Carpet Sweeper.

TRY IT! TRY IT!!

It saves Money; it saves Carpets; it saves Furniture; it saves Labor; it is cheaper than Brooms at five cents apiece.

It gathers up all dust, dirt, and loose lint on the carpets, and raises no dust to settle on the furniture, drapery, or ornaments, or to smother, stifle and irritate the lungs.

It does not wear the carpets half so much as brooms or any other sweeper.

It is the only practicable sweeper made, and the only one fit to sweep a carpet.

With our late improvements it gives universal satisfaction to all who use it according to directions. For sale at No. 12 Market Street by NAVY YARD MATTERS.—Since the sailing of the Ossipee and Colorado, the wharves at the Portsmouth Navy Yard have been almost deserted. The Sacramento, which is fast approaching completion, is the only vessel remaining, save one or two schooners discharging lumber. The side-wheel steamer Sassacus, however, is to be launched on Tuesday, which will add one to the number afloat, and also give place to the Patuxet, (side-wheel) the keel of which will be laid as soon as the Sassacus is launched. The latter will be docked immediately after launching, for the purpose of coppering and planing her outside. The Agamenticus (iron-clad) does not progress very fast, owing to the fact that all the force of carpenters that could be employed has been thrown upon the Sassacus in order to get her off, so as to commence upon the Patuxet.

The Boiler House of the building known as the Head House, has been entirely remodeled, new engine boilers set and an apartment finished for one of the fire engines of the Yard. The Machine Shop is also being enlarged by extending it to the stone building used for a tin-shop and for storing coal for the Foundry, &c. When completed, it will be a fine building and a great improvement upon the narrow, contracted and crowded building now used for a Machine Shop. The approaching cold weather, however, will have the effect to retard the work in the Masons's Department, if not to stop it entirely; but it has been prosecuted in such a rapid manner, that it has, or will have arrived at such a stage as not to interfere with the prosecution of the joiners' work.

There are about eighteen hundred names upon the pay-roll of November, and the number will probably not be materially lessened, at present.

☞ Four buoys are being placed at fixed distances, in the lower harbor, designating the four points of the compass so that vessels may adjust their compass by them.—The work is done under the bureau of navigation, and a like "institution" is to be established in Portland harbor.

☞ The body of Capt. John Murray, of the N. H. 5th regiment, arrived in this city on Thursday afternoon, and will be buried in Newcastle under arms, to-morrow (Saturday) afternoon, at 2 o'clock, unless it be stormy, in which case the funeral will be postponed to the first fair day. The Home Guard of this city, and perhaps other companies and organizations, will probably attend the funeral.

☞ The Board of Aldermen on Thursday evening instructed the Mayor to obtain information of the State authorities in regard to the soldiers from Rockingham County, whether they are in need of anything to make them comfortable during the inclement weather; also in regard to the condition of the New Hampshire soldiers generally,—a report to be made to the Board as soon as practicable. Some other business of no especial public interest was transacted, and the Board went into executive session.

☞ The Eastern Railroad have recently added to their rolling stock a new locomotive, built at Taunton Locomotive Works, and named Hampton. The new machine draws the passenger trains between Boston and Portsmouth.

☞ J. M. Tredick, Esq., has contracted with Messrs. Tobey & Littlefield for the construction of a ship.

Communication.

OUR NEXT GOVERNOR.—Hon. J. A. Gilmore, of Concord, is before the people as a candidate for Governor of the State of New Hampshire, the ensuing year. The question will and should be asked, is he a suitable man for the office? Let me say to the public generally, that I am well acquainted with Mr. Gilmore: he is not a lawyer by profession, but a business man of no ordinary mind. He makes extensive surveys on a large scale, taking into view the cost, profit and usefulness, and durability of his works. As has been observed by some previous writer, his works on the seaboard of this State have far surpassed all other works of any kind, by connecting the sea-board with all parts of the State, at the least possible expense; and at the same time he has gathered up the fragments of a broken down railroad, turned it into other and profitable channels, where it not only accommodates the public and all business transactions, but pays on a large capital expended, twenty per cent. above par, for himself and all who are interested with him.

MERCHANT.

☞ Count Johannes has four suits now in hand, in each of which the Court have required him to give security for the costs on the ground that the suits are litigious.—One suit is against the Boston Advertiser for printing a verbatim account of a jury trial; another is against Gov. Andrew for addressing him as Mr. Jones.

Second thoughts are best. Man was God's first thought—woman his second.

CONGRESS.

WEDNESDAY.—In the Senate, bills were reported severally to facilitate the discharge of disabled soldiers; to improve the organization of cavalry forces; forfeiting the pay of absent army officers. The bill relating to the transfer of certain naval appropriations, and the bill amending the internal revenue, were passed. The subject of Government arrests came up in the shape of sundry resolutions.

In the House two appropriation bills were reported and postponed until next week. The President's message was considered in committee of the whole, and the various subjects appropriately referred.

"Do you see anything ridiculous in this wig?" said a brother judge to Curran—"Nothing but the head," he replied.

☞ A schooner from Guadaloupe reports the pirate Alabama at Dominica, Nov. 28. There was a report that she had chased a schooner which run into Dominica for protection. The San Jacinto had been at Guadaloupe, but had gone to St. Thomas.

"Didn't you guarantee, Sir, that this horse would not shy before the fire of an enemy?" "No more he won't. 'Tisn't till after the fire that he shies."

ANOTHER NEW STOVE!

THE MODEL COOK

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

The novel—the peculiar features of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking; giving an oven nearly 2 feet long! or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! A check draft is applied to this stove by means of which the consumption of fuel is greatly lessened, and a steady fire can be kept day and night if desired.

THE MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be THE STOVE for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is needed.

We believe the MODEL COOK to be the very best Stove in the Market, and invite every one to examine it whether they wish to purchase or not. It has had a very extensive sale since its introduction. Reference might be made to more than a hundred families in this city or vicinity who are using the Stove, and give it the highest commendation.

We refer to the following individuals who have purchased the Model Cook:—

David Kimball, Thos. F. Burt, John T. French, Rev. Mr. Davies, Wm. Pettigrew, Capt. John Davis, Jeremiah Raitt, Mrs. Ann T. Perkins, James W. Jarvis, Francis C. Jarvis, Thos. C. Tullock, Jacob Wendell, Capt. Jacob Thompson, Gen. J. G. Hadley, G. Melvin Huntress, Jos. D. Ackerman, James F. Shores, Wm. C. Newton, Horton D. Walker, Benj. Cheever, John Trundy, Richard L. Lambert, Joseph Stiles, John Senter, Wm. Bell, Cyrus Plumer, Freeman Hurd, James M. Locke, Daniel L. Randall, Isaiah Wilson, John E. Roberts—of Portsmouth; Samuel C. Dixon, Daniel I. Pryor, Cushman Pryor, of Trefethen's Island; Geo. N. Dixon, Samuel F. Paul, Elias Remick, Timothy Dame, Eliot; Wm. S. Locke, Benj. Furnald, Mrs. Wm. Locke, Kittery; E. F. Gerrish, Kittery Point; Hon. VICTOR COAL STOVE.

We offer this beautiful coal burner to the public, with full confidence in its merits.

It was brought into market two years since, and has come rapidly into use.

The Victor is one of the handsomest parlor stoves in the market, and is perfect in its operation. The arrangement for dumping the ashes is very fine—no dust need escape into the room—a continuous fire may be kept throughout the winter—the coal all burned, and no clinkers made.

The quantity of fuel used is very small indeed. There is in this stove an excellent arrangement for ventilating the room in which it is placed; a feature not possessed by any other parlor stove.

Some of the sizes are provided with an oven and boiling place, making them very desirable for a dining room.

We sold a large number of Victor Stoves in our city last season, and they receive the highest commendation from those who are using them.

We have also the celebrated McGregor Stove, so well known in the market as to need no commendation.

A great variety of cheaper Stoves for coal and wood—Coal-hods—Patent Coal-sifters.

and Repairing pieces for most of the stoves in use. Job Work attended to with dispatch.

THE peculiar taint or infection which we call SCROFULA lurks in the constitutions of multitudes of men. It either produces or is produced by an enfeebled, vitiated state of the blood, whereby that fluid becomes incompetent to sustain the vital forces in their vigorous action, and leaves the system to fall into disorder and decay. The scrofulous contamination is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered digestion from unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children." The disease it originates take various names, according to the organs it attacks. In the lungs, Scrofula produces tubercles, and finally Consumption; in the glands, swellings which suppurate and become ulcerous sores; in the stomach and bowels, derangements which produce indigestion, dyspepsia, and liver complaints; on the skin, eruptive and cutaneous affections. These, all having the same origin, require the same remedy, viz., purification and invigoration of the blood. Purify the blood, and these dangerous distempers leave you. With feeble, foul, or corrupted blood, you cannot have health; with that "life of the flesh" healthy, you cannot have scrofulous disease.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

is compounded from the most effectual antidotes that medical science has discovered for this afflicting distemper, and for the cure of the disorders it entails. That it is far superior to any other remedy yet devised, is known by all who have given it a trial. That it does combine virtues truly extraordinary in their effect upon this class of complaints, is indisputably proven by the great multitude of publicly known and remarkable cures it has made of the following diseases: King's Evil, or Glandular Swellings, Tumors, Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches and Sores, Erysipelas, Rose or St. Anthony's Fire, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Coughs from tuberculous deposits in the lungs, White Swellings, Debility, Dropsy, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Syphilis and Syphilitic Infections, Mercurial Diseases, Female Weaknesses, and, indeed, the whole series of complaints that arise from impurity of the blood. Minute reports of individual cases may be found in AYER'S AMERICAN ALMANAC, which is furnished to the druggists for gratuitous distribution, wherein may be learned the directions for its use, and some of the remarkable cures which it has made when all other remedies had failed to afford relief. Those cases are purposely taken from all sections of the country, in order that every reader may have access to some one who can speak to him of its benefits from personal experience. Scrofula depresses the vital energies, and thus leaves its victims far more subject to disease and its fatal results than are healthy constitutions. Hence it tends to shorten, and does greatly shorten, the average duration of human life. The vast importance of these considerations has led us to spend years in perfecting a remedy which is adequate to its cure. This we now offer to the public under the name of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, although it is composed of ingredients, some of which exceed the best of Sarsaparilla in alterative power. By its aid you may protect yourself from the suffering and danger of these disorders. Purge out the foul corruptions that rot and fester in the blood, purge out the causes of disease, and vigorous health will follow. By its peculiar virtues this remedy stimulates the vital functions, and thus expels the distempers which lurk within the system or burst out on any part of it.

We know the public have been deceived by many compounds of Sarsaparilla, that promised much and did nothing; but they will neither be deceived nor disappointed in this. Its virtues have been proven by abundant trial, and there remains no question of its surpassing excellence for the cure of the afflicting diseases it is intended to reach. Although under the same name, it is a very different medicine from any other which has been before the people, and is far more effectual than any other which has ever been available to them.

AYER'S
CHERRY PECTORAL,
The World's Great Remedy for Coughs, Colds, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

This has been so long used and so universally known, that we need do no more than assure the public that its quality is kept up to the best it ever has been, and that it may be relied on to do all it has ever done.

☞ ATTENTION, THE WHOLE! ☜

RYE, N.H., Feb. 26, 1845. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended by the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of DR. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

About seventeen yearsago I discovered a bunch growing in my breast, attended with severe piercing pain, and when about as large as a hen's egg it broke out, and proved to be a Cancer of the most malignant character. I had the strongest evidence I had of the good effect of Mr. Swett's Panacea in many such cases, I was encouraged to depend upon it for a cure in this case, and by keeping my stomach from the emetics, which he prepared, and taking twelve bottles of Panacea, my disease was fully cured in about two months, and I have had no trouble from it since. CAROLINE B. SWETT.

This statement of my wife is correct.
SIMEON SWETT.

Portsmouth, N. H., April 18, 1861.

I have been greatly afflicted with a Humor called by the doctors Salt Rheum and Erysipelas, causing many sores on my legs. And seven bottles of Dr. Swett's Panacea I believe have effected a radical cure; as I have had no sign of the complaint since. I believe the medicine to be the most sure remedy in the world for Humors.
HANNAH ROWE.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with dizziness of the head, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

Epping, Feb. 24, 1862. Dr. Swett:—"Sir, for the benefit of those who are afflicted as I have been, with a humor, which prevented quiet rest night and day, I would say, that your PANACEA has effected a radical cure on me; and so I add—that by the use of it, my health has been greatly improved; therefore, I cheerfully recommend it as superior to any other medicine I ever used for humors and consumptive complaints."
WM. P. LEAVITT.

From ELDER I. CHESLEY, Lee, May 21, 1861.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1860, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may26o

COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meat is prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin wainscoat attached to the oven, by means of which can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is kept in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and particular in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about erecting new or repairing buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headaches so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating furnaces have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some producing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off, into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, must pass through the burning coals; the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

GRACE'S CELEBRATED SALVE,
A SURE RELIEF FOR THE SUFFERER.

This Salve is a vegetable preparation, invented in the 17th century, by DR. WM. GRACE, surgeon in King James's army. Through its agency he cured thousands of most serious sores and wounds that baffled the skill of the most eminent physicians of his day, and was regarded by all who knew him as a public benefactor.

Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Burns.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Scalds.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Flesh Wounds.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Corns.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Felons.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Frozen Limbs.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Scurvy.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Callouses.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Salt Rheum.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Chilblains.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Sore Breast.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Sore Lips.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Erysipelas Sores.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Abscesses.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Ulcers.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Chapped Hands.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Ringworms.

And from Sores and Wounds of the most serious nature down to a common Pimple. It eradicates Pimples from the face, and beautifies the skin. There is no preparation before the public that can equal this Salve in prompt and energetic action for the speedy cure of external diseases, as those who have tried its virtues testify. Soldiers, Sailors, and Fishermen, will find this Salve their best friend.

It has none of the irritating, heating properties of other remedies, but cools, cleanses, and heals the most serious Sores and Wounds. Every family, and especially those containing children, should keep a box on hand in case of accident, for it will save them much trouble, suffering, and money. All it wants is a fair trial to cure old and inveterate Sores.

BUY CALIFORNIA WINES.
They are the Purest!
The Best!
The Cheapest!
The "sunny slopes" of "Los Angelos" have announced to the world that America is a wine growing country, and as the discovery of gold sent a thrill through the old world, so will the discovery of these Wines startle them again, as it says, "one more link broken which has bound us to Europe," "one more step to independence." Let every man, woman and child who uses Wine, see to it that they buy none other than these.
"The Hock" is a most delicious Wine, and rivals in delicacy its German predecessor.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 20, 1862.

IMPORTANT LEGAL DECISION.—We copy from the Washington correspondent of the N. Y. Times the following abstract of the opinion prepared by Attorney General Bates upon the question—"Are colored men citizens of the United States?"

"The opinion of the Attorney General on this important question is now completed, and in the hands of the Secretary of the Treasury, at whose request it was prepared. The facts on which it is based are stated as follows:—

'The schooner Elizabeth and Margaret, of New Brunswick, is detained by the revenue cutter Tiger at Perth Amboy, N. J., because commanded by a colored man, and so by a person not a citizen of the United States. As colored masters are numerous in our coasting trade, I submit to you the question suggested by Capt. Martin of the Tiger—Are colored men citizens of the United States, and therefore competent to command American vessels?'

As some incorrect statements have gone forth in regard to this opinion, we give the chief points. The Constitution does not define the word 'citizen,' so the Attorney General examines history and the civil law, from the days of Rome down, for its meaning. His conclusion is that all free persons, without distinction of race or color, if native born are citizens. A distinction is made between the inherent rights of citizens and the political privileges of certain classes. All citizens have a right to protection, but only certain classes enjoy the privileges of voting and holding office. Hitherto not only the public but jurists have confounded the two. A child or a woman is a citizen, though not always privileged to vote or hold office. The Dred Scott opinions are pronounced void and of no authority, since the province of the Supreme Court was only to settle the question of the jurisdiction of the Circuit Court. They are simply entitled to the respect due to the views of eminent gentlemen, and no more. The papers concludes as follows:—

'And now, upon the whole matter, I give it as my opinion that the free man of color mentioned in your letter, if born in the United States, is a citizen of the United States, and, if otherwise qualified, is competent, according to the acts of Congress, to be master of a vessel engaged in the coasting trade.'"

CONGRESS.

THURSDAY.—The Senate instructed the committee on the conduct of the war, to inquire into the facts relative to the recent battle at Fredericksburg. The bill to facilitate the discharge of wounded soldiers was passed. A resolution of inquiry was also adopted in regard to the unseaworthy transports of Gen. Banks' expedition.

In the House, the bill which gives relief to loyal men where slaves have been abstracted or wrongfully taken, was reported back from the committee with the recommendation that it do not pass. After a long debate it was tabled, 86 to 45. The Committee on Naval Affairs were instructed to report whether letters of marque ought to be issued for the purpose of capturing or destroying the pirate Alabama and other vessels of like character. The army appropriation bill ($731,000,000) was passed,—107 to 3.

☞ A paper is about to be started in Beaufort on a large scale. The sheet is to be of the size of the New York Tribune, and will be devoted to the anti-slavery cause. The printers, type, and 3000 reams of paper have already arrived, and a large Hoe cylinder press is to be sent out. It is rumored that the whole affair is at the expense of the Government, and that the papers, if they do not circulate at a nominal price, will be given away.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— A letter from a Manchester member of the N. H. Battery states that Thomas W. Morrill and Charles A. Doe, were shot dead, and that John L. Fisk, who was severely wounded, has since died. Capt. Garrish was but slightly wounded by a piece of shell.

—— Capt. Amos B. Shattuck of Manchester, of the N. H. Eleventh, was wounded in the leg at the battle of Fredericksburg, so badly that amputation became necessary, and he died at Falmouth on Wednesday, at 1 o'clock in the afternoon.

☞ Kerrigan, the member of Congress from New York city who was dismissed from the army where he held a Colonel's commission a time since, created a row at Willard's hotel in Washington on Wednesday, by openly denouncing President Lincoln as a traitor. The crowd threatened to kill him, but he was removed from harm's way by a policeman. It is not unlikely that the policeman, in the way of his duties, had become well acquainted with him before.

☞ The Herald's Washington dispatch mentions that Hon. John Covode went to Fredericksburg to see the battle, and has not since been heard from. The Herald states that it is supposed that he has been taken prisoner, but it is quite likely that this is only one of the many unfounded rumors always circulated after a great battle.

☞ Gottschalk, the pianist, is engaged to be married to a New York heiress.

THE REBELLION.

A Fortress Monroe dispatch denies that there is any truth whatever in the reports that Gen. Banks or Gen. Emory is co-operating in North Carolina with Gen. Foster.

Gen. Butler at New Orleans, finding the fund raised for the poor was exhausted, has levied an additional assessment of $28,000. All persons arriving at New Orleans are required to take the oath of allegiance before landing.

The gunboat Cairo was sunk on the Yazoo river on Friday last, by a torpedo, which shattered her bow. She sunk in 15 minutes in 40 feet of water, and cannot be raised. The Cairo was one of the first seven iron-clad gunboats built for service on the Western rivers, and participated in the capture of Forts Henry and Donelson.

A small body of rebels made a dash into Plymouth, N. C., on the 14th, and attacked our troops, driving them into the Custom House, a three-story brick building. They opened fire on them with field guns, driving them thence, and then opened on the gunboat Southfield, one of the first shots disabling the steamer, which dropped down the river. The rebels occupied the town about an hour and a half, during which they burnt most of it, thus rendering many Union families houseless. Fifteen of our men are reported captured. It is said that several rebels were killed and wounded.

The steamer M. Sandford, of General Banks' expedition, went ashore two miles south of Carysfoot reef. The troops were taken off safely.

The rebels having sent under a flag of truce a request that we would bury our dead at Fredericksburg, on Wednesday, a burying party went over. During the truce Col. Watson, chief of Longstreet's artillery, informed some of our officers that the rebel infantry force engaged on Sumner's front on Saturday was only two brigades, but that they had a large force near by. He said our men exhibited the greatest bravery, but he considered the rebel position impregnable, and that a force of 500,000 men would find it impossible to carry the heights in the face of their batteries. The rebel loss was small compared with ours, from the fact that they were protested by a stone wall and rifle-pits. Our losses as heretofore reported have been considerably decreased by arrivals of stragglers in camp. The prisoners taken on both sides have been paroled.

The following is the official report of losses in the several divisions and batteries of Gen. Franklin's command, in the battle of Saturday last: Meade's division, 1800; Gibbon's division, 900; Doubleday's division, 150; Smith's Corps, 200. Total, 3050.

Some of our troops having left Harper's Ferry, the rebels appeared in the vicinity, and threatened to enter the town and burn the stores. But they met with a warm reception from our forces, and retired. They then made a dash at the convalescent camp in Loudon County. Driven from there they made a raid at Poolesville.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Carleton, the correspondent of the Boston Journal, who witnessed the terrible battle of Fredericksburg, says:—

The new troops, as a general thing, fought as bravely as the veterans. The 11th N. H. Regiment, Col. Harriman, proved itself worthy to hail from the Granite State. It never wavered. I saw the Regiment a short time before going into action. Col. Harriman was as cool as ever, and so were his men.

—— The Republican Congressional Convention in District No. 2 was held at Manchester on Wednesday, and Hon. E. H. Rollins was renominated by acclamation, the nomination being followed by hearty demonstrations of approval. The first resolution pledges a hearty support to the Administration; and the second justly commends Hon. E. H. Rollins' industry, activity and faithfulness in the discharge of his public duties.

In District No. 3, Prof. James W. Patterson, of Dartmouth College, was nominated, on the fifth ballot, by a small majority. The competitors were Hon. Thomas M. Edwards and Jacob Benton.

☞ We are indebted to Chas. C. Cushman, Esq., formerly of this city, for late copies of papers published at Victoria, V. I., one of which contains his card as commission agent and dealer in feed, produce, poultry, &c., at the Puget Sound Feed Store, Victoria.

☞ The Times' Washington dispatch states that it has leaked out at last that the Quartermaster's department must bear the blame for the delay in the long-talked of expedition down the Mississippi, in consequence of the failure to furnish supplies of coal in season.

☞ The Boston and Maine Railroad Co. has declared a semi-annual dividend of 4 per cent. free of the government tax, payayable Jan. 1 to holders of stock on the 20th inst.

☞ Hon. Wm. H. Polk died at Nashville, Tenn., on the 16th. He was a brother of the late ex-President Polk.

NEW ORLEANS CORRESPONDENCE.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Dec. 10.

Many the changes since last we met, dear Chronicle, and nowhere are they more apparent than in this vicinity. Soldiers still throng the streets, but the color of their uniform has changed, since last I wrote you, from gray to blue, and the flags that float over the public buildings bear many more stars and many more stripes than those that filled the same places this day twelve-months.

The opening up of a cotton port was all very well, but the object is lost if that staple be not forthcoming. The ruling rates for the "King" have been so high that the people have ransacked every nook and cranny to bring forth the last available fibre. Samples have been taken from factors' shelves, cotton from the debris of various conflagrations has been "sheared," and now the poor people, who, for years have dreamed on cotton, because of its cheapness, (especially when stolen from the levee) are robbing their matrasses of their precious lining.

Gen. Butler's career is said to be near its end in this city, and you may be sure there are none of the citizens who regret it, tho' his rule has been, in many respects, a fair one. His outrageous "Order No. 28," which no amount of explanation will so whitewash as to hide its hideousness; his imprisonment of women for smiling or other offences not amenable to law, and his edict disarming white citizens at a time when runaway slaves were being armed, and two or three hundred thieves, murderers and burglars—the convicts that were in the State Penitentiary at Baton Rouge—were turned loose upon the community, (having been released by the Federal forces on their evacuation of Baton Rouge) are among the chief causes of complaint.

Don't believe what you read in the papers of this city, for there is neither freedom of speech or press here, and the censorship is carried so far that the New York papers are sometimes suppressed from circulation here, on account of contraband news, &c.

Not more than three persons are allowed to assemble on the street. My friend Bill informs me that a lamp-post, himself and another man were ordered by the watchman to disperse, as being an unlawful congregation. But I don't take all Bill says as gospel.

The guerrillas are very troublesome in all directions. * * In clearing for a battle-field, some of the finest orange groves in the South have fallen before the axe; groves yielding thousands of dollars income annually.

Gen. Phelps' elephant is at Carrollton—4000 or so negroes, men, women and children, ragged, half starved, dirty, idle, vicious, and with an odor that beggars all the perfumes of Lubin. Repentant too late, many of them sigh already for the home with their "ole massa," where they had no care nor sorrow till the tempter came with his flattering tale. What will ever become of the poor devils I don't know; they are not fit for freedom, and most of them will be worthless as slaves hereafter. If about a thousand each could be dealt out to Greeley, Beecher, Phillips and Garrison, these gentlemen might be inclined to change their estimate of negro character before the birth of a new year.

But few of the old traders, either vessels or men, come to this port; the latter like not the cool reception which meets them from former friends—and no love is lost between citizens and soldiers here. Grass grows in the streets; building, pretty brisk under Confederate rule, is suspended; soldiers lounge everywhere, and a sentinel meets you at nearly every corner.

The effluvia from chloride of lime (the worst possible of all smells to me) chokes my nostrils as I pass the different buildings where the soldiers are quartered, and leads me to think that the hot weather now past, brought reminiscences of "Orange John" to the minds of the Sanitary Committee.

That scurrilous sheet, the Delta, edited and published by two Federal officers, is fast working itself down to the level of those who are on an equality with the negro, for it is not fit for white men to read. However, as it is the official organ of the present dynasty, I suppose 'twill fatten at the public expense, as the loathsome buzzard does on carrion.

The troops here experience a great deal of sickness and many die daily. Hardly a day passes but what deserters are arrested belonging to the 1st Louisiana (U. S.) Volunteers. They are mostly Germans, and will take leg bail, in my opinion, whenever they have a chance. Having obtained "handgeld," their chief object in enlisting is accomplished. Affectionately yours,

SMITH.

Notice to Housekeepers.

Rubber Band Carpet Sweeper.

TRY IT! TRY IT!!

It saves Money; it saves Carpets; it saves Furniture; it saves Labor; it is cheaper than Brooms at five cents apiece.

It gathers up all dust, dirt, and loose lint on the carpets, and raises no dust to settle on the furniture, drapery, or ornaments, or to smother, stifle and irritate the lungs.

It does not wear the carpets half so much as brooms or any other sweeper.

It is the only practicable sweeper made, and the only article fit to sweep a carpet.

With our late improvements it gives universal satisfaction to all who use it according to directions. For sale at No. 12 Market Street by PRESENTS.—The past year or two has been full of the "present arms;" this is the season peculiarly adapted and appropriated to the presenting of another sort of alms. May those who control both, use them for the best good of all!

But in this holiday period, yet another signification of the word is on every tongue—and Christmas and New Year Presents are looked for by old and young, for purchase and for gift.

Our columns, inside and out inside, show where to look to look for a great variety, at low prices. There is Mr. Shores, who never got ashore yet, in the line of beautiful and useful articles; Mr. Foster, who so well fosters his customers, as to retain the old, and gain new ones, year after year; Mr. Head, whom it is not so easy for all to get ahead of in the holiday trade; Mr. Bodge, who is certainly no "botch" in his business, as his neat store and well arranged stock of elegant goods, testifies, (and as he happened into our office on business, we inquired concerning a certain article, which on his return to his store, was at once sent to us with a polite request for its acceptance—and although we presume he can't do exactly like that for everybody, yet he informs the public or any other man, that they can make their selection almost at their own prices.) But to resume: then, not last nor least, there is Mr. Alfred Stavers, whose name, if we spell with the long sound of the vowel in the first syllable, (perhaps some synical reader may think this a syl-ly article,) will give an idea of the sort of business he can do in this line; Mr. John Sise, with a fine stock of fancy articles of almost any size and kind you want; Mr. Avery, with a long list of magazines and papers, and he says almost avery article you want appropriate for gifts; and we may perhaps be allowed to suggest in this connexion, that the Daily Chronicle for a year forms an acceptable present, bringing pleasure and gratitude "every morning new." For the rest, there is no place to look, like the advertising columns, and the stores mentioned therein.

LECTURES ON PHYSICAL EDUCATION. Dr. Gleason, the well known popular and scientific lecturer, will commence his course of ten lectures on physical education, applied to mental and moral improvement, at the Temple on Monday evening, Dec. 22, at 7 1-2 o'clock.

These lectures have been largely attended in many of our neighboring towns, and we trust the citizens of this city will avail themselves of the opportunity of hearing them. First lecture, seats free. Boys not admitted to the free lecture unless accompanied by their parents. It

☞ The Ballot newspaper comes out this week enlarged again, to the size of this sheet. And it is full large enough too, for the price. The country newspaper publishers have abandoned,—we hope forever, the absurd competition to print the largest sheet, full of the smallest type, at the lowest possible price. Nobody ever thanked them, or paid them, for doing so; any more than they do other folks, for working for nothing. The public don't appreciate such self sacrificing efforts; but really has a higher regard for the workman who is worthy of his hire, and who gets it, than it has for him who "gets only his labor for his pains."

☞ The South Carolina Legislature has passed a bill pledging the faith and the funds of the State for the redemption of its quota of Confederate war debt; requiring bonds sold within the Confederacy to be sold to the highest bidder, and favoring citizen bidders to others.

An eccentric banker was eyeing with suspicious caution a bill presented to him for discount. "You need not fear," said the customer, "one of the parties keeps his carriage." "Ah," rejoined the banker, "I shall be glad if he keeps his feet."

CHRISTMAS & NEW YEAR'S GIFTS.

Reader, do you wish to know where to find a splendid assortment of goods from which to select your Gifts for the coming HOLIDAYS? If you do—and who does not?—please take my arm for a walk down Congress Street. Here we are at

JAMES F. SHORES, JR.

The window is adorned with Fine Engravings, as a specimen of what may be found in the Picture Drawer; one of these, well framed by Mr. Barton, will be just the thing for some friend's parlor. Let us enter the store—on the left we find a table with BACKGAMMON & CHESS BOARDS, BATTLEDORES & SHUTTLECOCKS, and FANCY BASKETS.

Then the Half-Price Table well filled with PARIAN WARE, &c., which will be sold at ONE-HALF THE MARKET PRICE. Next are the High Colored PICTURE BOOKS and Cloth PICTURE BOOKS. Then the long case full of TOYS, samples of which are exhibited on the Table in the book of the store. Look at them—don't you wish you were a little child again that you might have a good time playing with a box of those Nine Pins, or Soldiers, or China Tea Sets, or Wooden Tea Sets, or Villages, or Noah's Arks, or Magnetic Toys, or those beautiful China or Biscuit Dolls; or, or—but we have not time to enumerate all.

Let us turn to the other side of the store. Next to the Toy Table comes the Table of Games, on which you see are

DOMINOES, SOLITAIRE,
NINE PIN GAME,
DISSECTED PICTURES,
UNION GAME,
GAME OF AUTHORS, &c., &c.

Next comes the most valuable Table of all—loaded as it is with

POCKET BOOKS of various sizes,
PEARL CARD CASES,
PEARL FOLDERS, SCOTCH WOOD FOLDERS, HAIR BRUSHES, SILVER FRUIT KNIVES, SILVER PLATED NAPKIN RINGS, IVORY TABLETS, POCKET KNIVES, &c.

BOOKS, filling that Book-rack and those shelves, and then at the Table of WORK BOXES, of various sizes and quality. Now step inside the counter and examine the FAMILY BIBLES, POCKET BIBLES, BOOK OF COMMON PRAYER, CHURCH SERVICES, &c.

And now, my friend, do you think you have seen enough? "Yes sir, I guess I have, and rather too much, for with such a variety before me I am at a loss what to select." Well, then you had better go home, get your Head settled, your Mind collected, your Purse well filled and tomorrow come back and make your selections.—But one word before we part—don't forget to tell your friends that THE PLACE to buy

ANOTHER NEW STOVE!

THE MODEL COOK

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the upper oven, for baking; giving an oven nearly 2 feet long, or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! A check draft is applied to this stove by means of which the consumption of fuel is greatly lessened, and a steady fire can be kept day and night if desired.

THE MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be THE STOVE for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is needed.

We believe the MODEL COOK to be the very best Stove in the Market, and invite every one to examine it whether they wish to purchase or not. It has had a very extensive sale since its introduction. Reference might be made to more than a hundred families in this city or vicinity who are using the Stove, and give it the highest commendation.

We refer to the following individuals who have purchased the Model Cook:—

David Kimball, Thos. F. Burt, John T. French, Rev. Mr. Davies, Wm. Pettigrew, Capt. John Davis, Jeremiah Raitt, Mrs. Ann T. Perkins, James W. Coffyris, Francis C. Marvis, Thos. Tullock, Jacob Wendell, Capt. Jacob Thompson, Gen. J. G. Hadley, G. Melvin Huntress, Jos. D. Akerman, James F. Shores, Wm. C. Newton, Horton D. Walker, Benj. Cheever, John Trundy, Richard L. Randall, Geo. Rice, Benj. F. Canney, Benj M. Parker, Charles A. Wiggin, George W. Plumer, Nath'l Dennett, Henry F. Gerrish, John Harratt, Thos Murphy, Capt. Wm. Lambert, Joseph Sides, John Senter, Wm. Bell, Cyrus Plumer, Freeman Hurd, James M. Locke, Daniel L. Randall, Isaiah Wilson, John E. Roberts—of Portsmouth; Samuel C. Dixon, Daniel J. Tryor, Cushman Pryor, of Trefethen's Island; Geo. N. Dixon, Samuel F. Paul, Elias Remick, Timothy Dame, Eliot; Wm. S. Locke, Benj. Fernald, Mrs. Wm. Locke, Kittery; E. F. Gerrish, Kittery Point; Hon. VICTOR COAL STOVE.

We offer this beautiful coal burner to the public, with full confidence in its merits.

It was brought into market two years since, and has come rapidly into use.

The Victor is one of the handsomest parlor stoves in the market, and is perfect in its operation. The arrangement for dumping the ashes is very fine—no dust need escape into the room—a continuous fire may be kept throughout the winter—the coal all burned, and no clinkers made.

The quantity of fuel used is very small indeed. There is in this stove an excellent arrangement for ventilating the room in which it is placed; a feature not possessed by any other parlor stove.

Some of the sizes are provided with an oven and boiling place, making them very desirable for a dining room.

We sold a large number of Victor Stoves in our city last season, and they receive the highest commendation from those who are using them.

We have also the celebrated McGregor Stove, so well known in the market as to need no commendation.

A great variety of cheaper Stoves for coal and wood—Coal-hods—Patent Coal-sifters.

COAL LININGS,

and Repairing pieces for most of the stoves in use. Job Work attended to with dispatch.

CAPT. JOHN MURRAY.—Among those who fell at Fredericksburg last Saturday was Capt. John Murray, from Newcastle, of Col. Cross' regiment N. H. Volunteers. His remains arrived in Portsmouth on Thursday evening, and were forwarded to Newcastle, where the funeral service will take place on Saturday, at 2 P. M. if fair weather.—Capt. M. was a soldier at Fort Constitution when the Mexican war broke out, and distinguished himself for bravery in the most exposed positions in the principal battles in Mexico. He was a generous unpretending man, of a higher real merit than he ever claimed for himself. His loss will be deeply felt, not only by his widow and three little children, but many in Portsmouth who appreciated his character. The Home Guard of this city, and perhaps other companies and organizations, will probably attend the funeral.

From the Journal

THE DILEMMA.—On Saturday evening, the Hon. Caleb Chahing left Boston for Newburyport, giving into the care of the baggage master his trunk and taking his check. Mr. C. has recently been at Washington on public business, and it was whispered that he had been recently closeted with Frank Pierce: and even some hints of "something wrong" had been thrown out by the busybodies. On arriving at Newburyport he presented his check for his trunk. "Number—, why sir, for that trunk we received a telegraph at Ipswich to send it back—and it went." "The most unfortunate occurrence of my life," exclaimed Mr. C., "I must have a vehicle to go for it immediately." The passengers bound east passed on—readily forming th eidea that the public authorities of Boston were determined to ferret out some fearful sedition. And so the story was current here for a day or two that Caleb Cushing was, to say the least, "strongly suspected." It since appears that a gentleman intending to come east, had deposited his trunk in the baggage car. Changing his mind when it was to late to remove it he telegraphed to Ipswich to have it returned, but unfortunately gave the wrong number, and was as much surprised at the reception of Mr. Cushing's baggage, as Mr. C. was disappointed at his loss.

The evidence against Mr. C. being only circumstantial, he is fully acquitted, and yet ranks as a truly loyal citizen.

Illustrated Scientific American.

The Best Mechanical Paper in the World.

18th year—Vol. 8—New Series.

A NEW volume of this popular Journal commences on the first of January. It is published weekly, and every number contains sixteen pages of useful information, and from five to ten original engravings of new inventions and discoveries, all of which are prepared expressly for its columns.

To the Mechanic and Manufacturer.—No person engaged in any of the mechanical or manufacturing pursuits should think of "doing without" the Scientific American. It costs but six cents per week,—every number contains from six to ten engravings of new machines and inventions, which cannot be found in any other publication.

To the Inventor.—The Scientific American is indispensable to every inventor, as it not only contains illustrated descriptions of nearly all the best inventions as they come out, but each number contains an Official List of the Claims of all the Patents issued from the United States Patent Office during the week previous; thus giving a correct history of the progress of inventions in this country.

Messrs. MUNN & CO. have acted as Patent Solicitors for more than seventeen years, in connection with the publication of the Scientific American, and they refer to 20,000 patentees for whom they have done business.

No charge is made for examining sketches and models of new inventions and for advising inventors as to their patentability.

Chemists, Architects, Millwrights & Farmers.—The Scientific American will be found a most useful journal to them. All the new discoveries in the science of chemistry are given in its columns, and the interests of the architect and carpenter are not overlooked; all the new inventions and discoveries appertaining to these pursuits being published from week week.

TERMS.—To mail subscribers: Three Dollars a year, or One Dollar for four months. The volumes commence on the first of January and July. Specimen copies will be sent gratis to any part of the country.

☞ ATTENTION, THE WHOLE!

EYE, N. H., Feb. 26, 1856. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the scrofula from the age of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum has been spent in the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla, Syrup, &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some of your Sarsaparilla. I have also used Dr. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no doubt but that this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicine can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors." I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

About seventeen years ago I discovered a bunch growing on my breast, attended with severe piercing pain, and when about as large as a hen's egg it broke out, and proved to be a Cancer of the most dangerous character. And from the abundant evidence I had of the good effect of Mr. Swett's Panacea in many such cases, I was encouraged to depend upon it for a cure in this case, and by keeping my stomach pure by taking medicine which he prepared, and taking twelve bottles of his Panacea, my Cancer was fully cured in about two months, and I have had no trouble from it since. CAROLINE B. SWETT.

This statement of my wife is correct.
SIMON SWETT.

Portsmouth, N. H., April 13, 1861.

I have been greatly afflicted with a Humor called by the doctors Salt Rheum and Erysipelas, causing many sores on my side. And seven bottles of Dr. Swett's Panacea I believe have effected a radical cure, as I can find no sign of the complaint since. I believe this medicine to be the most sure remedy in the world for Humors.
HANNAH ROWE.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with disease at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up any food taken into my stomach after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

EXETER, Feb. 24, 1858. Dr. Swett:—"Sir, for the benefit of those who are afflicted as I have been, with a humor, which prevented quiet rest night and day, I would say, that your PANACEA has effected a radical cure on me; and was I asked—that by the use of it, my health has been greatly improved; therefore, I cheerfully recommend it as superior to any other medicine I ever used for humors and consumptive complaints."
WM. F. LEAVITT.

FROM ELDER I. CHENEY, Lo., May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest, for about a night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named. ISRAEL CHENEY.

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may29

COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping to the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming oven, which, in whitening article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, so no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR WARMING

FURNACES,

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodeling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of pure air, free from smoke and dust, as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating furnaces have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney, without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of air in the flue, which, by its effect, wholly consumes them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the best in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated to use a large amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Shaw, and others.

GRACE'S CELEBRATED SALVE,

A SURE RELIEF FOR THE SUFFERER.

This Salve is a vegetable preparation, invented in the 17th century, by Dr. WM. GRACE, surgeon in King James's army. Through its agency he cured thousands of most serious sores and wounds that baffled the skill of the most eminent physicians of his day, and was regarded by all who knew him as a public benefactor.

Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Burns.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Scalds.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Flesh Wounds.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Corns.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Felons.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Frozen Limbs.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Scurvy.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Callouses.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Salt Rheum.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Chilblains.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Sore Breast.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Sore Lips.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Erysipelas Sores.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Abscesses.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Ulcers.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Chapped Hands.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Ringworms.

And from Sores and Wounds of the most serious nature down to a common Pimple. It eradicates Pimples from the face, and beautifies the skin. There is no preparation before the public that can equal this Salve in prompt and energetic action for the speedy cure of external diseases, as those who have tried its virtues testify. Soldiers, Sailors, and Fishermen, will find this Salve their best friend.

It has none of the irritating, heating properties of other remedies, but cools, cleanses, and heals the most serious Sores and Wounds. Every family, and especially those containing children, should keep a box on hand in case of accident, for it will save them much trouble, suffering, and money. All it wants is a fair trial to cure old and inveterate Sores.

NO PARTY—ONE COUNTRY.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every law fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address.

MONDAY, DECEMBER 22, 1862.

THE REBELLION.

Gen. Foster's forces have taken Kinston, N. C., capturing 500 prisoners and 11 pieces of artillery. The town was greatly injured by the Union bombardment. The details of the victory show that the march was a continued series of fighting, in which all distinguished themselves. Several bayonet charges took place. The rebels are reported to have had 15,000 men, and their loss in killed and wounded is heavy. Our total loss will not exceed 150. The principal fight was a few miles from Kinston, where the rebels were intrenched, but after three hours' fighting they retreated to Kinston, whence they were driven—one brigade toward Goldsboro' and the other toward Weldon, our shells helping them along. The gunboats could not go far up the Neuse river, because of low water. The marine artillery, on board the flotilla, two miles from Kinston, suddenly came upon an 11 gun battery, which opened very effectually. The flotilla retreated, and the next day were fired upon from the banks by guerrillas, who used balls dipped in verdigris and with a copper wire attached. A shell did great damage to the battery, and some 30 rebels were killed on the way down the river. Our troops on the 16th took up the march for Goldsboro'. Deserters and prisoners from the enemy, as well as despatches to Gen. Evans, captured, show that the rebels were terribly alarmed during Gen. Burnside's late advance, for the safety of Richmond. The N. C. House has passed, by a close vote, a bill to raise 10,000 troops for State defence. A preamble disclaiming any intention to come in conflict with the Confederate government in this matter was voted down.

A reconnoitering party under Gen. Naglee, from Yorktown into Gloucester County, Va., Dec. 16, destroyed a large tannery, engaged on work for the rebel army; captured the horses of a squad of rebel cavalry, (who abandoned them and took to the woods,) and burned their barracks and all belonging to them. Our capture of animals will foot up to nearly 1000. A number of prisoners were also taken, but released on parole.

A Charleston despatch states that our gunboats were again shelling James Island at intervals on the 15th, but without effect.

The rebels have made a demand for the evacuation of Fernandina, Florida, intending to shell it.

An "arrival" from Vicksburg gives an extravagant account of the rebel defences, but admits that the citizens have been very busy packing up preparatory to evacuating the place upon the opening of the anticipated Federal attack.

Gen. Herron reports that it is believed that Gen. Hindman has crossed the Arkansas river with his infantry, while Gen. Marmaduke is on the north side with his cavalry. Hundreds of men from General Hindman's army are daily joining Gen. Herron. Many of them are Missourians, who are disgusted with the rebel campaign in the West.

A dispatch from Nashville, dated the 18th, to the N. Y. Tribune, states that Gen. Dodge, with his cavalry, had been fighting Forrest all day in the vicinity of Corinth.—Forrest has 4000 and Dodge 2500 cavalry. The latter has 5 pieces of artillery.

The Richmond Despatch of the 16th says the rebel loss at Fredericksburg on Saturday was 2500. They lost Gens. Gregg and Cobb and many field officers. The 3d S. C. regiment was nearly annihilated. Official reports of our losses make the number less than has been reported—being less than 1400 killed and 8000 wounded. A large portion of the wounded were only slightly hurt. We lost 800 prisoners and took as many. The dead were found stripped of their clothing, and lying naked on the ground. From official reports it is thought the proportion of killed to the wounded in the late battle is smaller than in any battle fought during the war.

A squad of rebel officers on Tuesday rode down within range of our batteries opposite Fredericksburg, and a shell killed two of them.

A New York despatch says it was reported from Washington that Gen. Burnside has tendered his resignation.

A special Washington dispatch to the Boston Traveller, says definite information was received by the last steamer, that M. Drouyn De L'Huys, the French Prime Minister, has postponed indefinitely the plan for intervention, and that he so stated to the person who brought the Government the news.

☞ The N. Y. Express had a call for a public meeting, on Saturday evening last, of the citizens of New York "who are in favor of correctly informing the Administration in regard to the people's sense of their misconduct of the war for the restoration of the Union." Hon. A. Oakley Hall, District Attorney, Abijah Mann, Daniel Lord, James Brooks, and Charles O'Conor were announced to take part.

CONGRESS.

FRIDAY.—In the Senate a resolution was adopted asking the Secretary of the Navy if he has appointed any Acting Rear Admirals since the last session—how many and by what law. A resolution was offered requesting the Secretary of War to inform the Senate whether any tribunal had been constituted to report upon the operations of Gen. Buell, whether its sessions were secret, and whether said tribunal proposed to Gen. Buell to take an oath not to disclose any incidents of his trial or evidence. Laid over. A bill granting aid to Missouri to emancipate her slaves was referred to the Judiciary Committee. The bankrupt bill was taken up, and several amendments made.

In the House, the bill from the Senate to facilitate discharges was taken up and passed. Mr. Carey stated that Benj. F. Flanders, member elect, from the 2d district of Louisiana was present, and moved that he be sworn in. Mr. Vallandigham of Ohio, objected. Mr. Bingham of Ohio, moved that the papers be referred to the committee on elections. Carried. Two joint resolutions from the naval committee were passed, giving thanks to Lieut. Commander Morris, commanding the Cumberland, and to Lieut. Commander Worden, commanding the Monitor, for distinguished services in the contest with the Merrimac. A bill for the payment of invalid and other pensions, was passed after being amended, so that no money should be given any person who has aided the rebellion.

☞ The Washington Star says a caucus of Republican Senators was held, 16th inst., and a resolution requesting the President to dispense with the services of Mr. Seward, was discussed and passed, 16 to 13. On the 17th, at another caucus a substitute, recommending the President to remodel his Cabinet, was unanimously adopted, the conservatives believing it would be regarded as a general invitation to the whole Cabinet to resign. On being informed of the fact, the Secretary of State and Assistant Secretary sent in their resignations, requesting their immediate acceptance.

☞ The Atlanta (Ga.) Intelligencer has the following lamentation over the failure of Bragg's late abortive demonstration on Kentucky:—

"Had Gen. Bragg done his duty as well and promptly as Gen. Smith did, Louisville would have been ours, Cincinnati would have furnished us supplies, while Columbus, Ohio, would have been our headquarters. Then would the Vallandighams of Ohio, and the Brights of Indiana, have rallied to the issuing of Gen. Bragg's noted order: then would many thousand friends in Indiana, Ohio and Illinois, have joined the Southern army; then, too, could Gen. Bragg, having cut off the Western from the Eastern States, have whispered terms of peace in the North-Western ear; and then might we have reasonably hoped for peace. But now all hope for peace is indefinitely postponed, and our prospects are gloomier than when we began to cross the mountain, because our appearance near the Ohio has caused many a man to be added to the Northern army, that, had we remained south of the mountains, would never have taken up arms against us."

☞ This "charging by column," this moving upon the enemy's works" is not so easily done, says the Portland Advertiser, as in the days of the first Napoleon. The muskets then in use were not effective at a greater distance than one hundred yards, while the rifled muskets of to-day are effective at one thousand yards. Hence the troops that now "charge in column," must receive the fire of the enemy for a distance ten times as great as in the days of the first Napoleon, unless the inequalities of the ground be such as to afford protection. By "charging in column" the rebels were repulsed both at Malvern Hill and at Corinth by inferior numbers; and by attempting to do the same thing Burnside was repulsed at Fredericksburg.

☞ Mr. Adams, Minister to England, wrote to Secretary Seward on the 26th of October: "I receive from a credible source intimations that some of the escapes of the blockade are known here to have been effected by connivance and bribes to the officers commanding U. S. vessels. I know not myself how to account for some of the statements current here in any other way. I feel it my duty to make this representation without meaning to implicate any person in particular, only because the prevalence of such rumors in this country does much to harm the national character."

☞ Dates from Kanagawa, Japan, to the 16th Nov. are received. A private letter says all was quiet in that country on the 7th. The authorities saluted the American Minister with seventeen guns, being the first regular salute ever given by the Japanese to any foreign minister. The Japanese have ordered two steam sloops-of-war and one gunboat, mounting in all 64 guns. They are to be constructed in the United States, and will be the commencement of a complete navy.

☞ The French Government has concluded contracts for the supply of the army of Mexico for two years. A prolonged occupation is inferred from this.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Concord Statesman gives the following statements, from the official records, of the number of men mustered into service from this State under the calls for 600,000 men. The statement includes all the regiments since the 8th; also a considerable number of recruits for the old regiments:—

Ninth Regiment, 975; Tenth, 928; Eleventh, 997; Twelfth, 1017; Thirteenth, 1016; Fourteenth, 966; Fifteenth 917; Sixteenth, 892; Seventeenth, Co. A, 97, B, 97, field and staff, 5. Total, 199. Total in new regiments, 7907.

Recruits for old regiments. Second Regiment, 85; Third, 111; Fourth, 69; Fifth, 165; Sixth, 60; Seventh, 79; Eighth, 11; Light Battery, 7; Sharpshooters, 18; Cavalry, 60. Total recruits, 665.

Total number mustered in both new and old regiments, battery, cavalry and sharpshooters, under the last calls, 8,572.

—— A young man named Henry Miller fell from the high beams of a barn in East Lebanon on Sunday, the 7th inst., injuring him so that no hopes are entertained of his recovery, though at last accounts he was still alive. The accident occurred in the morning, and the poor sufferer lay eight hours in the cold, which on that day was severe, before he was discovered.

☞ The Committee ordered by Congress to investigate the causes of the recent disaster at Fredericksburg have arrived at Falmouth. This committee consists of Senators Wade and Chandler, and Messrs. Gooch, Odell, Covode, and Julian, of the House.—They were accompanied by Hon. Henry Wilson, Chairman of the Senate Military Committee, and by Gen. Haupt.

☞ Laborers are very scarce in Illinois, and other parts of the West, and farmers cannot procure help even by the offer of extravagant wages. The cause is the large number of young men who have gone to the war, and who were mostly from the farming population. The people of Illinois have voted recently not to admit negro laborers, of whom they might have had a few thousand, without extravagant wages.

☞ Jacob A. Westervelt, the New York ship builder, has sold the chips made in his shipyard to a contractor, but that worthy finds it an unpleasant job to collect them, as the workmen consider the chips their perquisite, and the sale of them has almost created a mutiny. The men make the yard a hot place for the chip merchant.

☞ The Messrs. Janvrin, Grassie & Delisle, of London, have suspended payment, and one of the partners, who had used the funds and credit of the firm largely, has disappeared. The liabilities are estimated at £100,000. The firm is said to have incurred recent losses by speculative operations at Lloyds in American war risks.

☞ The Russian Emancipation is already beginning to show good fruits. The government of Toula, which formerly had 10 village schools with 256 pupils, now, eighteen months later, numbers 1123 schools with 15,387 pupils. In the government of Simbirsk the number of schools rose during the same period from 20 to 277, of pupils from 375 to 4192; in Podhlia, from 306 to 1 288 schools, and 14,596 to 30,000 pupils.

☞ A silver United States half dollar was sold at auction the other day at Charleston for one dollar and forty-five cents, and a gold dollar for three dollars and fifteen cents. The Courier says: "We mention the fact, not by any means to show the value of exchange, but simply on account of the novelty."

☞ At the Hedding Methodist Church in Jersey City, on Sunday week, a belligerent young lady rose from her seat in the middle of the service, approached the pew of a prominent member of the society and began cowhiding him. The cause of this singular outbreak on the part of the young maiden is not stated.

☞ The Worcester Transcript says that the Rev. Arthur B. Fuller, chaplain to the 16th regiment, and Col. W. B. Sayles, of Rhode Island, both killed in the battle of Fredericksburg, were insured in the State Mutual Life Insurance Company of Worcester, for $5000 each.

☞ The press is unanimous in according to Gen. Burnside great credit for his management of affairs in Fredericksburg, and especially for the able manner in which he brought our troops across the river without the loss of a man.

☞ A negro fell from the top of a spiral staircase, three stories high, in a hotel in Cleveland recently, striking his head against a corner of the bottom stairway, thence on a table standing by the stairs, and from there to the floor. His injuries were found simply to consist of a cut on the head and a bruised shin.

☞ The New York papers state that, in answer to their advertisement for proposals for furnishing 300,000 pounds of printing paper per week, a proposal has already been received from a party to supply the amount at a large reduction from current rates.

☞ Congressman Covode, of Pennsylvania, has returned from the army at Falmouth.

FIENDISH.—A respectable gray-haired old planter from the northern part of Alabama has been sent to the filthy prison at Little Rock for his Union sentiments. On his incarceration he was charged to speak no word with any one. More than once he refused to respond to the call of the jailor, suspecting that he was being tricked. For this offence that poor, wretched man, whom fiends might have pitied and devils wept over, was taken out and whipped like a common field hand for contumacy.

☞ The English Government has ordered to be delivered as soon as possible 1200 miles of cable to complete the telegraphic connection with India.

An old farmer in Southern Illinois, seeing the cannon at Cairo, remarked "that them brass missionaries had converted heaps of folks."

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,

Rubber Band Carpet Sweeper.

TRY IT! TRY IT!!

It saves Money; it saves Carpets; it saves Furniture; it saves Labor; it is cheaper than Brooms at five cents apiece.

It gathers up all dust, dirt, and loose lint on the carpets, and raises no dust to settle on the furniture, drapery, or ornaments, or to smother, stifle and irritate the lungs.

It does not wear the carpets half so much as brooms or any other sweeper.

It is the only practicable sweeper made, and the only article fit to sweep a carpet.

With our late improvements it gives universal satisfaction to all who use it according to directions. For sale at No. 12 Market Street by Local.

☞ There was a change in the weather, sudden and decided and disagreeable, on Friday evening, and a high wind, raising at times clouds of blinding dust, added greatly to the discomforts of the few whom necessity called into the public streets. On Saturday morning the thermometer stood in this city at zero,—in some localities at 2° below. In Manchester and Concord it was 5 below, and at Rouse's Point, 12 below. On Sunday morning different thermometers were from two to three degrees below. The severity of the weather enabled one easily to understand why it happened that, "when the Pilgrim Fathers first landed in America," just two hundred and forty-two years ago yesterday, they should, "the weather being so severe that the spray falling upon their coats and freezing made them look like coats of mail," "slight the danger to be apprehended from the savages, and, after great difficulty, kindle a fire on shore."

THANKSGIVING IN NEW ORLEANS.—The 27th of November being the day set apart by the Governors of Maine, New Hampshire and Massachusetts, was celebrated in a suitable manner by a party of gentlemen from those States, including five from Portsmouth. The affair was gotten up under the auspices of our energetic young fellow townsman, James F. Hickey. The bill of fare, as will be seen, assimilated as nearly as possible in that latitude to the suppositious dinner to be eaten on that day in New England.

And a song for "Home, Sweet Home."

Several hours were passed in the discussion of the edibles, and then the attention of the party was given to sentiment, mirth and song, while the lively notes of the banjo in skilful hands went far toward the general quota of enjoyment. About 9 o'clock the table was deserted amid a general feeling of thanksgiving for the pleasant memories of "Auld Lang Syne" awakened by this re-union. Among those present were James F. Hickey, John Black, James Goodwin, Elbridge G. Pierce, John H. Miller, Capt. Plumer of Newburyport, Capt. Morrill, Capt. Tibbetts of steamtug Boston, C. G. Knowlton, (banjo) Fisherville, N H, Josh. ☞ A copy of a letter by Jacob Thompson, the Secretary of the Interior under Buchanan, has just been obtained from his letter-book, lately captured, in which he freely describes the good prospects of the Confederate success as early as the fall of 1860, and thus alludes to Buchanan:—"He is the truest friend to the South I have ever known from the North. He is a jewel and a man. But my duty is to the South."

He died from old age and decay, respected by all who knew him.

R. H. EDDY, ESQ., BOSTON, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS.—There are few instances of more distinguished success in this country, than has attended the efforts of Mr. Eddy in this very difficult and complex department of business; and we take great pleasure in recording the fact, that as a Patent attorney, he stands preeminent. The essential qualities required are strict integrity and honor, strong powers of analysis, and quick perception, familiar acquaintance with Patent Laws and Patents. All these qualities we know Mr. Eddy to possess to a remarkable degree. For more than twenty years he has devoted his entire time and energies to perfect himself in this department, and there is no man equally competent to give advice to inventors, touching the validity of claims and the patentability of inventions. In prosecuting claims denied upon imperfectly prepared specificates, he has been particularly successful, a large part of his practice being appeals in cases where patents have been refused two and three times in consequence of inexperience and incompetency in preparing papers. We confidently recommend Mr. Eddy, to all who are in want of any information on the subject, and can assure them that implicit reliance may be placed in any statement he may make.—We take pleasure in directing the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Mr. Eddy in to-day's paper.

ANOTHER NEW STOVE!

THE MODEL COOK

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes she be and all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; the arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking; giving an oven nearly 3 feet long! or large enough to take six large pies on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! A check draft is applied to this stove by which the amount of fuel is greatly lessened, and a steady fire can be kept day and night if desired.

THE MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be THE STOVE for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is needed

We believe the MODEL COOK to be the very best Stove in the Market, and invite every one to examine it whether they wish to purchase or not. It has had a very extensive sale since its introduction. Reference might be made to more than a hundred families in this city or vicinity who are using the Stove, and give it the highest commendation.

We refer to the following individuals who have purchased the Model Cook:—

David Kimball, Thos. F. Burt, John T. French, Rev. Mr. Davies, Wm. Pettigrew, Capt. Jonathan Davis, Jeremiah Raitt, Mrs. Ann T. Perkins, James W. Jarvis, Francis C. Jarvis, Thos. L. VICTOR COAL STOVE.

We offer this beautiful coal burner to the public, with full confidence in its merits.

It was brought into market two years since, and has come rapidly into use.

The Victor is one of the handsomest parlor stoves in the market, and is perfect in its operation: The arrangement for damping the ashes is very fine—no dust need escape into the room—a continuous fire may be kept throughout the winter—the coal all burned, and no clinkers made.

The quantity of fuel used is very small indeed. There is in this stove an excellent arrangement for ventilating the room (which it is placed) a feature not possessed by any other parlor stove.

Some of the sizes are provided with an oven and boiling place, making them very desirable for a dining room.

We sold a large number of Victor Stoves in our city last season, and they receive the highest commendation from those who are using them.

We have also the celebrated McGregor Stove, so well known in the market as to need no commendation.

A great variety of cheaper Stores for coal and wood—Coal hods—Patent Coal-sifters.

COAL LININGS,

and Repairing pieces for most of the stoves in use. Job Work attended to with dispatch.

From the Journal

RAMBLES ABOUT PORTSMOUTH, No. 149.

The Sparhawk Family.

In a bundle of manuscripts of Sir William Pepperrell in our possession, we find some incidents relating to Nathaniel Sparhawk, who married the only daughter of Sir William, and settled at Kittery-Point, in the vicinity of the old Meeting House.

It appears that the Rev. John Sparhawk, a minister of Bristol, in Mass., who died in 1718 at the age of 45, had two sons. One of them was the Rev. John Sparhawk of Salem, who married Jane Porter, and died in 1755 at the age of 43. The other son was Hon. Nathaniel Sparhawk of Kittery, who married Elizabeth, the only daughter of Sir William Pepperrell.

If the tale of tradition is true, to the beauty of Mary Sparhawk, who became the wife of Dr. Jarvis, Portsmouth is more indebted for its protection in 1775, than to its forts. The story goes, that Capt. Mowatt, of the Canceaux, a British ship of 14 guns, connected with a large armed ship, a schooner and a sloop, were off our harbor in the month of October, 1775. Capt. Mowatt went privately on shore at Kittery Point, and was received at the loyal house of Nathaniel Sparhawk. Here he became so much fascinated with Mary, that the intent of his voyage to destroy Portsmouth, was, by her influence, changed, and he made sail for Falmouth (now Portland) and burnt more than 400 of the best houses and stores—leaving only about 100 of the poorest houses, and they much damaged. How much our city is indebted to the influence of the beauty of Mary, we can now hardly estimate.

After the death of her husband, (Dr. Jarvis of Boston,) Mary returned to Kittery Point, where she died in 1815. The old mansion house of Col. Sparhawk, east of the village church, is preserved in all its primitive beauty. It is now the property of Andrew J. Penhallow, Esq. of this city, who makes it his summer residence. The long avenue of noble trees through which it was formerly approached have disappeared—but the mansion is yet one of the attractive features of the ancient town.

The New York Tribune.—1863.

THE NEW-YORK TRIBUNE, first issued in 1841, now in its twenty-second year, has obtained both a larger and a more widely diffused circulation than any other newspaper ever published in America.—Though it has suffered, in common with other journals, from the volunteering and departure of tens of thousands of its patrons to serve in the War for the Union, its circulation on the 6th of December, 1862, is as follows:

DAILY	50,125
SEMI-WEEKLY	17,250
WEEKLY	148,000
Aggregate	215,375

Pre-eminently a journal of News and of Literature, THE TRIBUNE has political convictions, which are well characterized by the single word REPUBLICAN. It is Republican in its hearty adhesion to the great truth that "God has made of one blood all nations of men"—Republican in its assertion of the equal and inalienable right of all men to "life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness"—Republican in its steadfast, earnest, and hostility to every scheme and effort of the Slave Power, from the Annexation of Texas to the great Rebellion, to grasp the empire of the New World and wield the resources of our country for its own aggrandisement—Republican in its unsparing war on the aristocrats and despots of the Old World, who fondly hail in the perils and calamities suddenly thrust upon us by their American counterpart the overthrow and ruin of the Model Republic—Republican in its hope and trust, its faith and effort, that this atrocious Rebellion must result in the signal overthrow of its plotters, and the firm establishment of equal rights and equal laws throughout the whole extent of our country, wherein Liberty and Union shall indeed be "one and inseparable" from earth and Heaven.

THE TRIBUNE devotes attention in calmer times, and to some extent in these, to Education, Temperance, Agriculture, Inventions, Science, and Literature, minister to the spiritual and material progress and well-being of mankind; but for the present its energies and its columns are devoted to the cause of the Union, and success of the War for the Union. Its special correspondents accompany every considerable army and report every important incident of the great struggle which we trust is soon to result in the signal and conclusive triumph of the National arms and in the restoration of Peace and Thrift to our distracted, bleeding country. We believe that not otherwise can a fuller or more accurate view of the progress and character of this momentous conflict be obtained than through the regular perusal of our columns. And we earnestly solicit the co-operation of all friends of the National cause, which we regard and uphold as that of Universal Humanity, to aid us in extending its circulation.

TERMS.—The enormous increase in the price of printing paper and other materials used in printing newspapers, compels us to increase the price of The Tribune. Our new terms are:

☞ ATTENTION, THE WHOLE! ☜

EYE, N.H., Feb. 26, 1845. "I hereby certify that my daughter has been the sale from her childhood of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of Dr. Swayne's Panacea, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicine has equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it, since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

About seventeen years ago I discovered a bunch growing in my breast, attended with severe piercing pains, which at times kept me from my work. It broke out, and proved to be a Cancer of the most dangerous character. And from the abundant success which attended the good effects of Dr. Swett's Panacea in many such cases, I was encouraged to depend upon it for a cure in this case, and by keeping my stomach pure by medicine, which he prepared, and taking twelve bottles of Panacea, my CANCER was fully cured in about two months, and I have had no return of it since. CAROLINE H. SWETT.

This statement of my wife is correct. SIMON SWETT.

Portsmouth, N. H., April 18, 1853.

I have been greatly afflicted with a Humor called by the doctors Salt Rheum and Erysipelas, causing many sores on my face. And seven bottles of Dr. Swett's Panacea have effected a radical cure, as I have had no sign of the complaint since. I believe this medicine to be the most sure remedy in the world for Humors. HANNAH ROWE.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often pain in my side, so that I could not bear any eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of Dr. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

Exeter, Feb. 24, 1838. Dr. Swett:—"Sir, for the benefit of those who are afflicted as I have been, with a humor, which prevented quiet rest night and day, I would say, that your PANACEA has effected a radical cure on me; and was a saddened by the use of it, my health has been greatly improved; therefore, I cheerfully recommend it so superior to any other medicine I ever used for humors and consumptive complaints."

WM. P. LEAVITT.

From ELDER I. CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY.

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may20

THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE.

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and and iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is handled in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask attention to the subject of remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The difficulty heretofore met by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the great amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The inconsumable gases having the heat, will pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 50 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and set on fire, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Greaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

GRACE'S CELEBRATED SALVE,

A SURE RELIEF FOR THE SUFFERER.

This Salve is a vegetable preparation, invented in the 17th century, by DR. WM. GRACE, surgeon in King James's army. Through its agency he cured thousands of most serious sores and wounds that baffled the skill of the most eminent physicians of his day, and was regarded by all who knew him as a public benefactor.

Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Burns.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Scalds.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Fresh Wounds.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Cuts.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Felons.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Frozen Limbs.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Scurvy.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Callouses.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Salt Rheum.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Chilblains.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Sore Breast.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Sore Lips.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Erysipelas Sores.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Abscesses.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Ulcers.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Chapped Hands.
Grace's Celebrated Salve cures Ringworms.

And from Sores and Wounds of the most serious nature down to a common Pimple. It eradicates Pimples from the face, and beautifies the skin. There is no preparation before the public that can equal this Salve in prompt and energetic action for the speedy cure of external diseases, as those who have tried its virtues testify. Soldiers, Sailors, and Fishermen, will find this Salve their best friend.

It has none of the irritating, heating properties of other remedies, but cools, cleanses, and heals the most serious Sores and Wounds. Every family, and especially those containing children, should keep a box on hand in case of accident, for it will save them much trouble, suffering, and money. All it wants is a fair trial to cure old and inveterate Sores.

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally: It is a spirit not to be encouraged—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. THE REBELLION.

Gen. Foster's official report of his recent expedition states that the result is, we have taken Kinston, captured 11 pieces of artillery, and taken from 400 to 500 prisoners and found a large amount of quartermaster and commissary stores, while our loss will not probably exceed 200 in killed and wounded. The Boston Advertiser regards this as one of the most important Union victories of the war, as it is a decisive advantage in the main movement against Goldsborough, about 30 miles distant, whereby a great line of the rebels' interior communication is to be cut off.

The rebels again report that Gen. Foster has been repulsed. They made the same statement previous to his victory at Kinston.

The N. Y. Tribune denies that Gen. Saxton has been removed from his command in South Carolina.

The N. Y. Herald editorially confirms the statements already made, that General Banks is to supersede Gen. Butler at New Orleans. He will command a force of 70,000 men. One object of his expedition is the capture of Mobile, while the others are to counteract any schemes of France in the Southern States and to co-operate in the reopening of the Mississippi.

It is said the rebels are reinforced at Goldsboro.

A dispatch to the Mobile Advertiser, dated Vicksburg, 16th, says two Yankee gunboats went up the river yesterday, and another this morning.

The Vicksburg Whig says two Union gunboats went up Yazoo river on the 9th inst., and at Blake's plantation ran over two torpedoes, which exploded without doing any mischief. The boats fired four shots and withdrew.

A Cairo dispatch, 21st, says there is still much doubt regarding the extent of injuries done the Mobile and Ohio railroad.—The rebels have taken Carroll station, Humboldt, Trenton and Kenton, and at last accounts were moving on Union City. At Trenton there were large quantities of cotton at the station house, and other property, which was burned, and at Kenton two locomotives and some cars. The strength of the rebels is not known, nor the commander.

The N. Y. Herald learns from Baltimore that the rebels are "supposed" to be moving large bodies of troops west. The great strength of the Confederacy is now being concentrated toward Nashville and Vicksburg.

A body of rebel cavalry, estimated at from 2000 to 3000, made a raid on the railroad, 3 miles from Jackson, Tenn., on Friday morning. After firing on a train, they tore up the track for a considerable distance, and burned a long trestle work.

The N. Y. Times' army letter reports a change in the position of the left wing of the army. Gen. Franklin's headquarters have been removed back from near the river to a grove on the road leading ———. The troops are in fine condition and fully prepared to do battle. No movements of the enemy have been observed since we evacuated the south side of the river. It is not known to Gen. Burnside's staff that he has tendered his resignation. Although the N. Y. Times despatch says it has "high authority for the statement that the President himself wrote a dispatch to Gen. Burnside to use his own judgment in crossing to make the attack, and the despatch was suppressed by Gen. Halleck," yet we don't believe it.

A Washington dispatch to the N. Y. Herald announces the return from Falmouth of the committee on the conduct of the war. Gen. Burnside, the dispatch says, assumes all responsibility of the assault on the enemy's works, and firmly believes he could have carried them on Sunday, had not the continuance of the engagement been opposed by his council of war. The rumors of his resignation are unfounded.—As army letter in the Herald states that Gen. Sigel's forces are said to be on their way to Fairfax Court House.

Gen. Burnside, in his official report, says that he crossed at Fredericksburg and not at the point selected, because, finding that the enemy had thrown a large portion of his force down the river, thus weakening his defences in front, he hoped by rapidly and unexpectedly throwing his whole force over at that point, to separate, by a vigorous attack, the forces of the enemy, in which case we could fight the enemy with great advantage in our favor. But for the fog and the delay in building the bridges, we should almost certainly have succeeded. It came very near success, but failing, our forces remained in order of battle two days, when, as the enemy would not come out of his stronghold to fight us with his infantry, they recrossed the river. Not the least demoralization or disorganization existed.—"For the failure in attack," he says, "I am responsible, as the extreme gallantry, courage and endurance shown by the brave officers and soldiers, to whom I owe everything, was never exceeded and would have carried the points had it been possible.—The fact that I decided to move from Warrenton on to this line, rather against the opinion of the President, Sec. of War, and yourself, (Gen. Halleck,) and that you left the whole matter in my hands without giving me orders, makes me responsible." Our wounded were all removed: our dead were all buried under a flag of truce. There was a much larger proportion of slight wounds than usual, 1632 only being treated in the hospitals. The army at the present time is in good condition.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— A man named Harry Hoadley, belonging in Langdon, committed suicide on Saturday morning last. He went to a house he was accustomed to visit, in the east part of Alstead, but was refused admittance, whereupon he went to the barn, led out his horse, killed it by cutting its throat, and then went into the shed and hung himself with the halter.

—— Mr. Joseph Plummer of Meredith, well known to the residents of Belknap County as "Old Jo. Plummer, the Hermit," who has passed 67 years of his life by himself in a kind of log house, situated in a remote locality, died on the 3d inst, aged 88 years. The Manchester Mirror says: "This eccentric individual was a son of Jesse Plummer and the last of a family of eleven children, who as a class were an industrious and wealthy people. His habits when a youth were singular. When engaged in the field he would choose the centre of the piece, and enclosing himself with a fence, there work. On attaining his majority, he commenced his life of solitude in a small house on a seven acre lot. In 1837, he selected a more remote situation in a wood lot, and erected a house, which with its furniture and everything used by him—all being of own manufacture, was no less singular than the old man himself. Here he passed his life, cultivating his land, reading his Bible, and devoting a few moments to each of his many visitors who were yearly attracted by curiosity to his dwelling. One of his friends called on him the evening previous to his death and requested permission to pass the night with him; but he replied, "you can do me no good, I shall die before morning." The friend granted his wish and left him, and during the night he died, as he lived, alone."

—— Miss Ann Curry, of West Chelmsford, 16 years of age, while skating, fell and broke her collar bone.

—— The official report states that in the battle of Fredericksburg, the following members of the 2d N. H. regiment were wounded—C. Vosburg, Co. D; A. J. Roberts, M. E. May, D. S. Martin, J. E. Morse, Co. B.

—— Capt. H. C. Bacon, of Epping, 11th N. H. regiment, is reported among the wounded at the battle of Fredericksburg.

—— The staid News Letter says that three women in Exeter, whose husbands are in the army, passed by the Post Office on Monday evening, singing at the top of their voices the following words: "Brigham Young has forty wives, but we want only one."

THE MONEY MARKET.—The shipment of gold last week from New York was $875,000 and from Boston $220,000. The entire amount during the year sent to Europe, has been over $63,000,000 dollars.—Thus the money goes; and suspension of specie payments does not prevent the depletion of our coffers in the least. Gold goes away as fast when it is at 33 per cent. premium, as it did when it was 1 1-2 in May last; and much faster, in fact, for the English have us, whip in hand, making us pay their price, with 33 per cent. added, for such goods as we buy of them, and paying us only such prices as they see fit, for grain and provision bought here. Coin is steady, from 132 1-4 on Monday to 142 5-8 Friday, and the tendency is upward, although very powerful influences are brought to bear upon it from Washington, in order to depress the market.

Sterling Exchange is again strong at 146 to 146 1-2, and continues a marvel to all who note its course, how it always forges ahead of the rate on gold, so that the shipment thereof still affords a profit, no matter how high the premium is. There is a cat in the meal, well covered.

The Stock market is dull and heavy, with every symptom about of a regular break-down.—Commercial Bulletin, 22d.

THURLOW WEED ON "H. G."—"When thieves fall out, honest men get their dues," and when political intriguers quarrel, then follow some very pretty revelations. The Albany Journal contains the rejoinder of Thurlow Weed to "H. G." of the Tribune, which is about as scorching a piece of journalism as we have seen for a long time. Greeley accused Weed of having made himself rich at the public expense; confessing that ambition for office had been his ruling passion, he attributed avarice to his opponent. The way Mr. Weed retorts is to caution all believers in the "honesty" of the politicians of any party.

☞ The news of Seymour's election as Governor of New York was first communicated to our forces at Port Royal by the rebel pickets. The result was celebrated at Charleston and Savannah by bonfires and general jubilation.

NEW ORLEANS CORRESPONDENCE.

NEW ORLEANS, LA., Dec. 11.

Dear Chronicle: * * I am sick of this infernal politicians' war. I have seen it as it is on both sides, and am fairly disgusted with both sides. * *

Last Friday I dined in company with Charles Heidsick, the great champagne proprietor. He was confined in Forts Jackson and Pickens, by order of Gen. Butler, but the French Government made a peremptory demand for his unconditional release, and he was set at liberty as quickly as one of his own champagne corks when the string is severed. He told us of acts committed at Pickens under authority of Gen. Dow, that would be incredible to those who were ignorant of the fact of his shooting his fellow citizens in Portland for resisting his sumptuary law in regard to alcoholic liquors.

The glory of New Orleans has departed, and, the Delta notwithstanding, it grows worse and worse day by day.

The following order raised the price of whiskey $1 per gallon in twenty-four hours, the importation of spirits having long since been proclaimed contraband:—

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 6.

By direction of the Commanding General, notice is hereby given to all proprietors within this Department of distilleries and establishments where spirituous or intoxicating liquors are either manufactured or rectified, and breweries where strong beer is made, that they must cease manufacturing, and close their places of business on Saturday, 8th inst. JONAS H. FRENCH,
Provost Marshal General Louisiana.

This is another of Gen. B.'s speculations, his brother, Col. A. J. Butler, having purchased immense lots of liquors for a week previous to the appearance of the order.—One of the oldest and shrewdest of our sugar merchants says $500,000 will not cover the profits made by Butler on sugar alone.

The men who attempted to assassinate Emperor Napoleon (despot) were released on trial without punishment; but J. Dugas, an aged creole, who, while drunk, said he hoped "Butler (republican) would be hung," was sent Friday to six months' hard labor at Fort Jackson—charge made by Col. Butler.

The fourth act of the Butler monopoly has been enacted. All officers seen drinking in any coffee-house are to be reported to headquarters, Washington, with recommendation for dismissal.

Ergo. They must buy their rum of Col. A. J. Butler by the quantity—or go without—or risk dismissal. Yours, SMITH.

☞ A Washington dispatch states that the President informed the Border State Committee that as to his emancipation proclamation he had acted from the belief that it would effect good results, but if he could be convinced to the contrary he would modify his position upon that subject, his purpose being to do the best he could under all the circumstances which surrounded him.

☞ Monday evening's papers contain a batch of unreliable rumors from Washington, about Cabinet changes,—and discordant statements as to who is responsible for Gen. Banks' expedition.

A despatch to the Boston Traveller says Secs. Seward and Chase will remain in the Cabinet, at the demand of the President, who is unwilling to comply with the request of the Senate caucus at the present crisis in the affairs of the country.

☞ It is understood that the Secretary of the Treasury has completed his finance bill, recommending a nine hundred million loan at not over 7.30 per cent. per annum and the repeal of the 5.20 conversion act. He adheres firmly to the opinion in his annual report that the money can be raised by loan.

☞ The centre building and the two large western wings of the Vermont Insane Asylum were destroyed by fire on Sunday morning, the wind blowing a gale. The east wings were saved, although somewhat damaged. All the patients were removed in safety.

☞ Orders have been received at the Charlestown Navy Yard from the Navy Department to complete the Minnesota's repairs with all possible despatch, and if practicable, have her ready for sea within 8 days.

☞ The N. Y. money writers say there have been lately some operations in that market for account of parties usually well posted, which are considered as indicating a disbelief in the long duration of the war.

☞ The Atlantic Monthly for January, 1863, already published, is a glorious number, abounding in poems and articles by many of the first writers in America.

☞ Union Block, Biddeford, was totally destroyed by fire on Saturday morning.—Loss about $20,000,—well insured.

☞ The U. S. steam frigate Colorado, Capt. Gillis, from Portsmouth, was at Fortress Monroe on 17th of December, and was to sail same day for Beaufort, N. C.

☞ The U. S. sloop-of-war Constellation, Commodore Thatcher, was at Genoa on 3d of December, and would winter in that port.

☞ Seven members of the 8th N. H. regiment, taken prisoners by the rebels in Louisiana, were tried for treason—they having enlisted in New Orleans—and on being convicted were first compelled to dig their own graves and then shot. Two of the officers comprising the court martial have been caught, and fourteen of the highest rebel officers, now prisoners to Gen Butler, have been held as hostages, and will be shot, provided Gen. Pemberton, who has been written to on the subject, does not disavow the act of the court martial and give up three other officers who composed it. Gen. Clarke is one of the hostages.

Rubber Band Carpet Sweeper.

TRY IT! TRY IT!!

It saves Money; it saves Carpets; it saves Furniture; it saves Labor; it is cheaper than Brooms at five cents apiece.

It gathers all dust, dirt, and loose lint on the carpets, and raises no dust to settle on the furniture, drapery, or ornaments, or to smother, stifle and irritate the lungs.

It does not wear the carpets half so much as brooms or any other sweeper.

It is the only practicable sweeper made, and the only article fit to sweep a carpet.

With our late improvements it gives universal satisfaction to all who use it according to directions. For sale at No. 12 Market Street by LECTURES ON PHYSICAL EDUCATION.—Dr. Gleason will deliver a lecture this, Tuesday, evening at the Temple, on Digestion. Admission only ten cents. His free opening lecture, Monday evening, was interesting and well received. We copy the following from the Augusta Age, as evidence of Dr. G.'s success in that place a few weeks ago.

"Dr. Gleason, who has just completed his course of admirable lectures in Augusta, on Anatomy, Physiology, &c., gave the not proceeds of last night's lecture (there being a full house as usual) to the Ladies' Soldiers' Aid Society in this place. For this noble act of liberality, Dr. Gleason has the sincere thanks of the Society.

Dr. G. has carried the city by storm. He has had full houses during his entire course. He is a finished and pleasing lecturer, thoroughly conversant with the whole subject, and possessing the rare faculty of imparting knowledge to others. These lectures are worthy of public patronage, from the vast amount of useful information imparted on the vital topics of which they treat."

☞ The Ladies' Sale advertised for this afternoon and evening, (we speak of it for the benefit of those who are unacquainted with the previous efforts of the kind,) affords good opportunity to procure articles of domestic use and ornament, many of them not to be readily purchased elsewhere, and at the same time to aid and encourage an efficient and commendable local charity—not to mention the chance for a pleasant social gathering, which may have weight with some folks. It will be seen that the public are invited—tickets 5 cts.

☞ Rev. Mr. Bowen, of Boston, a man blind from infancy, occupied the pulpits at the Middle Street Baptist and the Court Street Christian Churches, on Sunday forenoon, and at the Universalist Church in the evening. He is a fair speaker, bears his affliction (or condition) philosophically, and appears to be a very cheerful and devout man. He gave, in the course of his remarks, some statistics and other information concerning the blind, which are of more general interest, perhaps, than generally circulated. The world's blind population is estimated at one million—there being more near the tropics, and less at the polar regions. Egypt has as many as one in 500, European countries from 1 in 6 or 700, to 1 in 1200 in England; while the United States has about 18,000, or 1 in 1600, if we recollect aright.

Formerly, those who were born or became blind, were put to death, in heathen lands; and the first public effort to educate a man through his fingers instead of eyes, was made in Paris in 1788 we think, and in this country in Massachusetts for New England in 1829–32, by the trial on six boys, of whom this speaker was one, and another he said was from Portsmouth, (Mr. Joseph Smith, we presume—well known as a musician.) From this experiment has grown a large school for the blind, one of the most useful and beneficent of the charitable institutions of Massachusetts.

Rev. Mr. B. shows the astonishing memory of details, common to the educated blind, in his reciting the scriptures, hymns, &c., and his is evidently a case of interest to all philanthropists.

☞ The U. S. steam gunboat Osseps, which sailed from the Portsmouth Navy Yard on the 15th, had a very successful trip, and made eight knots an hour very easily on her passage down the river. She carries 9 guns, and is a beautiful vessel of 1240 tons, 207 feet long, 37 feet wide, and 17 feet deep.

☞ William W. Clark, a young man of this city, and formerly employed in this office, was accidentally killed by the fall of some rigging on board U. S. ship Constellation, at Genoa, Nov. 23. He was buried on shore Nov. 25, by the officers and crew, who erected a stone to his memory.

CHRISTMAS EVE SERVICES.—Services will be held at the Stone Church on Wednesday, Christmas eve, at 7 1 4 o'clock.

☞ Lieut. Commander Burnham has been detached from the Bienville and ordered to the steam sloop Sacramento at the Portsmouth Navy Yard.

☞ The advertisements on the third and fourth pages of this paper, direct citizens and strangers where to purchase presents for their friends, young and old—from the largest and best stocks, at the lowest prices.

☞ Mr. Hull gives notice of another grand dance at Union Hall, this evening. Admission, 25 cents.

☞ Three brothers—Union soldiers at Fredericksburg—received a wound each from the same ball.

A gentleman in a steamboat asked the man who came to collect the passage money if there was any danger of being blown up, as the steam made such a horrid noise. "Not the least," said the sharp contractor, "unless you refuse to pay your fare."

ANOTHER NEW STOVE!

THE MODEL COOK

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

The novel—the prominent feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking; giving an oven nearly 1 foot long; or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! A check draft, is applied to this stove by means of which the consumption of fuel is greatly lessened, and a steady fire can be kept day and night if desired.

THE MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be THE STOVE for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is needed.

We believe the MODEL COOK to be the very best Stove in the Market, and invite every one to examine it whether they wish to purchase or not. It has had a very extensive sale since its introduction. Reference might be made to more than a hundred families in this city or vicinity who are using the Stove, and give it the highest commendation.

We refer to the following individuals who have purchased the Model Cook:—

David Kimball, Thos. F. Burt, John T. French, Rev. Mr. Davies, Wm. Pettigrew, Capt. John Davis, Jeremiah Raitt, Mrs. Ann T. Perkins, James W. Jarvis, Francis C. Jarvis, Thos. L. Pullock, Jacob Wendell, Capt. Jacob Thompson, Gen. J. G. Hatley, ti. Melvin Huntress, Jos. D. Akerman, James F. Shores, Wm. C. Newton, Horton D. Walker, Benj. Chesley, John Trundy, Richard L. Lambert, Joseph Stiles, John Seater, Wm. Bell, Cyrus Plumer, Freeman Hurd, James M. Locke, Daniel L. Randall, Isaiah Wilson, John E. Roberts—of Portsmouth; Samuel C. Dixon, Daniel I. Pryor, Cushman Pryor, of Treffethen's Island; Geo. N. Dixon, Samuel F. Paul, Elias Resnick, Timothy Dame, Eliot; Wm. S. Locke, Benj. Ferwald, Mrs. Wm. Locke, Kittery; R. P. VICTOR COAL STOVE.

We offer this beautiful coal burner to the public, with full confidence in its merits.

It was brought into market two years since, and has come rapidly into use.

The Victor is one of the handsomest parlor stoves in the market, and is perfect in its operation. The arrangement for dumping the ashes is very fine—no dust need escape into the room—a continuous fire may be kept throughout the winter—the coal all burned, and no clinkers made. The quantity of fuel used is very small indeed. There is in this stove an excellent arrangement for ventilating the room in which it is placed; a feature not possessed by any other parlor stove.

Some of the sizes are provided with an oven and boiling place, making them very desirable for a dining room.

We sold a large number of Victor Stoves in our city last season, and they received the highest commendation from those who are using them.

We have also the celebrated McGregor Stove, so well known in the market as to need no commendation.

A great variety of cheaper Stoves for coal and wood—Coal hods—Patent Coal-sifters.

COAL LININGS,

and Repairing pieces for most of the stoves in use. Job Work attended to with dispatch.

Illustrated Scientific American.

The Best Mechanical Paper in the World.

18th year—Vol. 8—New Series.

A NEW volume of this popular Journal commences on the first of January. It is published weekly, and every number contains sixteen pages of useful information, illustrated by ten original engravings of new inventions and discoveries, all of which are prepared expressly for its columns.

To the Mechanic and Manufacturer—No person engaged in any of the mechanical or manufacturing pursuits should think of "doing without" the Scientific American. It costs but six cents per week; every number contains from six to ten engravings of new machines and inventions, which cannot be found in any other publication.

To the Inventor—The Scientific American is indispensable to every inventor, as it not only contains illustrated descriptions of nearly all the best inventions as they come out, but contains a number of articles on Official List of the Claims of all the Patents issued from the United States Patent Office during the week previous; thus giving the first of January and July. Specimen copies will be sent gratis to any part of the country.

MUNN & CO., PUBLISHERS,
Dec. 20. 37 Park Row, N. Y.

The New York Tribune.—1863.

THE NEW-YORK TRIBUNE, first issued in 1841, now in its twenty-second year, has obtained both a larger and a more widely diffused circulation than any other newspaper ever published in America. Though it has suffered, in common with other journals, from the volunteering and departure of tens of thousands of its patrons to serve in the War for the Union, its circulation on this 6th of December, 1862, is as follows:

DAILY	50,125
SEMI-WEEKLY	17,250
WEEKLY	148,000
Aggregate	215,375

Pre-eminently a journal of News and of Literature, THE TRIBUNE has political convictions, which are well characterized by the single word REPUBLICAN. It is Republican in its hearty adhesion to the great truth that "God has made of one blood all nations of men"—Republican in its assertion of the equal and inalienable rights of all men before the Law and in the pursuit of happiness"—Republican in its steadfast, earnest, defiant hostility to every scheme and effort of the Slave Power, from the Annexation of Texas to the great Rebellion, to grasp the empire of the New World and wield the resources of our country for its own aggrandisement—Republican in its antagonism to the aristocrats and despots of the Old World, who fondly hail in the perils and calamities suddenly thrust upon us by their American counterpart the overthrow and ruin of the Model Republic—Republican in its hope and trust, its faith and effort, that this atrocious Rebellion must result in the signal overthrow of its plotters, and the final establishment of equal rights and equal laws throughout the whole extent of our country, wherein Liberty and Union shall indeed be "one and inseparable" henceforth and forever.

THE TRIBUNE devotes attention in calmer times, and to some extent in these, to Education, Temperance, Agriculture, Manufactures, and Commer---the may safer to the spiritual and material progress and well-being of mankind; but for the present its energies and its columns are mainly devoted to the Suppression of the Rebellion and of the War for the Union. Its special correspondents accompany every considerable army and report every important incident of that great struggle with more of vigor and fullness than any contemporary. We believe that nothing less than the complete and decisive triumph of the National arms and in the restoration of Peace and Thrift to our distracted, bleeding country. We believe that nothing less can afford a fuller or more accurate view of the progress and character of this momentous conflict be obtained than through the regular perusal of our daily issues. We therefore ask the co-operation of all friends of the National cause, which we regard and uphold as that of Universal Humanity, to aid us in extending its circulation.

TERMS.—The enormous increase in the price of printing paper and other materials used in printing newspapers, compels us to increase the price of The Tribune. Our new terms are:

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this Stove, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the unsightly ashes of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodeling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable—there is none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been, to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The fine or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of heat not secured, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

NO PARTY—ONE COUNTRY.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though everyism fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address.

The Portsmouth Chronicle is right in regard to the Congressional resolution. It was not the "discaimer of Congressional legislation on slavery in the States," which was passed by the House, nearly unanimously, as the thunders of the first Bull Run battle rung in their ears—but the Crittenden resolutions, disclaiming substantially not only the right to interfere with the institutions of the States, but also all bloodthirstiness and vindictiveness which too many manifest, though breathing in a Christian land. By a mistake, the one was substituted for the other. The resolutions referred to went speedily through both branches at the time indicated, though they had been kept back so long that, before the echoes of the cannon reached the Capitol, it was thought doubtful if they would obtain any hearing.—Boston Courier.

☞ The Portland Temperance Journal learns that measures are now in progress among the active temperance men in that city, tending to the organizing of the temperance strength, that men may be elected to office next spring who will enforce the liquor law. "Past experience teaches us (says the Journal) there is nothing to be hoped for from the Republica puarty."

☞ Capt. Amasa Bartlett, of Orrington, Me., 73 years of age, with his basket on his arms, and skates upon his feet, takes a run of five miles upon the ice to Bangor to do his shopping.

☞ A carefully taken census of the city of Chicago, just completed, shows that the population, during the past two years, has increased 27,768! In 1860 it was 109,262. Now it is 137,030.

WASN'T THERE.—A school teacher, preparing for an exhibition of her school, selected a class of pupils and drilled each one on the questions which she would put to them on examination day. The day came, and so came the young hopefuls—all but one. The pupils took their places, as had been arranged, and all went on glibly until the question came for the absentee, when the teacher asked:

"In whom do you believe?"

"Napoleon Bonaparte."

"You believe in the Holy Catholic Church, do you not?"

"No," said the pupil, amid roars of laughter, "the boy that believes in the church hasn't come to school to-day; he is home sick abed."

Sidney Smith tells of a maid who used to boil the eggs very well by her master's watch, but one day he could not lend it to her because it was under repairs; so she took the time from the kitchen clock, and the eggs came up nearly raw. "Why did you not take three minutes from the clock as you do from the watch, Mary?" "Well, sir, I supposed that would be too much, as the hands on the clock are so much larger."

☞ The number of sea going vessels in the world is about sixty-five thousand, two-thirds of which belong to England and the United States.

We gain strength from conquering strong temptation, just as the Sandwich Islander thinks that the strength and valor of the enemy he kills pass into himself.

A lovely face is the more admired if goodness shines through it, just as the glorious sky is the oftener gazed at because Heaven is there.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 24, 1862.

☞ We are a singular people: we magnify our defeats, undervalue our victories, and blame our leaders in civil and military life, for blunders that they never made, and for disasters for which they are not responsible.

Our repulse at Fredericksburg, and especially the great number of killed and wounded, had such a benumbing effect on the public mind at the moment, that little notice was taken of the Union victory in North Carolina, and still less of a much more important victory in the Southwest.

The destruction of life was great at Fredericksburg, Gen. Burnside setting down the killed at 1152; but the whole round numbers 12,000 or 14,000, or even 17,000 as some people would have it, of killed and wounded, had a dreadful sound. The number, however, was grossly exaggerated.—Gen. Burnside set down the wounded at about 9000,—and says that only 1632 required treatment in the hospitals: the other 7000 and more being so slightly wounded as to remain in camp, and many of them probably to be doing duty.

Then civilians have been blamed, Halleck, Stanton and others have been blamed for interfering with Burnside's plans and operations. One paper now before us, has this item, which is now known to be a lie, made out of whole cloth:

"It is currently reported that, after the delay of our army at Falmouth, a council of war was held, and all the corps commanders opposed an advance; but Burnside said, in conclusion, that he was compelled to advance by orders from Washington."

But Burnside's own official report to Gen. Halleck scatters all this chaff to the winds,—for he says expressly that he acted on his own discretion, and holds himself responsible.

Another story was, that the reason why the river was not crossed sooner, was because Gen. Halleck forgot to order the pontoon bridges in season. Burnside's report demolishes this story, by saying that he made the movement earlier than the President, Stanton and Halleck had expected, tho' they told him not to be in haste: and he adds that he made it earlier, because he got his supplies from the staff departments, earlier than was expected.

☞ It is a curious fact in the history of parties and elections, that Mr. Seward was not nominated by the Republican party for the presidency, because he was known as an abolitionist, or supposed to be such; but Mr. Lincoln, being supposed to be more moderate or conservative in his views, was nominated, and elected.

Now, when a movement has been made by Republican Senators, to have a reconstruction of the Cabinet, and when Mr. Seward tenders his resignation, the President does not accept it, but induces him to remain; and this latter event is hailed with great joy by the most "conservative" papers, as a check to the emancipation policy of the President.

Another curious fact is that the same conservative papers call for the removal of Stanton and Halleck, who are not Republicans, but well known to belong to the great Democratic party.

ONE OF THE COMPLAINTS AGAINST GEN. BUTLER.—Rev. John Lingham of London wrote a letter to Lord John Russell, in which it was set forth, on the authority of Mr. W. H. Haynes of Liverpool, that Mr. John G. Lingham of New Orleans, brother of the reverend gentleman, being in fear of a civil outbreak, attempted to send his family plate to Europe on the Prussian ship Essex, but that Gen. Butler, learning of the attempt, seized it, and, on a pretense of Mr. Lingham's disloyalty, sent him to Fort Pickens for three years. The letter was communicated by Earl Russell to Mr. Seward, who sent it to Gen. Butler for explanation. The result was an affidavit from Mr. Lingham of New Orleans, stating that he never heard of the matter until Gen. Butler called his attention to it; that his plate was and always had been under his own control, and he never attempted to send any of it away. He had sent a portion of it to the bank for safety and took it away again when he chose. It appears, however, that Mr. Lingham did get into trouble about another matter which is thus stated by a newspaper correspondent:—

"About three or four months ago Mr. P. N. Wood, President of the Merchants' Bank of New Orleans, ran off, carrying with him a large amount of the securities of the bank. To compensate for this loss the directors issued one hundred and thirty-seven thousand dollars of their notes—a fraudulent transaction, without any actual basis—and Mr. Mount opened a broker's shop for the sale of this false circulation. Upon learning the circumstances, Gen. Butler, had Mr. Mount and three of the directors, including Mr. Lingham, arrested, and sentenced them to Fort Pickens, until they should make good the notes that they had foisted on the public. Mr. Lingham was confined over night in a comfortable room of the Custom House and the next day was released on a friend's becoming surety."

THE REBELLION.

A Nashville dispatch says that 20 rebels in U. S. overcoats undertook to surprise Col. Stanley's escort of cavalry of 12 men. Stanley's men severely wounded the rebel commander, killed two or three, and chased the enemy home. On Sunday afternoon Stanley's brigade was attacked while foraging; the enemy were again repulsed, with some loss. The remainder of the skirmishish last week was in our favor.

Gen. Sherman's division, it is reported, embarked on transports at Memphis on Saturday. Their destination is either Vicksburg or a flank movement on the rebels at Grenada, in which vicinity they have concentrated a large force.

It is reported that Floyd and Humphrey Marshall are moving on Lexington, Ky.

The steamship Mississippi, with troops for Gen. Banks, sailed from New York on Monday.

Two squadrons of the Banks Expedition are reported to have passed Key West—one of six steamers on the 9th inst., and the other of seven steamers on the 10th, all loaded with troops.

While Gen. Lee, in his report of the battle of Fredericksburg, places the rebel loss at 1800 killed and wounded, the same papers containing it say that up to Monday 2500 Confederate wounded had arrived in Richmond, and mention many more at the Fredericksburg depot, drenched with rain and unprovided for.

It has been ascertained that there are no rebel cavalry in the rear of Gen. Burnside's army.

Gen. Burnside, in a supplementary report, corrects the first one made, and states that the whole number of our wounded at Fredericksburg was between 6000 and 7000 of whom about one-half are in hospital.

The Southern papers still give accounts of reinforcements sent to the rebels at Goldsboro', N. C. The Richmond Examiner says they now have about 17,000 men, and it is reported that Gen. Lee telegraphed that he could spare, if necessary, 30,000 men. The same accounts say that the railroad south of Goldsboro' has been torn up for some distance by Gen. Foster's forces, and all communication with Wilmington cut off. It was rumored in Richmond that on the 19th Federal reinforcements passed Kinston, on the south side of the Neuse river, our troops then being encamped near Whitehall.

A Washington dispatch to the Traveller says there was much joy at the War Department, on Tuesday morning, over the news from North Carolina, Mr. Stanton saying that it was one of the finest things of the war. Whether this refers to the Kinston victory, or later news, does not clearly appear.

☞ A Washington dispatch says: "The President has acknowledged the reception of the resignation of the Secretary of State, Mr. Seward, and the Secretary of the Treasury, Mr. Chase, and has informed them both that after due deliberation he has come to the conclusion that the acceptance of their resignations would be incompatible with the public welfare. The President has, therefore, requested both Mr. Seward and Mr. Chase to resume their respective functions as Secretary of State and Secretary of the Treasury. The two Secretaries have accordingly resumed their places as heads of their respective departments."

CONGRESS.

MONDAY.—The Senate passed a resolution of inquiry in regard to the chartering of the transports of Gen. Banks' expedition. A resolution was adopted, instructing the Naval Committee to inquire into the expediency of abolishing the marine corps as a naval organization and attaching it to the army as the 20th regiment of infantry. A resolution offered by Mr. Hale, was adopted, asking the Secretary of the Navy under what law the number of captains on the active list is increased beyond the number authorized by the law of July 16, 1862, and under what law 91 commanders appear in the active list in the naval register, when the law limits the number to 72.

In the House, a joint resolution was passed, declaring it to be the opinion of Congress that the Sec. of the Treasury should take immediate steps for the payment of the same due soldiers and sailors, preference to be given to such class of creditors over all others, whether judicial, legislative or executive. The bill to supply the deficiencies for the year ending June next, was passed.

☞ Gen. Fremont has gone to St. Louis. Gen. Burnside has returned to the army.—Gen. Wool's farewell address was read to the troops at Baltimore on Sunday. It is characterized as "short, soldierlike, complimentary and encouraging."

☞ The Boston & Maine Railroad Co., has declared a semi-annual dividend of 4 per cent. free of the government tax, payable January 1 to holders of stock on the 20th inst.

The Eastern railroad has declared a dividend of 3 per cent., payable January 1, to holders Dec. 22.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Exeter News Letter states that the office of Attorney General of this State has been held in the Sullivan family for 50 years. Hon. John Sullivan of Durham, afterwards chief magistrate of the State, was Attorney General from 1782 to 1786, 4 yrs. His son, the late Hon. George Sullivan of Exeter, who died in 1838, was appointed to the office in 1805 and retired in 1807; was again appointed in 1815 and continued till 1835. In all he had the office 22 years: Hon. John Sullivan, his son, who died in Exeter a few weeks ago, was appointed to the office in 1848, and held it to his decease, 14 years.

—— The Congregational Parish in Newmarket have invited Rev. Mr. Miles of Stratham, to become their pastor.

—— Lieut. Col. Langley, of the 5th N. H. Regiment, has resigned his position on account of continued illness.

—— It is now thought that Maj. E. E. Sturtevant, of Concord, of the 5th N. H. Regiment, reported killed at Fredericksburg, is still alive, being only wounded.

—— Nathaniel Lowe, Esq., has recently been appointed Postmaster at Dover.

—— A Port Royal letter to the Manchester Mirror states that "the Medical Director of the Department of the South, has decided that Northern troops should stay in a Southern climate but one summer. Should the war continue another season, the 3d, 4th and 7th N. H. Regiments will be sent to Virginia, as the head of the medical department has everything his own way, in cases like this."

——The citizens of Atkinson have acted wisely in regard to their winter schools this season. The old and once famous Academy there, though partially endowed, and furnished with a teacher or teachers, had had but few scholars for some time, till recently, when the people made arrangements to send all such boys and girls as ought to be in a High School, to the Academy, the town or districts to contribute a fair sum of the usual school money, to the pay of the preceptor. All parties are benefitted by the arrangement: the private scholars from other towns have a lively large school to move their mental powers and social feelings: the teacher gets more pay: and the Atkinson town scholars get all the advantages of the Academy, tuition and apparatus.

☞ The iron-clad gunboat Passaic, which has been at the Washington Navy Yard undergoing the repairs of damages which she sustained in the late gale while making a trip to Fortress Monroe, is now completed and bound for some destination unknown.

☞ The U. S. Senate on Tuesday agreed, 26 to 13, to the House resolution to adjourn on that day, until the first Monday in January.

☞ Hon. James A. Pearce, U. S. Senator from Maryland, died at Charlestown on Saturday, aged 56.

☞ The steam frigate Minnesota, now being fitted for sea at Charlestown Navy Yard, will have a complement of 11-inch guns, with pivot Parrots of immensely heavy calibre.

☞ The "What is it," at the Brooklyn Navy Yard, is nearly ready for launching.

"Trust" is a good motto for a Christain; "trust not" is a good one for "any other man."

☞ When George W. Curtis was lecturing before the Young Men's Institute, at Hartford, Friday evening, he spoke with saddened emphasis of "the war that is drawing down to dusky death, our young, our brave, our beautiful." It now appears that his own brother was killed the next day at Fredericksburg, not 12 hours after the mornful words fell from the lips of the eloquent theorist.

☞ The appearance of the Union gunboats at the Bahamas (Abaco) has raised a great excitement among the British officials. Bermuda is also in a twitter about Admiral Wilkes's movements. We do not hear that the presence of Confederate pirates or blockade-runners is at all disagreeable.

Rubber Band Carpet Sweeper.

TRY IT! TRY IT!!

It saves Money; it saves Carpets; it saves Furniture; it saves Labor; it is cheaper than Brooms at five cents apiece.

It gathers up all dust, dirt, and loose lint on the carpets, and raises no dust to settle on the furniture, drapery, or ornaments, or to smother, stifle and irritate the lungs.

It does not wear the carpets half so much as brooms or any other sweeper.

It is the only mechanical sweeper made, and the only article fit to sweep a carpet.

With our late improvements it gives universal satisfaction to all who use it according to directions. For sale at No. 12 Market Street by

CHRISTMAS EVE SERVICES.—Services will be held at the Stone Church on Wednesday, Christmas eve, at 7 1 4 o'clock.

There will also be services at the Universalist church, this evening, at 7 o'clock.

THE LATE CAPT. MURRAY.—Colonel Cross, of the 5th N. H. Regiment, has written the following sympathizing and highly complimentary letter in relation to the services and death of Capt. Murray, which we are permitted by the gentleman to whose care it came here, to publish:—

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.

MRS. JOHN MURRAY, Dear Madame:—I avail myself of the first opportunity since the battle of Fredericksburg—allowed by my wounds,—to address you a few lines in relation to your lamented husband, Capt. John Murray, who was one of the bravest and most faithful officers in the army.—Certainly he had no superior in my regiment. Captain Murray was one of my best friends. I loved him for his sterling honesty, his frankness, and the dependence which could always be placed in him; for his brave and soldierly character.

He fell in the front rank of battle—killed instantly—probably suffering no pain.—Accept, Madame, for yourself and children, my kindest sympathy, and if ever I can be of service to the family of my beloved comrade, do not fail to call on me.

I am, Madame, with much respect, your ob't serv't, EDMUND E. CROSS,
Col. 5th N. H. Regt.

☞ The funeral of Capt. Murray, who fell at Fredericksburg, was attended at New Castle last Sunday afternoon, when the military honors were paid by the Home Guards of this city. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Messrs. Alden, Waterhouse and Swett. The Island was truly in mourning for a citizen, officer, and soldier.

Rev. Mr. Alden, of Newcastle, read a brief record of the chief incidents of Capt. Murray's life, showing his bravery in Mexico, &c.; and Rev. Mr. Waterhouse of this city, paid a heartfelt and eloquent tribute to his memory. The Newcastle Light Guard, formerly commanded by Capt. Murray, was mustered under Capt. Davidson of Fort Constitution, and fired three vollies over the grave of their officer, whose loss they so sincerely mourn. A very large concourse of people from this city, and all the citizens of Newcastle, attended the services, despite the severity of the weather.

☞ On Monday evening, as the workmen were returning from the Portsmouth Navy Yard, one of the boats, containing about a dozen passengers, in crossing the river, ran against a piece of ice, inside the beacon,—the surface of that portion of the river being pretty well covered with floating ice. The shock knocked a hole through her bow, and all efforts to keep her afloat by means of bailing proving ineffectual, she run for Oyster Island. Unfortunately the boat sank at last; yet as it was within but a few feet of the shore, the workmen escaped in safety to terra firma, by wading ashore, thus being subjected to a bath which was as cold as it was involuntary.

☞ Doubtless, one of the best Balls of the season here, will be that announced by Laconia Engine Company, at Irving Hall to night. The advertisement shows the affair to be in good hands, and that arrangements are made for a fine time—and with the details in charge of the Twos, there need be no question of its success.

LECTURE AT THE TEMPLE.—Dr. Gleason will lecture this evening at half-past 7 o'clock, on Nutrition, Animal Heat, &c., the causes and cure of cold hands and feet, the influence of diet on health, strength and long life,—splendidly illustrated with an apparatus costing $10,000 in Paris.—No subject can be more important.

☞ A little son of Mr. Hall B. Rand broke through the ice on the North Mill pond on Tuesday afternoon, and was in the water about twenty minutes; and all possible efforts were made to save him, and when recovered from the water, to resuscitate him: but they all were unavailing. He was about seven years of age.

☞ Good Poultry was plenty in our market, on Tuesday, for Christmas. Geese were held almost as high as turkies—the latter ranging from 13 to 17 cts. per lb.—Messrs. J. Holmes & Son hung a very handsome year-old turkey at the door of their provision store, which weighed 22 lbs.

☞ Not very "hard times at the Chronicle Office," yet, Br. Whittem, although we do occasionally print our paper "on the back of a stove bill." We yesterday received the balance of one contract from Mr. Martin of Manchester—something more than a ton of paper, which was bought at 11 or 12 cents— now worth nearly double. So we shall try to "stand it" till Spring, with Br. W.'s permission and his kind watch over us.

☞ The Portsmouth City Printing for the ensuing year, was on Monday evening awarded by lot, to the publisher of the Chronicle.

☞ The Ladies' Sale, at Court street Chapel, continues this afternoon, Wednesday,—admittance free.

☞ The official list of the killed and wounded of the 10th regiment, gives the following as the names of those wounded in Co. G, Capt. George W. Towle, principally recruited in this city: Michael Gilligan, J. Hoyt, C. W. Lolly, the latter being now at Stanton Hospital, Washington.

The official list of the loss of the 13th regiment, gives the following as the wounded in Capt. Betton's Company, "K"—Henry Hunefelt, finger; John F. Welch, left on the field, scoseless. There were none killed in either of these companies.

Reuben H. Ricker, of this city, Co. H, 6th regiment, wounded, is at the College Hospital, Georgetown, D. C.

G. W. Kimball, of the 5th regiment, wounded, is at the Emory Hospital, Washington.

CHRISTMAS TIDE.

The northern gust may howl,
The rolling storm-cloud scowl,
King Frost may make a slave
Of the rivers' rapid wave;
The snow-drift choke the path,
Or the hail-shower spend its wrath,
But the sternest blast right bravely is defied,
While limbs and spirits bound
To the merry minstrel sound,
And social wood-fires blaze at Christmas tide.

But while joy's echo falls
In gay and plenteous halls,
Let the poor and lowly share
The warmth, the sports, the fare;
For the one of humble lot,
Must not shiver in his cot, [pride.
But claim a bounteous meed from wealth and Shed kindly blessings round,
Fill no aching heart be found,
And then all hail to merry Christmas-tide!

—Elkin Cook.

MARY.

How blest was She, whose throbbing bosom bore
The lovely Babe, whom millions now adore!
How sweet to carry in her willing arms
The Sinless Child, adorned with all the charms
That human beauty, purity divine,
Could in the fairest, brightest form combine!
How blest the pillow where His cheek
Did oft in little dimpled slumbers seek!
And this was Mary's lot, her priceless dower,— O'ershadowed by the spirit's holy power,
She gave the world the purest, noblest One,
Of Hope the Star, and Righteousness the Sun.

—Orville G. Wheeler.

CHRISTMAS.

No wonder Christmas lives so long,
He never knew but merry hours,
His nights were spent with mirth and song,
In happy homes and princely bowers;
Was greeted both by Serf and Lord,
And seated at the festal board:
While every voice cried "welcome here,"
Old Christmas comes but once a year.

—Thomas Miller.

Reader, do you wish to know where to find a splendid assortment of goods from which to select your Gifts for the coming HOLIDAYS? If you do—and who does not?—please take my arm for a walk down Congress Street. Here we are at

NO. 1 CONGRESS BLOCK,

JAMES F. SHORES, JR.

The window is adorned with Fine Engravings, as a specimen of what may be found in the Picture Drawer; one of these, well framed by Mr. Barton, will be just the thing for some friend's parlor. Let us enter the store—on the left we find a table with BACKGAMMON & CHESS BOARDS, BATTLEDORES & SHUTTLECOCKS, and FANCY BASKETS.

Then the Half-Price Table well filled with PARIAN WARE, &c., which will be sold at ONE-HALF THE MARKET PRICE. Next are the High Colored PICTURE BOOKS and Cloth PICTURE BOOKS. Then the long case full of TOYS, samples of which are exhibited on the Table in the back of the store. Look at them—don't you wish you were a little child again that you might have a good time playing with a box of those Nice Pins, or Soldiers, or China Tea Sets, or Wooden Tea Sets, or Villages, or Noah's Arks, or Magnetic Toys, or those beautiful China or Biscuit Dolls, or, or—but we have not time to enumerate all.

Let us turn to the other side of the store. Next to the Toy Table comes the Table of Games, on which you see are

DOMINOES, SOLITAIRE,

And now, my friend, do you think you have seen enough? "Yes sir, I guess I have, and rather too much, for with such a variety before me I am at a loss what to select." ANOTHER NEW STOVE!

THE MODEL COOK

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster or by the removal of a simple plate, in connection with the larger oven, for baking; giving an oven nearly 3 feet long! or large enough to take six large pieces on the bottom—every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! A check draft is applied to this stove by means of which the consumption of fuel is greatly lessened, and a steady fire can be kept day and night if desired.

THE MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be the STOVE for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is needed.

We believe the MODEL COOK to be the very best Stove in the Market, and invite every one to examine it whether they wish to purchase or not. It has had a very extensive sale since its introduction. Reference might be made to more than a hundred families in this city or vicinity who are using the Stove, and give it the highest commendation.

We refer to the following individuals who have purchased the Model Cook:—

David Kimball, Thos. F. Burt, John T. French, Rev. Mr. Davies, Wm. Pettigrew, Capt. John Davis, Jeremiah Raitt, Mrs. Ann T. Perkins, James W. Jarvis, Francis C. Jarvis, Thos. L. Tullock, Jacob Wendell, Capt. Jacob Thompson, Geo. F. G. Hadley, R. Melvin Hunitress, Jos. D. Akerman, James F. Shores, Wm. C. Newton, Horton D. Walker, Benj. Cheever, John Trundy, Richard L. Randall, Geo. Rice, Benj. F. Cotney, Benj M. Parker, Charles A. Wiggin, George W. Plumer, Nath'l Dennett, Henry E. Gerrish, John Harratt, Thos Murphy, Capt. Wm. Lambert, Joseph Sohen, John Senter, Wm. Bell, Cyrus Plumer, Freeman Hurd, James M. Locke, Daniel L. Randall, Isaiah Wilson, John E. Roberts—of Portsmouth; Samuel C. Dixon, Daniel I. Pryor, Cushman Pryor, of Trefethen's Island; Geo. N. Dixon, Samuel F. Paul, Elias Kemick, Timothy Dame, Eliot; Wm. S. Locke, Benj. Fernald, Mrs. Wm. Locke, Kittery; R. F. Gerrish, Kittery Point; Hon. Clement March, Albert Blaisdell, Stephen M. Weeks, Geo. W. Davis, Greenland; John Smart, Stratham; Mrs. Reuben P. Jenness, David Jenness, Moses Philbrick, Rye.

VICTOR COAL STOVE.

We offer this beautiful coal burner to the public, with full confidence in its merits.

It was brought into market two years since, and has come rapidly into use.

The Victor is one of the handsomest parlor stoves in the market, and is perfect in its operation. The arrangements for dumping the ashes is very fine—no dust need escape into the room—a continuous fire may be kept throughout the winter—the coal all burned, and no clinkers made. The quantity of fuel used is very small indeed. There is in this stove an excellent arrangement for ventilating the room in which it is placed; a feature not possessed by any other parlor stove.

Some of the sizes are provided with an oven and boiling place, making them very desirable for a dining room stove.

We sold a large number of Victor Stoves in our city last season, and they receive the highest commendation from those who are using them.

We have also the celebrated McGregor Stove, so well known in the market as to need no commendation.

A great variety of cheaper Stoves for coal and wood—Coal-hods—Patent Coal-sifters.

COAL LININGS,

and Repairing pieces for most of the stoves in use. Job Work attended to with dispatch.

Morning Chronicle.

PROSPECTS OF THE SHOE TRADE.—The Shoe and Leather Reporter contains an article showing that "never, in the recollection of the oldest inhabitant, has such an entire revolution been witnessed in the shoe and leather trade as within the past six months. The sales are only limited by the capacity of the manufacturing establishments, and for the first time for a series of years, orders are daily sent back, owing to the impossibility of filling them. As journeymen cannot be had, all kinds of machinery, especially for pegging and sole-sewing, are sought after and very extensively used.

☞ The Rev. Dr. Putnam of Roxbury, Mass., who has been remarkable for his "conservative" views upon the slavery question, preached an able sermon last Thanksgiving, in which he takes ground in favor of the President's Emancipation Proclamation. In the course of the sermon occurs the following reference to his own position, which indicates a change of views:—

"Throughout the war, thus far, in all my numerous discourses on the subject, I have never before mentioned slavery. Many will say that my silence has been my shame. But I have not regarded slavery hitherto as the immediate and rightful issue presented, and I have been unwilling to assist in hurrying it on; for when it should come, if come it must, it would come fraught, I knew not with how much horror and blood. But it has come of itself now, without any hurrying but that of military necessity, and since it has come I must recognize it. Nobody can avert or postpone it by shutting his eyes or holding his tongue.

"I have never been an abolitionist, in the usual sense of that term. The people of this country, and of the loyal parts of it, have not been abolitionists in the mass. But if now the Almighty Providence itself has become manifestly and actively abolitionist, we shall have to follow its leadings and fall in with its purposes, whether we intend it or not, and whether we like it or not. Events are stronger than our prejudices or our wishes. God will not be crossed nor defeated."

THE MAGEE

COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room; and the shovefuls of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is, that the combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off into the flue, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the best in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the stove can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the best generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace is furnished with one large number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 25, 1862.

CHRISTMAS.

CHRISTMAS is kept as the anniversary of the birth of Jesus, a Saviour, who is Christ the Lord—the Prince of Peace. We keep the feast this year, in the midst of wars and fightings, so dreadful that some might fear the world was going backward as to peace. But it is not so. Jesus himself said, (Matthew X.) when sending out his disciples, "I came not to send peace, but a sword." The context shows plainly what he meant by it, viz. that his disciples, like himself, would preach such impartial and universal "good will to men," as could not fail to offend the narrow Jew who despised the Gentile, and the haughty Pharisee and Ruler who looked with scorn on "publicans and sinners."—Here was the conflict of ideas; when Jesus went into the synagogue at Nazareth, the people were delighted to hear him promise "to preach the gospel to the poor—deliverance to the captives, and recovery of sight to the blind," and to set at liberty them that are bruised: for the Nazarenes were poor, despised, and oppressed. But when he intimated that the same blessings belonged to the despised Gentile race, they were all full of wrath, raised a mob, and tried to kill him. A similar conflict went on; and though Jesus and his Apostles doubtless preached peace and good will as faithfully as any preachers do now, yet it is a remarkable fact that Jesus was crucified, and nearly all the apostles were slain, by the sword which their faithful preaching had sharpened.

Their good will was so broad and impartial, and preached so plainly, that lordly selfishness was indignant, and rebelled. So it has been in every age; truth and right advance; falsehood and wrong oppose and fight. So it must be, till the Kingdoms of this World become the KINGDOM OF OUR LORD AND OF HIS CHRIST. LET "THY KINGDOM COME!"

UNDER THE HOLLY BOUGH.

Ye who have scorned each other,
Or injured friend or brother,
In this fast fading year;
Ye who, by word or deed,
Have made a kind heart bleed,
Come gather here.

Let sinned against, and sinning,
Forget their strife's beginning,
And join in friendship now;
Be links no longer broken,
Be sweet forgiveness spoken,
Under the Holly Bough.

—Charles Mackay.

THE CHRISTMAS GATHERING.

Will they not come?
Will merry Christmas bring
No festive gathering,—
The priceless charities of health and home?
The star-lit sky how clear!
The air seems filled with tears—'tis cold;—
Methinks it was not so of old.
Trim, trim the fire,
Tune harp and lyre:
Be manful, O, my soul, restrain the tear!

Are they all here?
Come, let us gather round
Our hearth-stone, holly ground,
With spirit gems inwrought. Are they all here?
Come dearest, let us call
The loved ones of our household, where
We oft with them have offered prayer,
And always praise,
To Him whose ways
Are fathomless, yet merciful to all.

Our old hearth stone!
Ah! there are tear-drops there,
And furrowed brows of care,
And caps of Littertee. The shadowy one
Coming with stealthy tread
Has from his Ebon wings in wrath
Shed wasting mildew on our path:
And offers me
In sympathy
The hearth-stone memories only of the dead.

—Edward R. Campbell

☞ With our issue for to-day, closes the tenth year of the Weekly Chronicle, and the advance subscription of many of its readers, who have been with us from the start. We shall be especially pleased to renew our contracts with all such, and to add to our list such new names as are constantly coming to us. The enormous increase of the price of paper, obliges us to add "a quarter" to our advance rates, tho this is not more than half the real increase which is charged to us, and the paper is very cheap now at $1.25.

"Agents" will notice that we furnish 6 copies for $6, which is certainly a good commission, and as much as we can afford in these times.

By the way, the Daily and Weekly Chronicle haven't "eaten each other up," yet, have they, Br. W.? A Merry Christmas to you, and to all our friends and readers, especially those (and they are not a few) who have paid in advance to 1864.

☞ The new U. S. steamer Sassacus was handsomely launched from her ways in one of the ship houses at Portsmouth Navy Yard, on Tuesday, about 1 o'clock. Whatever may be the pronounciation of her name,—Sas-sa-cus, from that of an Indian chief—the was saucy, (or "saucy") enough to go off without letting the public know particularly about it. We hope she'll get in among the rebels, the same way.

☞ The U. S. House of Representatives on Tuesday passed a bill authorizing the Postmaster General to establish a postal money order system. It proposes to charge 5 cents for $10, 10 cents on more than $10 or less than $20, and 5 cents on all additional sums of $10 or less. Duplicates to be issued when orders are lost.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— It is not nearly time for the Manchester authorities to obtain some other place, in which to confine women charged with crime? "The room above the City Marshal's office,"—in the third story—is used for the purpose, and in it was placed, on Monday evening, Mrs. Margaret Conner, an Irish woman about 35 years of age, arrested for stealing a muff from a store. She converted her shawl into a cord and commenced letting herself down from the window. The rope parted and she fell to the pavement, a distance of twenty feet, striking upon her head. She was taken up and cared for, but did not return to consciousness, and expired about half-past 10 o'clock. This is the fourth one who has escaped or attempted to escape from this same place.

—— Capt. C. C. Andrews, 3d Minnesota regiment, a native of this State, has been promoted to the rank of Lieut. Colonel, upon the unanimous recommendation of the officers of the regiment.

—— Col. Cross of the 5th Regiment received five wounds in the battle of Fredericksburg—in the breast, head, hand and leg. His wounds are severe, but not dangerous. The 5th lost 186 men, killed, wounded and missing, 19 of whom were killed, and now has but 83 men fit for duty. Of its nineteen officers, four were killed and twelve wounded, leaving but three fit for duty.

—— S. D. Farnsworth, editor of the Manchester American, has been appointed a Paymaster in the U. S. Army.

THE RECENT DISASTER.—The report of the Committee on the conduct of the war, of the result of their investigation of the Fredericksburg disaster, is published. The report is very lengthy, and includes the sworn statements of Gens. Burnside, Sumner, Franklin, Hooker, Woodbury, Haupt, Halleck and Meigs. Gen. Burnside explains at length his plan of attack, and reiterates the expression of his confidence in Gen. McClellan, saying that on two occasions, previous to the Maryland campaign, he expressed to the President the opinion that he did not think there was any one who could do as much with that army as Gen. McClellan could, if matters would be so arranged as to remove the objections to him. He says, in reference to the order relieving Gen. McClellan and placing himself in command:—

After getting over my surprise, I told Gen. Buckingham that it was a matter that required very serious thought, that I did not want the command, that it had been offered to me twice before, and that I did not feel that I could take it. I counselled with two of my staff officers in regard to it, for, I should think, an hour and a half.—They urged upon me that I had no right as a soldier to disobey the order, and that I had already expressed to the Government my unwillingness to take the command. I told them what my views were with reference to my ability to exercise such a command—which views were those I had always unreservedly expressed—that I was not competent to command such a large army as this. I had said the same over and over again to the President and Secretary of War, and also that if matters would be satisfactorily arranged with Gen. McClellan, I thought he could command the army of the Potomac better than any other General in it; but they had studied the subject more than I had, and knew more about their obligations to Gen. McClellan than I did. After I had conversed with my staff officers, I went to see Gen. McClellan myself, and he agreed with us that this was an order which I, as a soldier, had to obey. He said that he could not retain the command, for he, as a soldier, would have to obey the order directing him to give up that command in the midst of a violent snow storm, with the army in a position that I knew but little of. I had previously commanded but one corps upon the extreme right, and had been upon the extreme right and in the advance since that campaign had begun. I probably knew less than any other corps commander of the positions and relative strength of the several corps of the army. Gen. McClellan remained two or three days to arrange his affairs, and came with me as far as Washington, and then left, having given me all the information he could in reference to the army.

The responsibility for the disasters, all the Generals examined—place upon the official, through whose failure in the performance of duty, the pontoon bridges were not supplied as promptly as they should have been. Who this official was does not clearly appear. Gen. Franklin,—and his testimony may be taken as a sample of all the rest— said:—

I would like to impress as firmly upon the Committee as it is impressed upon my mind, the fact that this whole disaster has resulted from the delay in the arrival of the pontoon bridges. Whoever is responsible for that delay is responsible for all the disasters which followed. We were rather astonished when we came down here to find that Gen. Sumner had been here for some days and had not received the pontoon bridges. I think that is the main cause for this disaster.

☞ Prof. Gleason will continue his admirable lecture this evening on the "Circulation of the Blood," splendidly illustrated by a large and costly apparatus. If you would enjoy a rare treat, go and hear him.

☞ The President has directed that the 39 Sioux Indians condemned to death shall be hung on Friday, Dec. 26th.

Communication.

NOTES ON NEW ORLEANS.

BY UNCLE TOBY.

Though Uncle Toby was never in New Orleans, he is inclined to offer some notes and comments on the present state of affairs there, as described by "Smith," who has been there, and whose correspondence appeared in the Chronicle of Tuesday.

While exhibiting the bitterness of the rebel spirit, and a leaning strongly towards the wrong side, the correspondence reveals a great deal of truth, damaging to the rebels, and to the great cause of the rebellion.

It is a politicians' war, and he is sick of it on both sides. Yes: all wars are the work of politicians,—and military rule and martial law are never republican or democratic, but always necessarily despotic: they cannot be otherwise. Though disgust is spoken of on both sides, only one side gets much blame, viz. the Yankees, led by Butler and Dow.

That the great Headsick Champagne man, a foreign aid of the rebels, should tell bad stories of Neal Dow, is no wonder, and that a "rum omelette" party should believe them, is very natural, though they might be great lies, as probably they were.

That the rum-merchants should object to Butler's order is quite natural,—and so it is that the aged Creole, when drunk, should wish to hang him, and get into the lockup and Fort Jackson. As to the officers of the U. S. army getting no rum in the coffee-houses or elsewhere,—it would be a great blessing if Gen. Butler could carry it out strictly.

There need be no doubt that Gens. Butler and Dow rule with a sceptre somewhat like a rod of iron: indeed it seems impossible in any other way to rule such a set of rebels, semi-rebels, rowdies, blockade runners, and refugees from all nations.

For such a work, both are well fitted, arduous as it is. They have both seen active service in widely different fields, and both took the responsibility! Dow had his training in tanning hides and executing an unpopular law. Butler had his training in the criminal Courts, as counsel for rogues; in the Democratic party, as a manager and wire-puller; in the Charleston convention where the war begun,—and at Baltimore and vicinity after the rebel outbreak there.

If the one should tan the hides of a few rebels, or even shoot one now and then, it would be just like him;—and if the other should beat the rogues and cheats of New Orleans with their own weapons, it is only what we might expect.

And lastly, but not least, "The Glory of New Orleans has departed."

True and good, says Uncle Toby. "Alleluia; Salvation, and glory, and honor, and power unto the Lord our God: for true and righteous are his judgments."—Never could there be a more exact and righteous retribution.

New Orleans, as all may know, but as all do not know, is by far the largest Southern seaport, more populous indeed than all the other late rebel ports together, containing in 1860, 168,823 people, of whom 13,380 were slaves.

It was also the great commercial city of the Southwest, trading with almost all nations, and buying and selling vast quantities of all kinds of merchandise, for the country above, and the world outside.

It was moreover the grand slave mart of the South, as Alexandria and Washington used to be of the slave raising States, and the trade in slaves, by auction and otherwise, was a very great item of business, and brought "large gains to the craftsmen."—But now "the glory has departed,"—and this traffic has ceased.

How exactly is all this a copy of the 18th chapter of Revelation, where the merchants of the earth mourn the fall of Babylon the great, which has "become a cage of every unclean and hateful bird,"—because there no man buyeth "their merchandise of gold and silk, sheep and horses, and slaves, and souls of men." Those who would see a poetical and prophetic picture of a city ruined by rebellion against the laws of God and man, would do well to read the 18th and 19th chapters of Revelation, and apply them at their own discretion. U. T.

☞ George Francis Train has been electrifying the Buffalonians, and the Republic newspaper gives him and his lecture a glowing account of nearly a column. His audience was very large, and many tried in vain to get into the hall—and his hearers were very "select" too. The Republic says, "a Buffalo audience is not easily pleased, and the success of Mr. Train is nothing short of a magnificent triumph." Good.

☞ Printers of Daily Papers,—like almost any other men, get only about four "holidays," or days of no work, in a year.—Fast, Fourth of July, Thanksgiving, and of late years Christmas. This is not half enough—and not half so much as the slaves of the South even, have always had, for they keep high carnival during the whole Christmas season of twelve days. We shall be glad when the white workers of the North, shall come to have one holiday per month.

THE REBELLION.

The official report of Gen. Foster is as follows, brief and satisfactory:—

My expedition was a perfect success. I burned the railroad bridge at Goldsboro and Mount Olive, and tore up several miles of the track of the Wilmington and Weldon railroad. We fought four engagements, viz.: at Southwest Creek, Kinston, Whitehall and Goldsboro, and whipped the enemy each time.

A Washington dispatch in the Philadelphia Inquirer says Gen. Foster in an additional dispatch with regard to the capture of Goldsboro,' states that he learns that the rebels are advancing in large force—estimated at 25,000—to drive him from his position. He believes himself strong enough to hold out until reinforcements arrive.

The President has issued an order to the Army of the Potomac, in reference to the battle of Fredericksburgh, in which he says:

Although you were not successful, the attempt was not an error, nor the failure other than an accident. The courage with which you, in an open field, maintained the contest against an entrenched foe, and the consummate skill and success with which you crossed and re crossed the river in the face of the enemy, show that you possess all the qualities of a great army, which will yet give victory to the cause of the country and of Popular Government. Condoling with the mourners for the dead, and sympathizing with the severely wounded, I congratulate you that the number of both is comparatively so small. I tender to you, officers and soldiers, the thanks of the nation.

The rebel force, which made the recent raid in the South West, consisted of a full brigade, with six pieces of artillery. They approached within 7 miles of Columbus, Ky., and commenced their retreat on Monday night. The injury done to the Mobile and Ohio railroad was not so great as anticipated. Several bridges were burned, but the tressle-work throughout is safe. Gen. Davis, commanding at Columbus, is receiving reinforcements, and does not anticipate an attack.

A movement of our troops has taken place from Richmond, Ky., to check Floyd and Marshall. The Richmond Examiner claims that Floyd has already won two battles, taking many prisoners and large supplies—our loss being 200 men.

☞ We learn that Albert H. Hoyt, Esq., of this city, has received an appointment as Paymaster in the United States Army, and will leave in the early part of next week to assume the duties of the position.

AMESBURY, Nov. 26th.

MR. GRACE—Dear Sir:—In lines of gratitude I have to thank you for the benefits I have received from the use of your Salve.—At the time of the engagement at Pensacola between the privateer rebel schooner Judith and the Colorado, Sept. 14th, 1861, I was struck by a bullet, which passed through my leg, striking a comb in my pocket, and without my knowledge at the time, driving a part of the teeth of the comb into the wound. At the time, the wound was supposed to be properly cared for by the surgeon, but it did not heal. It was of so serious a nature that in the opinion of our field surgeon, Dr. G. R. B. Horner, and assistant surgeon, Dr. Kennedy, I should be rendered unfit for service, and I was discharged the 17th of July, 1862. Since my return home my wound has troubled me more or less, until within three weeks, when it inflamed and swelled so as to cause me excruciating pain. For several days I engaged the services of Dr. J. B. Gale, who lanced and probed it, after which I applied your Salve, on the recommendation of my neighbors, and after four days it drew out three teeth of the comb and the inflammation immediately subsided, when the Salve rapidly healed up the wound. The cause of all my pain from this wound was the teeth of the comb remaining in it, and I feel now as if I had received a permanent cure, and I cannot be too thankful for the relief I have received from the use of your Salve. TERRY O'DOWD.

I hereby certify to the truth of the case of Mr. Dowd. J. B. GALE, M. D.

The teeth of the comb drawn out of the wound, can be seen at the Apothecary store of Wm. R. Preston.

CHRISTMAS & NEW YEAR'S GIFTS.

Reader, do you wish to know where to find a splendid assortment of goods from which to select your Gifts for the coming HOLIDAYS? If you do—and who does not?—please take my arm for a walk down Congress Street. Here we are at

NO. 1 CONGRESS BLOCK,

JAMES F. SHORES, JR.

The window is adorned with Fine Engravings, as a specimen of what may be found in the Picture Drawer; one of these, well framed by Mr. Barton, will be just the thing for some friend's parlor. Let us enter the store—on the left we find a table with BACKGAMMON & CHESS BOARDS, BATTLEDORES & SHUTTLECOCKS, and FANCY BASKETS.

Then the Half-Price Table well filled with PARIAN WARE, &c., which will be sold at ONE-HALF THE MARKET PRICE. Next are the High Colored PICTURE BOOKS and Cloth PICTURE BOOKS. Then the long case full of TOYS, samples of which are exhibited on the Table in the back of the store. Look at them—don't you wish you were a little child again that you might have a good time playing with a box of those Nice Pins, or Soldiers, or China Tea Sets, or Wooden Tea Sets, or Villages, or Noah's Arks, or Magnetic Toys, or those beautiful China or Biscuit Dolls, or, or—but we have not time to enumerate all.

Let us turn to the other side of the store. Next to the Toy Table comes the Table of Games, on which you see are

DOMINOES, SOLITAIRE,
NINE PIN GAME,
DISSECTED PICTURES,
UNION GAME,
GAME OF AUTHORS, &c., &c.

Next comes the most valuable table of all—loaded as it is with

WRITING DESKS, WRITING CASES, Ladies' & Gentlemen's DRESSING CASES, Silver Plated CARD RECEIVERS, PARLOR THERMOMETERS, STANDISHES, PORT FOLIOS, NAPKIN RINGS, and the largest stock in the city of

PHOTOGRAPH ALBUMS,

Embracing all the various sizes to hold from 12 to 100 Photographs, and bound in Cambric, Turkey, Morocco and Velvet. Albums will be the most popular article for Presents this season.

Now look at the Counter Case with its

GOLD PENS, GOLD PENCIL CASES,
PHOTOGRAPH ALBUMS,
POCKET BOOKS of various sizes,
PEARL CARD CASES,
PEARL FOLDERS, SCOTCH WOOD FOLDERS, HAIR BRUSHES, SILVER FRUIT KNIVES, SILVER PLATED NAPKIN RINGS, IVORY TABLETS, POCKET KNIVES, &c.

BOOKS, filling that Book-rack and those shelves, and then at the Table of WORK BOXES, of various sizes and quality. Now step inside the counter and examine the FAMILY BIBLES, POCKET BIBLES, BOOK OF COMMON PRAYER, CHURCH SERVICES, &c.

And now, my friend, do you think you have seen enough? "Yes sir, I guess I have, and rather too much, for with such a variety before me I am at a loss what to select." Well, then you had better go home, get your Head settled, your Mind collected, your Purse well filled and tomorrow come back and make your selections.—But one word before we part—don't forget to tell your friends that THE PLACE to buy

ANOTHER NEW STOVE!

THE MODEL COOK

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking; giving an oven nearly 3 feet long! or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! A check draft is applied to this stove by means of which the consumption of fuel is greatly lessened, and a steady fire can be kept day and night if desired.

THE MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be THE STOVE for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is needed.

We believe the MODEL COOK to be the very best Stove in the Market, and invite every one to examine it whether they wish to purchase or not. It has had a very extensive sale since its introduction. Reference might be made to more than a hundred families in this city or vicinity who are using the Stove, and give it the highest commendation.

We refer to the following individuals who have purchased the Model Cook:—

David Kimball, Thos. F. Burt, John T. French, Rev. Mr. Davies, Wm. Pettigrew, Capt. John Davis, Jeremiah Raitt, Mrs. Ann T. Perkins, James W. Lewis, Francis C. Jarvis, Thos. L. Tullock, Jacob Wendell, Capt. Jacob Thompson, Gen. J. G. Hadley, G. Melvin Huntress, Jos. D. Akerman, James F. Shores, Wm. C. Newton, Horton D. Walker, Benj. Cheever, John Trundy, Richard L. Randall, Geo. Rice, Benj. F. Cauney, Benj M. Parker, Charles A. Wiggin, George W. Plumer, Nath'l Dennett, Henry F. Gerrish, John Harratt, Thos Murphy, Capt. Wm. Lambert, Joseph Stiles, John Senter, Wm. Bell, Cyrus Plumer, Freeman Hurd, James M. Locke, Daniel L. Randall, Isaiah Wilson, John E. Roberts—of Portsmouth; Samuel C. Dixon, Daniel I. Tryor, Cochman Pryor, of Tredethen's Island; Geo. N. Dixon, Samuel F. Paul, Elias Remick, Timothy Dame, Eliot; Wm. S. Locke, Benj. Fernald, Mrs. Wm Locke, Kittery; H. F. Gerrish, Kittery Point; Hon. Clement March, Albert Hilsdell, Stephen M. Weeks, Geo. W. Davis, Greenland; John Smart, Stratham; Mrs. Reuben P. Jenness, David Jenness, Moses Philbrick, Rye.

VICTOR COAL STOVE.

We offer this beautiful coal burner to the public, with full confidence in its merits.

It was brought into market two years since, and has come rapidly into use.

The Victor is one of the handsomest parlor stoves in the market, and is perfect in its operation. The arrangement for dumping the ashes is very fine—no dust need escape into the room—a continuous fire may be kept throughout the winter—the coal all burned, and no clinkers made.

The quantity of fuel used is very small indeed. There is in this stove an excellent arrangement for ventilating the room in which it is placed; a feature not possessed by any other parlor stove.

None of the sizes are provided with an oven and boiling place, making them very desirable for a dining room.

We sold a large number of Victor Stoves in our city last season, and they receive the highest commendation from those who are using them.

We have also the celebrated McGregor Stove, so well known in the market as to need no commendation.

A great variety of cheaper Stoves for coal and wood—Coal hods—Patent Coal-sifters.

COAL LININGS,

and Repairing pieces for most of the stoves in use. Job Work attended to with dispatch.

Morning Chronicle.

A HYMN FOR CHRISTMAS MORN.

It is the Christmas time,
And up and down, twixt heaven and earth,
In glorious grief and solemn mirth,
The shining angels climb.

And unto everything
That lives and moves, for heaven, on earth,
With equal share of grief and mirth,
The shining angels sing:—

"Babes new-born, undefiled,
In lowly hut, or mansion wide—
Sleep safely through this Christmas tide
When Jesus was a child.

"O young man, bold and free,
In peopled town, or desert grim,
When ye are tempted like to Him,
The man Christ Jesus see.

Poor mothers, with your ward
Of endless love, and countless pain—
Remember all her grief, her gain,
The mother of the Lord.

Mourners, half blind with woe,
Look up! One standeth in this place,
And by the pity of His face
The Man of Sorrows know.

Wanderers in far countries,
O think of him who came, forgot,
To His own, and they received him not—
Jesus of Galilee.

O all ye who have trod
The wine-press of affliction, lay
Your hearts before His heart this day—
Behold the Christ of God."

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,

BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the Kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

THE MAGEE

COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented. The castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed. Many Stoves are hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former machines, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off; and the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and for sale as low as from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

A star for every State: a State for every star.
NO PARTY—ONE COUNTRY.

'Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every law fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address.

☞ William W. Clark, whose death on board the U. S. ship Constellation at Genoa, Italy, we mentioned a day or two since, was a son of Capt. John Clark of this city, and was better known by his middle name—Wallace. He was about 18 years of age. A letter from Mr. Samuel Tatem, sailmaker on board the Constellation, states that he was killed on the morning of Nov. 23d while in the discharge of his duty.—They were sending up top-gallant masts, and he was standing on the topmast cap, when the top-gallant mast rope parted, and of course the mast run down, bringing all the top-gallant and royal rigging with it, until it was brought up by the cap on which Clark was standing. His death must have been instantaneous. He was buried on shore on the 25th, the captain and other officers, with a portion of the crew, attending the funeral. A subscription was made among the officers and crew,—to which all contributed—to erect a stone to his memory. The letter added that his deportment had been such as to gain for him the respect and good wishes of all on board, and his loss is severely felt.

☞ The case of the ship Wild Ranger, of Boston, which came into collision with a British vessel (the Colloroon) on the high seas, off Sicily, has recently been decided in the English Admiralty Court against the owners of the Boston ship, who are mulcted in the sum of £12,500. It was sought to make the owners liable to the full extent of the damage, amounting to £12,500, and the question raised for the first time—a British vessel claiming against a foreign vessel, and the latter claiming "limited liability," was settled for the first time.

☞ The New York Tribune learns that the interest of Thurlow Weed in the Albany Evening Journal has been purchased by Hon. Henry H. Van Dyck, formerly of the Albany Atlas, who will assume the editorship thereof in a very few days.

☞ The Dusseldorf Gallery of Pictures in New York was sold at auction last week. The pictures sold at pitifully low prices.—The gross proceeds of the sale were only about $20,000.

☞ Parson Brownlow has been appointed a special agent of the Treasury Department, to aid in superintending the trade in the border country of the Southwest.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 27, 1862.

THE GRUMBLERS AT WORK.—The following article from the Boston Herald, a democratic paper, is piquant and true:—

These grumblers bore their friends and acquaintances to death with their miserable twaddle about defeats, about Burnside, about Halleck, about Stanton; and damn everybody who does not think as they do. They see ghosts and hobgoblins in every nook and corner of the Southern Confederacy. They think Stonewall Jackson is the only General in the field. They have no confidence in any General on our side; they say the South cannot be whipped, and wind up by stating that they have no interest in the contest, which is the only truth they utter. They pretend to a superior patriotism and knowledge of men. They are familiar with army movements, and know everything going on. They have taken pains to be thoroughly posted. A friend has told them the whole story.

This friend enlisted as a private, was made a corporal when the company was organized, afterwards promoted to sergeant, and strange to say, all his superior officers being killed in battle, he had command of what there was left of the Company in the masterly retreat from Fair Oaks. This friend was a great favorite with his commanding officers, and was frequently in the presence of the Major Generals at their headquarters, and of course knew what was said and what was going on. This friend had obtained a furlough for brilliant and meritorious services, and was now at home and had told him all the particulars. Therefore what he knows he knows to be a fact, and it is of no use to undertake to tell him anything. Yes, that retreat would never have been made had it not been for the darned Administration. The nasty rebels came down in such force as to compel the army to retreat, and they never would have done so had not the commanding General's plans been interfered with.

Yes, sir; these are stubborn facts, and now where is your army and your Generals? Where are they? Tell me that, if you can. I tell you the South are not to be defeated except by strategy and in masterly retreats, and there is only one man who knows how to do that. Yes sir, these are my opinions,—and the country is gone to the devil. What is the use of sending off Banks on a wild goose chase? Perhaps they think they can do something with Banks, but it is all nonsense to think of such a thing. As for Halleck, he don't know anything. Pope is a lunkhead; Stanton is a knave; the President ain't fit for his position; he cracks too many jokes. Chase is making a judy of himself in his financial policy and should at once resign. Welles don't know enough to enjoy good health. In fact it is no use to go on in this way any longer.

Thus do these grumblers prate. But their souls are too small to be of any account. They are the Tories of our day—they sympathize with the enemy and are unworthy the name of American citizens.—They would sell their country for a mess of pottage or thirty pieces of silver. They are the drones in the bee hive, which have to be supported by the industry of others.—They are a plague and a nuisance. The Lord deliver us from grumblers. They are the pests of society, and unworthy of the serious consideration of any respectable and intelligent man.

☞ The Traveller, in giving a synopsis of the Congressional Committee's report on the battle at Fredericksburg, says:—

Neither the President, the Secretary of War, nor the General in-Chief, dictated his course to Gen. Burnside. As we weigh the evidence, Burnside was right in taking the advice of Hooker and the other Generals not to repeat the attack upon the enemy's lines. Hooker's proposition in November to march 36 miles upon Saxton's station, we think, was properly rejected by Burnside.

The testimony of Generals Halleck and Meigs shows that the despatch ordering the pontoons to be sent to Acquia, was written at Warrenton by Gen. Meigs, and signed by Gen. Halleck. Both say that they are not responsible for the failure of subordinate officers, and Halleck says truly that after giving the proper orders to have them sent on his responsibility ended, and he had no more business with it than with moving the artillery, as with the direction and management of eight hundred thousand troops on his shoulders, he cannot look after details.

Gen. Meigs says the engineer department is not under his control. The engineer brigade at Falmouth, faltering when put under fire in the morning, and taking all day to put up the bridge, is a fault, as Gen. Burnside says their delay allowed Lee to concentrate his forces in front.

The report disproves the ridiculous assertion that at the time he was removed Gen. McClellan was about to move upon the enemy and fight a great battle. He had not then decided whether to move upon the enemy by way of Gordonsville or Fredericksburg, and at the suggestion of Gen. Burnside sent to Washington to have the pontoon bridges sent down to Acquia Creek to be ready in case he should move by way of Fredericksburg.

Gen. Halleck, in his testimony, made the important point that at the time Gen. Burnside moved from Warrenton towards Fredericksburg, the Acquia Creek railroad was not in our military control, therefore the pontoons could not have been sent to Falmouth by way of this railroad.

☞ The Paris correspondent of the Journal du Havre says:—

"An experiment of an electric piano has been tried at the Palace of Compiegne. The inventor, who is a native of Treves, gives to the instrument great power, and the air played was repeated on another piano placed at the other extremity of the palace. He pretends that while playing a tune in Paris, he can have it repeated instantaneously at St. Petersburg, provided the electric wires are intact."

THE REBELLION.

A Washington dispatch states that Gen. Foster arrived there on Wednesday, from North Carolina, and had an interview with the President, Secretary of War and Gen. Halleck, from all of whom he received assurances that all reinforcements he needed should be sent to his department.

A Fortress Monroe letter of the 23d says Gen. Foster's forces, after leaving Kinston, took Goldsboro' without much loss. After tearing up the railroad, burning the ties, and destroying the rails and telegraph so that they cannot again be used, they returned to Newbern, N. C., safely.

A letter from Suffolk, Va., 23d, states that the election for members of Congress took place the day before, agreeably to the proclamation of Gen. Dix. Contrary to the laws of Virginia, the ballots were cast, instead of viva voce. The letter says that it will be a long time before the election returns will come in.

The rebels have been driven out of Charlestown, Va., with a loss on our side of two killed.

Col. Keyes moved from Romney and took possession of Winchester, Va., on Tuesday morning, the rebel pickets departing. Gen. James, with 2500 men, had occupied the place the week previously, but had left, going towards Winchester. The rebels have entirely destroyed the Winchester railroad, and carried away the iron.

A steamer is reported to have arrived at Havana, having a large cargo of clothing, provisions and medicines for the South. A rumor prevailed in Havana on the 17th inst., that Charleston had been captured by the Union forces;—too good to be true, at present.

The President has arrested assessments on disloyalists in Missouri ordered by Gen. Schofield, in view of the recent manifestation by part of the people, of their willingness to adopt the emancipation policy.

The Tribune says that African soldiers will be employed to guard the banks of the Mississippi, garrison the forts below New Orleans and on the coast, and to enforce the proclamation of freedom to their brethren.

☞ Richmond papers contain a dispatch from Charleston, announcing that a very large steamer, freighted for the Confederate States Government, safely arrived on the 18th at a Southern port, bringing a heavy stock of shoes and blankets, an immense quantity of cloth and other supplies.

☞ Gen. Bonham has been unanimously elected Governor of South Carolina, in place of Gen. Maxy Gregg, who was killed in the recent battle of Fredericksburg.

Ex-Gov. Wise is spoken off as a prominent candidate for Governor of Virginia.

☞ The Commissioners of Internal Revenue has decided that slaughtered hogs weighing more than 150 pounds each, shall be estimated by the Assessors as exceeding 6 months old.

☞ Seventy-three additional paymasters have been recently appointed in the army. By direction of President Lincoln twelve other paymasters have been mustered out of service.

☞ It is reported in Washington that Secretary Chase will soon lead to the hymenial altar the accomplished widow of the late Senator Douglas.

☞ Mayor Oydyke of New York has vetoed the ordinance to allow the city to issue "shinplasters."

☞ Twelve sailing vessels and two steamers are now being built in Bath, Me.

CHRIST'S MISSION.

Near two thousand suns
Have set their seals upon the rolling lapse
Of generations, since the day-spring first Beamed from yonder East. Here to the mighty mass
Of that increasing aggregate we add
One until more. Space, in comparison,
How small, yet marked with how much misery;
Wars, famines, and the fury, Pestilence,
Over the nations hanging her dread scourge;
The oppressed too, in silent bitterness,
Weeping their sufferance; and the armed wrong,
Forcing the scanty portion from the weak,
And steeping the lone widow's couch with tears.

So has the land been characterized with woe
In Christian land, and marked with wrongs crimes;
Yet 'twas not thus He taught—not thus He lived,
Whose birth we this day celebrate with prayer
And much thanksgiving—He, a man of woes,
Went on the way appointed, path though rude,
Yet borne with patience still;—He came to cheer
The broken-hearted, to raise up the sick,
And on the wandering and benighted mind,
To pour the light of truth.

Local.

LECTURE ON THE BRAIN.—Dr. Gleason will deliver a lecture on this most interesting and important subject, splendidly illustrated with his unrivalled Anatomical Cabinet, at the Temple this (Saturday) evening, commencing at 7 1-2 o'clock. We are pleased to notice that he draws large audiences of our most intelligent citizens.

CHRISTMAS passed off here very quietly and pleasantly. There were services Wednesday evening, at the Unitarian and Universalist Churches, and on Thursday at the Episcopal and Catholic churches, as is usual,—which were all well attended. Business generally was suspended, and despite the cloud hanging over the nation, the day was one of healthful recreation and much social gathering. Never before, we think, has the season been so universally "observed," especially in the matter of presentations, which is becoming more and more general, year by year.

Severals hundred, mostly youths, of both sexes, engaged in the pastime of skating, though the ice on the mill-ponds was neither smooth nor safe, and one lad at the South End came near being drowned. Approaching too near the edge of the ice, in the lower part of the pond, he broke through, and was being rapidly carried down by the current when his screams called some gentlemen near by to his assistance, and he was rescued.

As for sleighing, that traditional amusement is not to be had, now-a-days, much to the regret of livery men and the young folks, no doubt.

☞ A friend of ours who happened to be at the Portsmouth Navy Yard, on Thursday, and saw the bountiful Christmas dinner which was spread in the Marine barracks for the garrison of about 60 soldiers now there,—says that things were got up in regular home style—plenty of turkeys, mince pies, and the other fixin's. No doubt, these extra rations, and the liberal and kindly spirit which prompted the contractors for the supplies there, to furnish them for a complimentary Christmas present to the corps,—was duly appreciated.—We learn that this has for several years been the custom of the contractors, Messrs. N. F. Mathes and John Stickell of this city, whose courtesy in this matter, no doubt, helped themselves to enjoy a Merry Christmas.

☞ The City Missionary, one of the most useful men among us, has made a fair report of his Mission, which appears in our columns to day, and which we commend to all who did not hear it, as worthy of a careful perusal. It contains a variety of information, interesting to all persons who care for the welfare of our city, as to its industry, morals and financial prosperity.

☞ In the suit Palmer v. city of Portsmouth, tried at the October term, the Court at the recent law term at Dover overruled the exceptions taken at the trial and ordered a judgment upon the verdict for the plaintiff. The case has been in Court for five years, and doubtless a big bill of costs will be added to the amount for which the plaintiff recovered damages.

☞ The side-wheel steamer Sassacus, which was launched at the Portsmouth Navy Yard, is the first of the entire class to which she belongs, which has been launched. There are thirteen other vessels of the same class, in various stages of progress at the different government and private ship yards.

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN on Wednesday evening last,—it being the last regular meeting of the present Board,—Alderman Marcy presented the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted, and appropriately responded to by the Mayor:

Resolved, That the thanks of this Board be tendered to Hon. William Simes, for the able and impartial manner in which he has discharged and performed his duty as President of this body the present year.

MINSTRELSY. — Our readers will be pleased to learn that the old Portsmouth Favorite, Sam Sharpley, with his Philadelphia troupe of sixteen Star performers are coming, and will perform at the Temple on Monday, January 5th. THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large dry warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be set without day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

Portsmouth.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots used for respiration, the tendency to produce headaches so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the great amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, and all requiring a good total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The fire or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of oxygen air through the grate, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq., Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum, Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

AS A DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the Glands and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by Chemists and Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wines in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm, improving the appetite, and benefitting ladies and children.

A LADIES' WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no mixture of spirits or other liquors, and is admired for its rich, peculiar flavor and nutritive properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.

A star for every State: a State for every star.

NO PARTY—ONE COUNTRY.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every ism fall."!

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address.

THE BIGOT AND THE SHAKER.

BY JAMES KENNARD, JR.

'Salvation is of us,' the bigot cried,
Accept and live! or perish in your pride!
Salvation is of Us—We are the Church!
Seek Heaven here, or else give up the search.

'How many, Reverend Sir, are on your roll,
Of all earth's millions, spread from pole to pole?!

'Why one in twenty thousand, less or more,
Is seeking Heaven through ours, the only door,'

'If none are saved but you, and all else damned,
Then Heaven runs no risk of being crammed;
But of those few who form your congregation,
How many souls are certain of salvation?'

'Not one in five, succeeding in his search,
Finds a new heart; repents and—joins the church:
Which proves th' innate depravity of Man
Beyond a doubt—gainsay the fact who can!'
'Art married?'

'Yes, thank God! I have a wife,
And ten dear children, blessings of my life!'

'Oh, worse than brute, slave of unhallowed lust!
Against such odds to raise up souls from dust.
Does not thy conscience smite thee, thus I have given
Eight souls to hell, and only two to Heaven?
If human nature be indeed so base,
Why do you thus perpetuate the race?
Either the doctrines taught by thee are evil,
Or thou art but a pander to the devil.
Oh, how can peace within thy bosom dwell?
Recruiting sergeant to the ranks of hell?
Go then, enlarge your scheme for man's salvation,
Or else, in God's name! cease your propagation.'

☞ In New York a man named Henry Wistchop was arrested on a charge of passing a counterfeit $10 bill, on the Bank of Waterbury, in Connecticut, at the store of Mr. L. Levy, in Meserole street, E. R.—Upon the investigation the complaint was sustained, but it was also shown that the bills given by Levy to Wistchop in change were also counterfeits! Each party then desired to withdraw their complaints, but were not permitted to do so.

☞ Mr. Stevens' bill to indemnify the President and his officers against all writs, &c., for arrests, was carried through the House by the usual majority; but every Democrat and Conservative voted against it, including the venerable Crittenden of Kentucky and Judge Thomas of Massachusetts. The Judge was the 'People's' Candidate for re-election, but the people themselves would not trust him.

☞ The "Janes" Herald of Nov. 22, says the revolution in Japan is complete.—The Tycoon is stripped of nearly all his special privileges. There is considerable inquiry by the Japanese for steamships to establish a line between Onacara and Yokahowa.

NATIONAL VIRTUE AND MORAL HEROISM.—A writer for the Portland Press, whom we judge by his style and initials to be no other than John Neal, in commenting on late events, holds this language:—

"Show us a nation that has ever done what we are now doing. Take one single fact. We were in a state of unexampled prosperity, going from strength to strength; and all this war might have been avoided—nobody questions this—if we would have truckled to the slave power, and allowed it to extend its dominion at pleasure. Is it not so? No matter what is said about John C. Calhoun, and thirty years of conspiracy for a separation; no matter about the testimony of Mr. Douglas, and the declarations of certain ringleaders among the rebels; about blank paper, and accepting no terms; we all know, first, that there would have been no war if the slaveholders had not been checked in their career toward universal, absolute, and perpetual dominion; and we all know, secondly, that we can have peace at any moment by yielding that one question, and allowing them to overflow all the neighboring free territories! Of course, therefore, all the sufferings and sacrifices of this war, however terrible, are but evidence of national virtue and heroic self-denial in the cause of liberty, of God and man; what nation ever did as much, or suffered as much, for the same cause? Have we not reason for boasting, then?—and yet who ever heard of such a boast before?"

LAW VS. NECESSITY.—In the Report from the Department of the Interior, we perceive that the Secretary alludes regretfully to the necessity which has turned over so many of the public buildings to military purposes. An appropriation, especially of the Capitol, to military uses must necessarily cause injury to the building, and defacement of the expensive decorations by which it is ornamented. He suggests, therefore, that Congress should provide by law against its future occupation for any other than the purpose for which it was erected.

If this is correctly reported, then the Secretary wishes an act of Congress to prevent using the Capitol when its use is absolutely necessary to defend the city from invasion, or to provide for the comfort of its defenders!

But this will not do, says Uncle Toby: red tape and parchment are very good things in their places,—but the basement of the Capitol was never so useful as when it was the great bakery for the army,—and the Capitol was never better occupied than when filled with volunteers who had no tents.

Don't let any such foolish law be passed: better not have, in a republic, much costly decorations on the Senate House, that it cannot be used to shelter the country's defenders from the weather, while waiting to repel the foe,—or to be a hospital for him when he is sick or wounded.

The Secretary who proposed this piece of folly, is said to be "very conservative,"—and it is probably true. Several of the churches in Washington and elsewhere, have been used as hospitals. They were not built for this purpose; and their costly decorations no doubt suffered some injury. Does the Secretary propose to provide by act of Congress, that they shall not be used thus?

Away with such trash, says Uncle Toby: How much better is a man than a house!—Yea, how much better is a man than a costly decoration!

FOREIGN.—The recently formed London Emancipation Society has issued a circular to ministers of all denominations, urging them to give prominence to the subject of negro emancipation from their pulpits, in view of the inauguration of Mr. Lincoln's emancipation with the new year. A most enthusiastic meeting has been held at Lambeth to express sympathy with the anti-slavery policy in America. There were about 3000 persons present.

A return shows that during the present year 46 American ships had been registered at Liverpool under British names.

A special general meeting of the Atlantic Telegraph Co. was held at London on the 12th inst. It is proposed to raise £600,000 new capital. Within three days £75,000, had, in response to circulars, been subscribed. The meeting was regarded as most encouraging and successful. The London Times says that a notification is advertised that a new undertaking for laying a cable has been formed with continental support.

There are again rumors in Paris of unfavorable news from Mexico, and urgent calls for reinforcements are made.

In a duel between Garibaldi's eldest son and Col. Pallaircini, who captured Garibaldi, the young man is said to have received a mortal wound in the side, and the Colonel was seriously hurt.

It it rumored that St. Petersburg will shortly be declared a free port.

☞ A treasury note case has been decided in the court at Cleveland, Ohio.—The greenbacks are recognized and declared by the court to be a legal tender for all debts.

THE REBELLION.

The Gulf will undoubtedly soon be the theatre of great operations. The N. Y. Times' Key West correspondent says that more than fifty vessels were seen during the three days immediately preceding the 15th inst., passing to the West.

There was a cavalry engagement on Wednesday, at Joiner's Bridge, on the Blackwater, 14 miles above Franklin. Our force drove the enemy's pickets, capturing four of them with their arms, but our troops, finding the enemy in superior numbers above and below them on the river, withdrew in safety.

John Morgan, with about 3000 cavalry, entered Glasgow, Ky., on Wednesday.—Three companies of our cavalry opposed his entrance, but fell back on Mumfordsville, having lost one captain and two privates.—The rebels were then reinforced, and remained in possession of Glasgow.

On Thursday, Cols. Gray and Shanks attacked the rebels near Cave city, the rebels having previously damaged the railroad near Glasgow Junction. At the last accounts the Federals had driven off the rebels, killing one and taking sixteen prisoners, but sustaining no loss themselves.

A deserter from Col. Green's rebel regiment reports Jeff. Thompson at Pocahontas, Mo., with between 5000 and 6000 infantry, mostly Missouri and Arkansas troops; also two regiments of cavalry and one battery. The deserter left Pocahontas last Monday.

It is stated that Claiborn F. Jackson, the deposed Governor of Missouri, died at Little Rock, Ark., about the 8th inst.

It was rumored in Nashville, Dec. 20th, that the rebel General Geo. B. Crittenden, died in Knoxville on the preceding day.

Jeff. Davis has issued a retaliatory proclamation. Gen. Butler and all his officers are to be hung if taken, the soldiers to be paroled, and negroes taken in arms to be hung. Federal officers serving in company with slaves in insurrection, are also to be hung, if taken.

A letter from the Banks Expedition, dated Key West, 11th, says the expedition was under orders to rendezvous at Ship Island.

LETTER FROM THE 13TH REGT.

The following extract from a private letter, written by Capt. Matthew T. Betton, of this city, Co. K, 13th N. H. Regiment, subsequent to the battle of Fredericksburg, has been furnished us for publication:—

Falmouth, Va., Dec. 16, 1862.

For the last three weeks we have had such hardships as none but a soldier can appreciate. We started from Camp Casey two weeks ago last Monday, arriving here on Wednesday. This place is separated from Fredericksburg by a narrow river called the Rappahannock. On this side of the river are high hills, and on these we have planted several batteries; and to-day the whole country is full of cavalry, artillery and infantry. The battle of Fredericksburg was a severe one. On Thursday the ball opened. We were ordered into line in the morning; at night we crossed the river, on pontoon bridges. Our brigade was the first to enter the city, which we found deserted by everybody—Lee's and Longstreet's forces having left for their fortifications on the hills on the other side of the city.

We encamped in the streets, and slept that night beside four dead rebels. The houses look more like sieves than any thing else. On Friday the rebels were shelling us all day, but without doing us any material damage. On Saturday the infantry were ordered in, and we lay under cover all day. At night our regiment was ordered to charge on a battery, and right gallantly did they go in. Not one of this company can be called cowardly. We were under a raking fire from shot, shell and infantry at a distance of not more than twenty yards. Lieuts. Goss and Coffin were up to time. Co. K stood the majority of the fire, but were finally driven back, with a loss of three men and two wounded. It is truly wonderful that one of us escaped. Major Storer is a perfect brick, brave as a lion. It would be impossible for me to describe the horrors of that charge. A. J.—— is all right, and so are all the rest of the P. boys excepting H. Nutter, wounded in the head, but not seriously.

The troops are all withdrawn to this side of the river, and a flag of truce has gone over to bury the dead. I shall know the truth to-night, so do not report our lost as dead, only missing. Yours truly,

M. T. B.

☞ The condition of the French army of invasion, in Mexico, is considered critical; its ranks are being thinned by sickness and the want of wholesome food. It is said that agents have been sent to this country to obtain supplies, against the furnishing of which the Mexican minister has protested. It is understood, however, that Secretary Seward declines to interfere.

☞ The ship Lizzie Southard, at New York, reports that she was chased, Nov. 19, lat. 60, lon. 72, by a supposed privateer. Also the barque Martha's Vineyard.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— W. F. Labey, sutler of the 10th regiment, left Washington with a stock of goods, Dec. 11th, in company with several other sutlers, since which time nothing has been heard of him, and it is supposed he was captured by the rebels. Several sutlers were captured at Dumfries on the 12th.

—— On Wednesday a large number of boys were brought before the Manchester Police Court, charged with breaking and entering stores and stealing therefrom.—They were put under bonds of $100 each.

—— Capt. Horace C. Bacon, of the 11th regiment, who was seriously wounded in the neck and shoulder at Fredericksburg, has returned home on a short furlough.—Capt. Bacon was formerly a law partner of the Hon. J. S. Wells, at Exeter, but left his profession to serve his country in the field.

—— The Nashua Gazette, in speaking of Gen. Foster's brilliant exploits, says:—"New Hampshire, and especially Nashua, may well be proud of Gen. Foster. His recent expedition up the railroad to Goldsboro' is equal in dash and brilliancy to anything that has been done on either side during the war. Stonewall Jackson's exploits are completely cast in the shade by it."

—— The Newmarket Manufacturing Company has declared a semi-annual dividend of $100 per share.

—— On Saturday, the guard house on the Camp Ground, at Concord, took fire, and that, the stable and sutler's shop were destroyed.

—— The N. H. Soldiers' Aid Society at Washington, have leased rooms in which to make headquarters for our soldiers, and contemplate the immediate employment of two reliable persons, who shall give themselves wholly to the care of our soldiers in and around that city. They will need assistance, however, from home.

—— The Statesman says Col. Gilman Marston, of the 2d regiment, has been commissioned a Brigadier General.

☞ Secretary Chase's financial scheme repeals the provision of the act of July last, which allows legal tender notes to be converted at any time into 5.20 six per cent bonds; and authorizes the Secretary to borrow nine hundred millions in any of the modes heretofore authorized for making loans. It also authorizes him to issue fractional parts of a dollar in the form of bank bills, in lieu of the present postal currency.

Among the quiet slaps with which the President is said to have honored the interfering Senators, was this—"Gentlemen, you seem to be far more anxious to get a Cabinet to suit yourselves, than one that will please me," whereupon the dictators were silent. If things continue as they have commenced, the next caucus will be held by the House of Representatives, who may think it their duty to call upon all the Senators who are not handsome to resign.—Boston Post.

☞ The celebrated yacht America was formally put in commission, at the Brooklyn Navy Yard, on Wednesday. After winning the famous yacht race at Cowes, this little craft was purchased by a British nobleman, who ultimately disposed of her to blockade runners. She was fitted out in England, and loaded with supplies, with which she managed to break the blockade. The rebels subsequently sank her, but she was raised by our cruisers and brought home. She sails immediately.

☞ In consequence of the refusal of the Canadian Banks to receive silver unless at a heavy discount, the financial manager of the Great Western Railway at Suspension Bridge has issued a notice that, on and after Dec. 1, silver will not be accepted by that Company in payment of freight charges, or for tickets, in a larger proportion than five per cent. of the total amount payable; and in no case must that proportion exceed the amount of five dollars.

☞ The Philadelphia papers complain of a large number of thieves in the cars. A regular and profitable business is done there in stealing. One day's report is $70, $240, $400, &c.

☞ A grand Christmas dinner was served up in all of the army hospitals in Washington, over twenty-five thousand sick and disabled soldiers partaking of the bounteous feast provided for them.

☞ On Christmas evening, about nine o'clock, as Mr. George Gorwaiz and E. T. Gurney of Newburyport, were riding down from Amesbury, their horse stumbled on the draw of the Essex Merrimac Bridge, and breaking from the carriage and leaving them behind, rolled over into the river.—He swam down the river to the ice, but as they had no means of saving him he soon went under and was drowned. It was a valuable horse, owned in Amesbury.

Words ensued and blows followed, resulting in each being held for their good behavior. The customer afterwards took out a warrant for the proprietor of the place, on the charge of false pretence, in selling tough for tender meat. Upon a hearing of the case, the accused was held to answer.

☞ An investigation into the frauds on the Government shows that out of $1,600,000, paid out in New York city alone, from the special appropriation of twenty millions for recruiting, organizing and drilling volunteers, nearly one-half has been paid on fraudulent accounts. A New York letter writer goes into spasms over the late cold weather and skating. He says:—At Central Park another page of our mercurial life opens—"love on skates," beauty on skates—the beast on skates—brown curls floating—white hairs streaming, in the frosty air; liquid laughter and roystering shouts—flashing eyes and rosy cheeks—skaters, riders, drivers, ramblers—all gone daft.

☞ The 53d Pennsylvania regiment, on picket duty out at the front, before the fight at Fredericksburg, dressed up some of their picket boys in women's clothes which the houses of that city afforded, who blazed away at the rebels. The latter were astonished at this calico demonstration, and perhaps came to the conclusion that the Yankee girls had become sharpshooters.

ORIGIN OF THE WORD TOMBOY.—Vestagan gives the following origin of this word applied to romping girls:—"'Tumbe,' to dance, 'Tumbod,' danced; hereof we yet call a wench that skippeth or leapeth lyke a boy a Tomboy. Our name also of 'tumbling' cometh from hence."

ANOTHER NEW STOVE!
THE MODEL COOK
FOR WOOD OR COAL.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking; giving an oven nearly 3 feet long, or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time. A check draft is applied to this stove by means of which the consumption of fuel is greatly lessened, and a steady fire can be kept day and night if desired.

THE MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be TREASURE for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is needed.

We believe the MODEL COOK to be the very best Stove in the Market, and invite every one to examine it whether they wish to purchase or not. It has had a very extensive sale since its introduction. Reference might be made to more than a hundred families in this city and vicinity, who are using the Stove, and give it the highest commendation.

We refer to the following individuals who have purchased the Model Cook:—

David Kimball, Thos. F. Burt, John T. French, Rev. Mr. Davies, Wm. Pettigrew, Capt. John Davis, Jeremiah Raitt, Mrs Ann T. Perkins, James W. Jarvis, Francis C. Jarvis, Thos. L. Tullock, Jacob Wendell, Capt. Jacob Thompson, Geo. J. Hadley, G. Melvin Masters, Jos. D. Akerman, James F. Shores, Wm. C. Newton, Horton D. Walker, Benj. Cheever, John Trundy, Richard Kendall, Geo. Rice, Benj. F. Cammett, Benj M. Parker, Charles A. Wiggin, George W. Plumer, Nath'l Bennett, Henry F. Gerrish, John Harrait, Thos Murphy, Capt. Wm. Lambert, Joseph Stier, John Sennett, Wm. Bell, Cyrus Plumer, Freeman Hurd, James M. Locke, Daniel L. Randall, Isaiah Wilson, John B. Roberts—of Portsmouth; Samuel C. Dixon, Daniel I. Pryor, Cushman Pryor, of Trefethen's Island; Geo. N. Dixon, Samuel F. Paul, Elias Remick, Timothy Dame, Eliot; Wm. S. Locke, Benj. Fernald, Mrs. Wm. Locke, Kittery; R. F. Gerrish, Kittery Point; Hon. Clement March, Albert Bilaisdell, Stephen H. Weeks, Geo. W. Travis, Greenland; John Smart, Stratham; Mrs. Reuben P. Jenness, David Jenness, Moses Philbrick, Rye.

VICTOR COAL STOVE.

We offer this beautiful coal burner to the public, with full confidence in its merits.

It was brought into market two years since, and has come rapidly into use.

The Victor is one of the handsomest parlor stoves in the market, and is perfect in its operation. The arrangement for dumping the ashes is very fine—no dust need escape into the room—a continuous fire may be kept throughout the winter—the coal all burned, and no clinkers made.

The quantity of fuel used is very small indeed. There is in this stove an excellent arrangement for ventilating the room in which it is placed; a feature not possessed by any other parlor stove.

Some of the sizes are provided with an oven and boiling place, making them very desirable for a dining room.

We sold a large number of Victor Stoves in our city last season, and they receive the highest commendation from those who are using them.

We have also the celebrated McGregor Stove, so well known in the market as to need no commendation.

A great variety of cheaper Stoves for coal and wood—Cook Stoves—Patent Coal-Sifters, and Repairing pieces for most of the stoves in use. Job Work attended to with dispatch.

COAL LININGS,

DR. GLEASON ON PHYSICAL EDUCATION.—It is rarely that Portsmouth is favored with a course of popular lectures in which so many points of true interest are directly combined, as in the series by Dr. Gleason, now being given every week evening at the Temple, at a very low price. In the first place, the subjects treated are of direct personal interest to every body. In the next place the lecturer combines a thorough knowledge of the human system and of human nature, with a command of language and aptness of illustration, which are the best of a lecture, and make it a literary treat. His artistic illustrations are very extensive, full and perfect. It is also pleasant to see in the happy countenance and well developed frame of a lecturer on Physical Education, the evidence that he practices his own precepts.

"A state of happiness growing out of good health, the enjoyment of that degree of strength which fits us for usefulness in the world, together with a long life—are desirable—then by all means attend the lectures of Dr. Gleason.

The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun states positively that the Emancipation Proclamation of the President will be put in force upon the first of January next.

TWO SIDES TO A STORY.— It is impossible for even a daily paper to keep up with the rapid current of events. A daily paper of this week, has in one column, this item, editorial:—

"As the 'presure' must be kept upon Old Abe, the caucussing radical Senators refuse to adjourn over for the holidays."

In another column on the same page, is the following telegraphic item:—

"The Senate agreed to the House resolution to adjourn to-day until the first Monday in January—26 against 13."

☞ The following highly honorable specimen of warfare is reported in a Richmond paper as having occurred on the Mississippi river:—

"On the afternoon of the 12th inst., the Yankee gunboat Essex, and a wooden boat, name unknown, anchored out of range of the lower battery. Capt. McLane's company of cavalry crossed the river in the night, and hired a negro to hail the Essex. The hail was promptly answered, and a small boat was sent ashore, when the cavalry fired, killing and wounding two of the Abolitionists."

HOME JOURNAL.—Messrs. Morris & Willis, New York, announce that in consequence of the rise in the price of paper, and other material, they are compelled to raise the terms of subscription. Hereafter it will be issued at $2.50 a year, in advance; and single copies will be sold at six cents each. Those, however, who forward $2 previous to the first of February next, will receive the Home Journal for the ensuing year.

THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE.

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, mild and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headaches so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former models, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of new air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 20 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

Soldiers, Sailors, and Fishermen, will find this Salve their best friend.

It has none of the irritating, heating properties of other remedies, but cools, cleanses, and heals the most serious Sores and Wounds. NO PARTY—ONE COUNTRY.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every ism fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. If it be a spirit not to be unavoidably—its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay thereby, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 30, 1862.

THE REBELLION.

Gen. Banks and Staff arrived at New Orleans on the evening of the 14th, and assumed command of Gen. Butler's department. His fleet went to Ship Island. The meeting of the two Generals is stated to have been most cordial, and the interchange of sentiment was that which marks the coming together of old friends. On the 16th, Gen. Banks issued a General Order, in which he assumes command of the Department of the Gulf and of the State of Texas. He also issued an order suspending all sales of property on account of the United States until further orders. Gen. Butler's parting address to his troops bears date of the 18th. He alludes in eloquent terms to their successes in the field and the restoration of order and quiet by them to New Orleans, and to the feeding of the starving wives and children of their enemies. He states that the expedition with which they were connected cost the Government less by four fifths than any other. Gen. Butler was to sail for New York on the 22d, he having been ordered to Washington. It is reported that he will be assigned to an important command in the field. Gen. Banks was pushing things with characteristic energy. Five thousand of the troops who accompanied him had landed at Baton Rouge, and the remainder of the expedition would be sent forward as fast as they arrive. Later advices—to the 20th, state that the rebels, thinking they will see a less vigorous commander in Gen. Banks, appear in the streets in crowds. One of them sent a challenge to Gen. Butler, who put it in his pocket and sent the angry rebel word that if he desired an onset, to come on in the street, or wherever else it might suit him best. Gen. Corcoran, with his Irish legion, had arrived below New Orleans.

An expedition sent from New Orleans to Atchafalaya river, by Com'r Buchanan, captured two steamers loaded with sugar, a launch filled with arms, ammunition, and one small brass cannon.

It is reported that orders have been given for our forces to evacuate Island No. Ten, to spike the guns there and blow up the magazines.

There are several different accounts of another raid of rebel cavalry, on Saturday afternoon. 2500 of them, with six pieces of artillery, under command of Fitzhugh Lee, attacked our forces under command of Col. Canby, at Dumfries. After a brisk fight of three hours the enemy was repulsed and retreated toward Warrenton Junction, our cavalry in pursuit. Our loss was three killed and nine wounded. The enemy's loss was not ascertained. We have some prisoners.

Rebel papers report that 5000 cavalry, under Gen. Van Dorn, dashed into Corinth on Sunday, dispersed our troops and took possession of the place; and that Gen. Grant's army has fallen back beyond the Tallahatchie river.

A dispatch from Falmouth, Va., states that the enemy are all engaged every night in raising and extending their breastworks along the streets fronting the river, as if to prevent any future crossings by pontoon bridges. On Saturday a new encampment made its appearance on the second range of hills in the rear of Fredericksburg in full view from our position. A considerable number of tents have recently been sent up from Richmond to Lee's army. The Richmond Examiner of the 25th indicated that Lee with a portion of his army was moving towards Culpepper to make a demonstration in front of Washington, but it is known that Lee was still near Fredericksburg on Friday noon.

Advices from Richmond state that the iron-clad gunboat Richmond makes a daily trip to Drury's Bluff.

Com. Farragut with his fleet has gone up the Mississippi to reduce the rebel batteries at Port Hudson. The New Orleans Delta of Dec. 16 says there was a sharp engagement between two of our gunboats and the Port Hudson batteries two days previous.—The batteries were silenced for a time.

The guerilla Morgan seems to be again operating in Kentucky, with what success is not clear.

THE PIRATE ALABAMA.—The steamship Ariel reached Aspinwall on Friday night, 12th inst., having been overhauled by the Alabama on the 7th inst., off east end of Cuba, and taken to Jamaica. Before taking the Ariel, Capt. Semmes fired a blank cartridge at her, and afterwards a shell which struck her foremast, nearly cutting it in two. The Ariel was detained two and one-half days, and then released after her captors had taken out $12,000 in specie, on freight for Nicaragua—the property of two Southern men—and some boots and shoes. The officers of the Alabama also made prisoners of and disarmed Captain Sartori, of the U. S. Navy, who was going out to take command of the Cyane, Capt. Garland of the Marine Corps, en route for Mare Island, Cal., and some other U. S. officers, and 140 marines, and after taking all their equipments, including their side arms, they released them on parole.

Semmes first intended to destroy the Ariel by burning her, putting the passengers ashore at a little settlement of huts at San Domingo. Capt. Jones, of the Ariel, protested that half of his passengers would die if this were done. Semmes then proposed to land the passengers at Kingston, but after much parleying, an arrangement was effected to release the Ariel, on Capt. Jones giving bonds, payable in 30 days after the acknowledgement of the Southern Confederacy.

The Alabama last coaled at Martinique. When leaving that port the U. S. steamer San Jacinto aimed her guns at her, when simultaneously the guns of the Fort were turned on the San Jacinto. This is the statement of the 1st Lieut. of Capt. Semmes. The Alabama claims a speed under 25 lbs. of steam, of 16 knots an hour. She overtook the Ariel with only 11 lbs. of steam.

WARD ON THE WAR.—Artemas Ward the showman, is delivering a lecture at the West on innumerable topics, and in alluding to the quality of ambition and drawing the dividing lines between true and false ambition, he said that Alexander wept because there were no more worlds to conquer. It is a sad thing to see a man weep. But if some one of our Generals would conquer the South, he might sit down and have a good long cry, and he thought we could all stand the heart-rending spectacle.

A METHODIST'S LOVE CHASE.

JOHN WESLEY'S AMOURS.

A curious pamphlet has lately been reprinted from an edition published by a Mr Hook, in 1848, of a transcript of a MS. in the British Museum, under the title—"Narrative of a Remarkable Transaction in the Early Life of John Wesley." We are indebted to Mr. Russell Smith for the new edition, which is enriched and illustrated by a review of the work by the late Rev. Joseph Hunter. This review perfectly vindicates the authenticity of the MS. which is in the British Museum—"Add. MSS. 7119"—and details its history. It consists of two parts—one a narrative in prose, which is a copy, and avowedly written by an amanuensis, and another a narrative in verse, in John Wesley's own handwriting. The two narratives relate to the same transaction.—About the transaction itself there can be no dispute. There is not one of Wesley's biographers who does not speak with more or less distinctness, of Wesley's intention to marry one Grace Murray, and of the fact that the marriage was prevented by Charles Wesley. No suspicions are entertained by Mr. Hunter of the genuineness of this document; nor, in its first publication, was any dispute raised on that point. The evidence on this head is complete and unassailable. Differing in this respect from Collet's forgery of certain love-letters purporting to be written by John Wesley in his youth, this "Narrative" is undoubtedly a genuine fragment of biography, of which the principal person concerned—the celebrated John Wesley himself—says, "Hardly has such a case been from the beginning of the world." A lost chapter in any hagiology has its interest. When a dropped stitch is taken up in the personal biography of one who, for good or for evil, has influenced the religious life of millions, it is, as a mere contribution to the curiosities of literature, valuable; but in psychological point of view the study of this strange love-story, with all its labyrinth of romance and religion, the hero and heroine of which were John Wesley and his servant maid, has another and superior value. No doubt the first aspect of the thing is its utter grotesqueness. Ne sit ancillæ tibi amor pudori might be a safe counsel to a libertine patrician, but the leading cases of Briseis and Tecmessa one would hardly expect to find ruling the most influential preacher and the greatest ecclesiastical innovator of the eighteenth century.

Yet this is the substance of the present narrative. In the year 1748, John Wesley being of the mature age of forty-five, a conference of the Methodist Society was held in London, in which "after a free and friendly debate," the remarkable conclusion was arrived at—probably with a view as well to certain sweet smarts raging in Wesley's own bosom as to a charitable desire that the world should not absolutely come to an end—"that a believer might marry without suffering loss in his soul." Two or three months afterward we find John Wesley—or rather John Wesley finds himself—sick in bed at Newcastle, "attended continually by Grace Murray," a widow of thirty-three, who, in a very old way seems to have been his companion in travel, a fellow laborer in attending to the societies, and at the same timehis private servant. Wesley, after "observing her temper, sense and behavior," "sliding into it I know not how," told her, "If ever I marry, I think you will be that person." Grace Murray snaps at the offer, and from that time, as the prose narrative has it, "I conversed with her as my own." In the poetical form Wesley puts it— * * *

But the course of such true and Arcadian love, even in the apostle of a revived gospel, did not run smooth. We must condense as we can this strange story.

Wesley's declaration of love occurs in August 4, 1758. The two turtles travel together through Yorkshire and Derbyshire, and in September the lady is left in Cheshire with one John Bennet, an itinerant preacher. Already the fair and spiritual widow had gone through a courtship from one Brydon, also a Methodist preacher.—As soon as Wesley was off the scene, Grace Murray and Bennet commence love-making, or perhaps renew an old and dormant flirtation; and the lady accepts Bennet at once, formally promises to become his wife, and writes a wonderful letter to Wesley, asking his consent and blessing, "believing it to be the will of God." A regular complication occurs. The gay and spiritual widow retains the two strings to her bow, and is alternately on and off with Wesley and Bennet; and, after much dissimulation on every side, upon Wesley urging the doctrine of precontract in his own favor, she is on with the old love though not quite off with the new. Bennet is dismissed; and in 1749, when Wesley goes on a missionary tour in Ireland, Grace Murray, now affianced to him at Dublin by a contract de presenti, accompanies him in the triple character of domestic servant, friend, and coapostle. For several months, in a position which, in any body but an apostle, might have had its dangers, Wesley leads about a sister who is not his wife.

The episode with Bennet was believed to be over, and in September this unmarried couple of fellow travellers returned to Bristol. Here the fair Grace "bears some idle tales concerning me [J. W.] and Molly Francis" and in a sudden fury of jealousy recalls Bennet by a secret and loving letter. Bennet, surprised and pleased, promises to meet her when she came to the North, where, still in company with Wesley, she soon arrives. Here the three meet at Epworth, in Lancashire. "A curious scene now comes on." Wesley retaliates, accepts the widow's decision, and not only gives her up, but thinks it right that they, i. e. Grace and Bennet, should marry without delay.—The lady, however, was a match for this move. She takes to her bed, and sending for poor, perplexed J. W., assures him from this vantage ground "that she loves him a thousand times better than she ever loved Bennet; but she is afraid, if she does not marry Bennet, he will run mad," and therefore resolves to marry Bennet, while professing her unalterable love for Wesley.—After a day or two of this curious game, Wesley brings the matter to an issue, and leaves the lovely Abigail with this final declaration on her part—"I am determined to live and die with you." The two turtles, again reconciled, and Bennet once more dismissed, set out to Berwick, visiting the Societies, on very amicable, and of course apostolic, terms; "yet," says Wesley, "I could not consent to her repeated request to marry me immediately." In this game of cross purposes, it seems that, as soon as either party is inclined for instant matrimony, Barkis is not willing. Whether it was that Wesley was resolved to pay the lady in her own coin, or whether he began seriously to foresee the consequences to his own position and usefulness of marrying a domestic servant, he again hung back. He must satisfy Bennet. He must procure his brother Charles Wesley's consent. He must send an account of the proposed marriage to all the Societies. In other words, he wanted to prevent the match with Bennet, and yet not commit himself irrevocably. He wished to keep the woman bound by her promise, and himself free not to fulfil his own engagement.

PRESENTATION.—The beautiful sword, sash and belt, which was purchased by members of the South Parish in this city, and which have been on exhibition at the store of Wm. R. Preston, have been presented, as was designed, to Lieut. Frank D. Webster, of the 17th N. H. Regiment, recently a member of the choir of that church. The letter which accompanied the appropriate gift, and also the reply of Lieutenant Webster, we give below:—

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Dec. 17, '62.

Lieut. Frank D. Webster,

Dear Sir:—In behalf of those gentlemen (members of the Unitarian Society of this city) whose names I herewith enclose, I have the pleasure to present you with the accompanying sword, sash, and belt,—as a token of their appreciation of your patriotism, and your services as a member of the choir of the church.

As a volunteer in the service of your country, sacrificing the comforts of home, and the society of warm-hearted friends, and offering your life if called on the field of battle, in defense of those inestimable privileges so long the boast and pride of this once happy nation, you deserve, in common with the noble band of freemen who have gone forth to battle, all the encouragement, aid and sympathy of every patriotic heart.

Go forth then with the sword of justice, of right and of freedom; strike with deadly aim the ruthless traitor that dares to violate the sacred rights sealed by the blood of our forefathers; unnerve the arm that shall be raised to strike one star from the glorious banner of Liberty!

Let this sword remind you of your duty to your God, and to your country; and may He who watches the sparrow's fall guide you and protect you from all danger in scenes of carnage and blood, and return you in peace and safety to your friends and home. Very truly your friend,

WILLIAM R. PRESTON.

17th Regt., N. H. V., Camp Ethan Colby, CONCORD, N. H. Dec. 24, 1862.

Dr. Wm. R. Preston,—Dear Sir:—Your letter of Dec. 17th, accompanying the sword, sash and belt, which a number of my friends from the Unitarian Society have done me the honor, through you, to present, has been received. For this entirely unmerited compliment, I beg you to accept for yourself and them, my warmest and deepest thanks, and the assurance that my purpose will receive new energy, thus strengthened by friends to whose generous regard I cannot be insensible. Nothing that I have yet accomplished would warrant this high compliment. But, my sole aim shall be to do my duty, with the highest ambition to deserve it hereafter. I again thank you, and request you to convey to these kind friends my most sincere thanks for this gift.

If it shall please that Higher power to guide me through this contest, I shall look forward to that period when I can resume my pursuits among you, with a pleasure second only to that of witnessing a restored Union, and a peaceful, free and happy people. I remain, very truly,

Your obedient servant,
FRANK D. WEBSTER,
Lieutenant Co. B, 17th Regt. N. H. V.

ANOTHER NEW STOVE!

THE MODEL COOK

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking; giving an oven nearly 3 feet long; or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! A check draft is applied to this stove by means of which the consumption of fuel is greatly lessened, and a steady fire can be kept day and night if desired.

THE MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be THE STOVE for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is needed.

We believe the MODEL COOK to be the very best Stove in the Market, and invite every one to examine it whether they wish to purchase or not. It has had a very extensive sale since its introduction. Reference might be made to more than a hundred families in this city or vicinity, who are using the Stove, and give it the highest commendation.

We refer to the following individuals who have purchased the Model Cook:—

David Kimball, Thos. F. Burt, John T. French, Rev. Mr. Davies, Wm. Pettigrew, Capt. John Davis, Jeremiah Raitt, Mrs. Ann T. Perkins, James W. Jarvis, Francis C. Jarvis, Thos. L. Pollock, Jacob Wendell, Capt. Jacob Thompson, Gen. J. G. Hadley, G. Melvin Huntress, Jos. D. Ackerman, James F. Shores, Wm. C. Newton, Horton D. Walker, Benj. Cheever, John Trundy, Richard L. Kimball, Geo. Rice, Benj. N. Canney, Benj M. Parker, Charles A. Wiggin, George W. Plumer, Nath'l Dennett, Henry F. Gerrish, John Barrett, Thos Murphy, Capt. Wm. Lambert, Joseph Stiles, John Senter, Wm. Bell, Cyrus Plumer, Freeman Hard, James M. Locke, Daniel L. Randall, Isaiah Wilson, John E. Roberts—of Portsmouth; Samuel C. Dixon, Daniel I. Pryor, Cushman Pryor, of Trefethen's Island; Geo. N. Dixon, Samuel P. Pryor, Elias Remick, Timothy Dame, Eliot; Wm. S. Locke, Benj. Fernald, Mrs. Wm. Locke, Kittery; R. F. Gerrish, Kittery Point; Hon. Clement March, Albert Blaisdell, Stephen M. Weeks, Geo. W. Davis, Greenland; John Smart, Stratham; Mrs. Reuben P. Jenness, David Jenness, Moses Philbrick, Rye.

VICTOR COAL STOVE.

We offer this beautiful coal burner to the public, with full confidence in its merits.

It was brought into market two years since, and has come rapidly into use.

The Victor is one of the handsomest parlor stoves in the market, and is perfect in its operation. The arrangement for dumping the ashes is very fine—no dust need escape into the room—a continuous fire may be kept throughout the winter—the coal all burned, and no clinkers made.

The quantity of fuel used is very small indeed. There is in this stove an excellent arrangement for ventilating the room in which it is placed; a feature not possessed by any other parlor stove.

Some of the sizes are provided with an oven and boiling place, making them very desirable for a dining room.

We sold a large number of Victor Stoves in our city last season, and they receive the highest commendation from those who are using them.

We have also the celebrated McGregor Stove, so well known in the market as to need no commendation.

A great variety of cheaper Stoves for coal and wood—Coal-hods—Patent Coal-sifters.

COAL LININGS,

and Repairing pieces for most of the stoves in use. Job Work attended to with dispatch.

J. F. SHORES, JR., No. 1 Congress Block, has for sale by the hundred, dozen or singly, THOMAS' & LEAVITT'S ALMANACS for 1863. Also New Hampshire Register for 1863.

The following resolutions were reported and passed unanimously at the late Congressional Convention at Dover:

Resolved, That the wicked and causeless Southern rebellion, being aimed at the existence of the glorious Constitution our fathers left us, against free institutitions, and our federal Union, the last refuge of liberty on earth, must be crushed by all means at the nation's command; and that we heartily approve of the most vigorous and efficient prosecution of the war to the speedy re-establishment of the national authority throughout the country.

Resolved, That the resolutions adopted by the Congressional Convention held at Portsmouth, Nov. 25, 1862, are disloyal and treasonable; being directly calculated to comfort and encourage those in arms against the rightful authority of the Government; are disgraceful to men who have enjoyed the blessing secured by that Government, and should be spurned by every loyal citizen.

Resolved, That we present for the suffrages of the people of the First Congressional District, Hon. JOSE EASTMAN, this day nominated, as deserving the unanimous support of the electors; and that in laboring for his election we ask for him the votes and the active assistance of all lovers of their country without distinction of party.

Upon motion of Col. Weed, of Sandwich, the following resolution was passed:

Resolved, That this Convention now tender its thanks to Col. GILMAN MARSTON, for his able services in the House of Representatives, and for his noble and gallant conduct on the battle-field.

The Convention was very harmonious, and all seemed satisfied with the result.

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being less weight and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and cod iron heater purchasing or exchanging of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can escape into the room, and the shovelling up of coal is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling from morning.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would say that about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air, and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, passes off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off in a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert E. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

VOL. 21. PORTSMOUTH, N. H. WEDNESDAY, DEC. 31, 1862. NO. 126.

The Chronicle.

A star for every State: a State for every star.

NO PARTY—ONE COUNTRY.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined:
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love, truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every law fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is fully their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full files of all patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him also, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and trustworthy practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 31, 1862.

NEW ORLEANS.—The Government is now daily feeding in the City of New Orleans more than 32,000 whites, 17,000 of whom are British subjects, and mostly claiming British protection. Of all this vast number of poor, only about one thousand are native Americans—the rest are made up of the several nationalities represented there from all parts of the globe.—Beside, there are 10,000 negroes to feed.—Any able-bodied negro applying to the commander of any post, regiment, or detachment is immediately enrolled, and his name forwarded to the Sequestration Commission, so that he may be employed.

This is right; and it would be a good thing to enroll all the 32,000 whites in the same way, and employ them too. He that "will not work neither should he eat," says St. Paul.

☞ Jeff. Davis threatens to hang all negroes found in arms against the rebels.—This is the way he attempts to thwart President Lincoln's Emancipation measure,—and his whole document shows that he regards it as a measure of some consequence, though some of his friends at the North affect to think it of no account. His manifesto is at once base and cowardly,—and in the part where he threatens to hang Ben Butler, he reminds Uncle Toby and some others, that Davis and Butler were hand and glove politicians of the most National Democratic school, and went together for Breckinridge and Lane.

Now Davis has rebelled against the Government, and Butler having rebelled against the slave power in New Orleans and elsewhere,—Davis orders him hanged when they catch him! It is barely possible that Butler may catch Davis sometime,—and then who will be hanged?

☞ We have the New South, of Dec. 20, just received from Port Royal, S. C., where it is edited and published by our soldiers and the public. It copies this item:

"While our gallant volunteers at Hilton Head, South Carolina, are fed on hard bread, the 2,500 'contrabands' there are supplied by Government with flour and fresh bread, and are being educated at Northern expense. That, says the N. Y. Sunday Times, is just the difference."

The New South remarks:

"We beg to inform the Times that some shameless 'wag' has 'hoaxed' it. We have a post-bakery here, and our volunteers, we take it, have not seen a piece of hard bread for a long time."

☞ Nassau papers state that the Governor had issued a proclamation forbidding pilots to bring in Federal or rebel cruisers. A schooner belonging to the well known secesh firm of Adderlee & Co., of Nassau, had been captured by the steamer Tioga, which the Nassau papers style another Federal outrage. The steamer Giraffe, a blockade runner, had arrived at Nassau from Liverpool, with an assorted cargo, probably to run the blockade again.

THE RELATION OF THE SEXES.—Strange, and passing strange, that the relation between the two sexes, the passion of love, in short, should not be taken into deeper consideration by our teachers and our legislators. People educate and legislate as if there was no such thing in the world; but ask the priest, ask the physician—let them reveal the amount of moral and physical results from this one cause. Must love always be discussed in blank verse, as if it were a thing to be played in tragedies, or sung in songs—a subject of pretty poems and wicked novels, and had nothing to do with the prosaic current of every-day existence—our moral welfare? Must love be ever treated with profaneness, as a mere illusion? or with fear, as a mere disease? or with coarseness, as a mere impulse?

☞ The Traveler's Washington correspondent says Mrs. Lincoln was never so popular as since she has shown so deep an interest in the men who have risked their lives in defence of their nation's liberties. Mrs. Smith will long be remembered for her charities to the soldiers—long after her husband's name is forgotten.

☞ A Gotham paper asserts that the New York of to-day is more noisy, more bustling, more thriving, more prosperous, than the New York of any time between now and the days of the Knickerbockers.

☞ A letter from Washington says "the President will issue the long-expected Emancipation Proclamation on New Year's Day. It is certain to come if Time lasts."

☞ Gen. Wool has returned home to Troy, N. Y., and Gen. Phelps, lately under Gen. Butler, to his old Vermont home at Brattleboro'.

NAVAL.—Screw frigate Minnesota, 48, is receiving her powder at Charlestown Navy Yard, and is expected to sail to-day.

THE REBELLION.

The telegraph furnishes us with a detailed account of the raid of Saturday and Sunday, which caused so much excitement about Washington, but which proves to have been a serious repulse to the rebels. They gained a temporary advantage by surprising Dumfries and pushing on to Occoquan, where a slight engagement occurred; but afterwards they passed rapidly over the country, going through Vienna at about 12 o'clock Sunday night.

One of the dispatches says: We have just received reliable information that the rebels were badly repulsed on Saturday at Dumfries. On their retreat they fell in with our troops under Gen. Geary, between Dumfries and Wolf Run, and were driven by them south of the road. They aimed to take the direct road to the shoals. They got about 20 empty wagons and 40 prisoners, mostly citizens.

Generals Cobb, Hill, Jackson and Preston, of the rebel army, were all officiating Presbyterian elders when the war commenced.

The news from the Southwest is important. The retrograde movement of Gen. Grant is confirmed, but other movements are hinted at, which indicate that his position will be most favorable for the campaign in that quarter. It was reported at Memphis, and the report had been confirmed by the Vicksburg Whig, that Admiral Farragut's fleet had taken Port Hudson and advanced to a point 12 miles below Vicksburg. Some idea of the grand movement now progressing on the Mississippi may be inferred from the statement in a private letter, dated at Memphis, 20th inst., that 51 large steamers, with 70,000 troops were at that port, ready to go down the river.

The leader of a guerrilla band was recently shot and then burned to death in the presence of his wife and children, by some exasperated Unionists in Western Virginia.

Tennessee.—The Postmaster of Richmond, Ky., says Col. Carter, commanding a Union brigade, has captured Knoxville, Tenn., and destroyed four bridges and a large portion of the railroad track between Knoxville and Dandridge. It is rumored that a portion of Morgan's forces are at Bardstown, and that they have destroyed a portion of the track near Elizabethtown.

The rebels have been repulsed three miles from Munfordsville, and everything there is safe.

Gen. Rosecrans' forces have driven the rebels into Murfreesboro'.

It is supposed that Morgan is skedaddling out of the State.

From Arkansas, we learn that one of the most difficult and daring raids of the war has just been made by a part of the army of the frontier, under Gens. Herron and Blunt. The columns, about 6000 strong, went in light marching order with six days cooked rations, and marching 42 miles without stopping. Gen. Herron took two batteries without caissons. The artillery and baggage were drawn across the mountains by twelve horse teams. They came up with the rebel cavalry next morning at daylight, and routed them. Our cavalry and artillery followed the flying rebels to Van Buren, where a splendid charge was made, led by Gens. Blunt and Herron in person, resulting in a complete victory over the enemy. The rebel cavalry rushed aboard some steamers and escaped to the other side of the river.

Two steamboats and over 100 prisoners, among them several officers and Gen. Hindman's express messenger, were captured.

A third boat was run ashore, which, with those that took the rebels across the river, will be destroyed.

A large quantity of corn, camp equipage, transportation, mules and horses were also seized.

Gen. Hindman is on the other side of the river with his whole force, unable and unwilling to engage us.

The pathway to the Arkansas river has now been opened.

From Virginia there are rumors of an attack by Stonewall Jackson's rebels on Gen. Sigel's forces at Stafford Court House, and of other rebel movements.

MISSOURI EMANCIPATION.—The Legislature met on Monday. I. C. Marvin (radical emancipationist) was elected speaker of the House by 24 majority. J. B. Pratt (emancipationist) was elected Secretary of the Senate. Mr. Richardson, in the Senate, introduced a resolution declaring that all emancipationists are favorable to compensated emancipation, as enunciated by the President of the United States, which was unanimously adopted.

☞ The Washington National Republican intimates that foreign mediation is close at hand, and adds that perhaps it will be offered with the consent of our own Government. No ground is assigned for this statement, and the story is not believed by some correspondents.

☞ Harper's Magazine for January, may be had at J. H. Foster's bookstore, in this city. A. Williams & Co., general agents in Boston. The number for the new year opens well.

A METHODIST'S LOVE CHASE.

JOHN WESLEY'S AMOURS.

(Concluded.)

Something of the same sort of irresolution—if we are not to call it treachery or duplicity—has been assigned by one of Wesley's biographers, Dr. Whitebead, as the cause of the failure of an earlier affair de Cœur of the author of Methodism—his Georgian love suit with Miss Sophy Causton; but in this case the timid or vacillating lover found out to his cost, in the farens quid femina possit what might come out of trifling with the feelings of a high-spirited and vindictive woman. However, under these circumstances, Wesley and Grace Murray find themselves at Berwick, in September, 1749. From Berwick they travel together to Newcastle, where they "converse together till late at night," and she "gave me all assurances of the most intense affection." The natural consequences follow. The reunion of the lovers revives the old flame; mutual pledges are revived; the solemn promise to take each is repeated with new formalities, and the old contract at Dublin is renewed in the presence of witnesses, under date of Sept. 21; and on that day, when Wesley goes to Whitehaven, "she stood looking after me till I was up the hill."

At this moment Charley Wesley comes on the stage, in consequence of a letter from John, informing him of the whole affair, and enclosing the copy of a letter of strong remonstrance which he had written to Bennett on the 7th of Sept., in which he asserts his intention to marry the fair Grace. Charles is of course stupified at the news. He flies down from Bristol to Leeds, finds "all the town in an uproar, and the Societies ready to fly in pieces." At length the brothers meet. Charles urges John against the degrading match, and insists on the precontract between Grace and Bennet. It does not exactly appear what the immediate result of the fraternal counsel was. Great was the casuistry displayed on the knotty point of two contracts entered into by the lady. Charles Wesley sets out for Newcastle to see Grace Murray. John Wesley is alone, and in a sea of perplexities. He fasts, he prays, he asks light and direction; his mind sways backward and forward; but he writes a letter to Grace, which letter does not appear. Whitefield comes next on the scene, but does not mend matters. Wesley felt that he was playing a double part. At length on Monday, the 5th of Oct., Charles Wesley, who had not been idle in the meantime, returns to the town of Whitehaven, and announces that Bennet and Grace had been married on the previous Tuesday. We left Ariadne in Naxos, that is at Newcastle, looking after Bacchus—we mean John Wesley—riding up Hinely Hill. She had quite dismissed all thoughts of Bennet. Her heart was with her affianced lover at Whitehaven anxiously waiting his return. But John Wesley had dreams and sad presages, and instead of presenting himself, sends, as we have seen, only the mysterious letter. And as soon as this letter from Whitehaven arrives, so does Charley Wesley, who takes the matter and lady in hand—and a high hand, too. Sending for Bennet to Newcastle, the beginning of the end is not far distant. Charles Wesley lays the whole blame upon John, "as having used his whole art and authority to seduce another man's wife," i. e. John Bennet's affianced wife. The rest of it we prefer to tell in John Wesley's own words:—

"This was the scope of all his (Charles') discourse with Grace Murray at Newcastle. The effect of what he and J. B. said (for they spoke just alike) was, that all in the house (unless one or two that were instant in prayer) were set on fire, filled with anger and confusion, and driven to their wits' end. S. Proctor would leave the house immediately; John Whitford would preach with Mr. W. no more; Mat. Errington dreamed the house itself was all in flames (and most certainly it was); another dreamer went a step further, and saw Mr. W. in hell fire; James Keath was peremptory, 'John W. is a child of the devil,' coming pretty near J. B. himself, whose repeated words were, 'If John W. is not damned, there is no God.'

When J. B. was so clearly convinced, 'the fault lay all in me,' G. M. and he were brought together. She fell at his feet, acknowledged she had used him ill, and begged he would forgive her. To satisfy her entirely as to any scruples which might remain with regard to me, one was brought to assure her, 'I had given her up, and would have nothing more to say to her; only I had ordered him to procure some place among the country Societies, where she might live privately.' Upon this, one cried out, 'Good God! what will the world say? He is tired of her, and so thrust her into a corner. Sister M., will you consent to this?' She answered, 'No, I will die first.' So, seeing no other way, she frankly declared, 'I will have J. B. if he will have me.'

On Tuesday morning, Oct. 3d, they were married. They all then rode on contentedly to Leeds, to give me the meeting there, as well that I might have the pleasure of seeing the bride, as that I might acknowledge my sin (those were my brother's expressions) before J. B. and them all.

But this I was not altogether ready to do; neither did I apprehend she desired my company any more; till on Friday, Oct. 6, I was informed 'both J. B. and his w fe desired to see me.' I went; but oh! what an interview! it was not soon that words could find their way. We sat weeping at each other, till I asked her, 'What did you say to my brother to make him accost me thus?' She fell at my feet and said, 'she never had spoken nor could speak against me,' uttering many other words to the same effect, in the midst of numberless sighs and tears. Before she rose, he fell on his knees, too, and asked my pardon for what he had spoken of me. Between them both I knew not what to say or do. I can forgive, but who can redress the wrong?

After dinner I talked with her alone. She averred with the utmost emotion, being also dissolved in tears, that she never laid the blame upon me, whom she knew to be entirely innocent; that she would rather die than speak against one to whom she had so deep obligations; that at the time I first spoke to her at Newcastle she loved me above all persons living; that after her engagement with J. B. her heart was divided till she went to Ireland; and then it was wholly with me, and from that time till J. B. met us at Epworth; that after his speaking she was divided again, till I talked with her upon the road, from which hour she loved me more and more, till we parted at Hineley Hill; that, when my brother took her thence she thought he was carrying her to me; that when she knew more of his design she told him, 'I will do nothing till I have seen Mr. W.,' but that, when it was told her at Newcastle, among a thousand other things, 'Mr. W. will have nothing to say to you,' then she said, 'Well, I will have Mr. B. if he will have me.' If these things are so, hardly has such a case been from the beginning of the world!"

Mr. Hunter was very indignant with Wesley. Perhaps there was as much of the traitor as of the betrayed in the matter; but the case is by no means similar to Swift's treatment of poor Vennessa. Grace and John were tolerably well matched, and each probably played a deep and double game. We can hardly, with Hunter, call "Wesley's treatment of her abominable;" nor are we prepared to endorse the terms "wretch" and "odious," which he applies to the modern apostle. There is more truth in the sober verdict which he elsewhere pronounces, that poor Bennet was a scapegoat, and that "Grace's conduct and Wesley's conduct are less easily justified or excused."

It would be difficult, in a love-chase of this sort, to say whether the event showed on which side the entire blame lay; and we may reasonably doubt whether in such matters the awards of Nemesis are always just. But Grace Bennet died in the eighty-ninth year of her age, in something like the odor of sanctity; and John Wesley, shortly after the jilting of or by Grace Murray, married a rich widow, Mrs. Vizelle, of whom Southey says, "she deserves to be classed in a triad with Xantippe and the wife of Job, as one of the three bad wives." After all that we have said, it is perhaps superfluous to say that the "Narrative" is well worth reading. The allusions in Methodist history to this wonderful piece of biography are few and scanty.

Local.

☞ Dr. Gleason's Lecture, at the Temple, this evening, will be on the Skin, its offices and functions. These lectures are invaluable, on the principle that "the greatest study of mankind, is man." Everybody who hears Dr. G. is delighted—and we trust that much permanent good will be promoted by his visit here, and the valuable knowledge he is disseminating. His course is to continue through every evening this week, we believe; and on Friday afternoon he will lecture on Woman, to ladies only.

☞ Our thanks to Mr. Lear, of the new and nice Grocery in Daniel street, for his token of remembrance on Christmas, as also for previous courtesies of the sort.—Judging from these specimens with which we are favored, his advertisement of "fresh groceries" is no misnomer.

To various other friends, anonymous and otherwise, in the city and out, who have "given tokens" numerous, and highly priced, of kindly remembrance of us at this season—we hereby return all due acknowledgment, for each and all—trusting that even though "noticed" only in this general and public, but rather indirect manner, our friends will never deem us unmindful of the constantly increasing favors which are each year bestowed upon us—we fear often more than we deserve, by personal acquaintance, no less than by the public, in commendation of our independent course as journalists.

☞ The Bank of New Hampshire, in this city, has declared a dividend of 3 1-2 per cent. and the Government tax, payable on the 1st day of January, to holders of stock on the 27th of December.

☞ By a dispatch from Great Falls, we learn that "Mr. Daniel Ham, one of the most esteemed citizens of the place, while skating, Monday afternoon, fell on the ice, and almost instantly expired."

Mr. Ham was 61 years of age, was a native of Portsmouth, eldest son of the late Robert Ham. He learned the hatter's trade here, of Michael Wise, and soon after his majority established himself in that business at Great Falls, where he earned and enjoyed the reputation of honest industry and thrift in trade, and of most exemplary conduct in all the domestic and social relations.

☞ The Richmond correspondent of the London Times says:—

"It is remarked that, after the experience of eighteen months of warfare, that the smooth bore rifle is generally preferred by the Southern soldiers to the Enfield or Springfield. The Confederates do not believe in long shots, and seldom fire until within two hundred yards of their enemy. At this distance the constant tendency of the rifled musket is to throw its ball too high. It is asserted that in the battles around this town traces of the musket balls fired by the Confederates indicate an average height of from three to six feet above the ground, whereas the Federal bullets range at a height of from six to nine feet. There is not a question that the vast majority of the Federal bullets go high above their opponents' heads."

☞ The N. Y. Times says of Mr. Seward:—

"He did not oppose the issuing of the proclamation. He did not resist the removal of Gen. McClellan. He did not originate, direct, or in any way interfere with the Banks expedition. He had nothing whatever to do, directly or indirectly, with the movement of Gen. Burnside. He has attended exclusively to the affairs of his own department, and has sustained, with cheerful and hearty loyalty, whatever measures the President has deemed essential to the public good."

☞ It has been found on careful investigation that buildings often take fire from the hot air of furnaces, in consequence of the wood work being too near the register. Both hot air and steam pipes, if they come in contact with wood, will in time set fire to it, and persons cannot be too careful in putting furnaces into their houses.

☞ A hitherto unknown species of duck has been discovered in the Manawatu river, in New Zealand. In size it is equal to a full grown turkey, and its wings are long and powerful. The ground color is a variable ash grey, beautifully marked and spotted with white. The bill is small, broad, almost vermillion, and has a fleshy membrane. When disturbed it has a loud note, between a quack and a scream.

☞ Upon exhuming the body of Mrs. Sarah Wood, wife of Arnold Wood, of Westport, Mass., thirteen years after burial, it was found that petrification had taken place. The deceased appeared like a marble statue, perfect in form and in feature, and retaining a natural and life-like expression. The dress and inside coffin of pine were also petrified and white as marble.

Earl Russell, though supposed to be a very dry subject, is something of a wag, for he tells Englishmen whose property has been destroyed by the Alabama, that they can claim compensation in a Confederate Court! He must have laughed at the joke as he penned it. They might as well try to get a pat of butter out of a black dog's mouth.—Traveller.

THE OLD YEAR, AND THE NEW.

Ring out, wild bells, to the wild sky,
The flying cloud, the frosty light:
The year is dying in the night.
Ring out wild bells, and let him die.

Ring out the old, ring in the new—
Ring, happy bells, across the snow:
The year is going, let him go;
Ring out the false, ring in the true.

Ring out a slowly dying cause,
And ancient forms of party strife;
Ring in the nobler modes of life,
With sweeter manners, purer laws.

Ring out old shapes of foul disease,
Ring out the narrowing lust of gold;
Ring out the thousand wars of old,
Ring in the thousand years of peace.

ANOTHER NEW STOVE!

THE MODEL COOK

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking; giving an oven nearly 3 feet long; or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! A chick draft is applied to this stove by means of which the consumption of fuel is greatly lessened, and a steady fire can be kept day and night if desired.

THE MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be THE STOVE for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is needed.

We believe the MODEL COOK to be the very best Stove in the Market, and invite every one to examine it whether they wish to purchase or not. It has had a very extensive sale since its introduction. Reference might be made to more than a hundred families in this city or vicinity who are using the Stove, and give it the highest commendation.

We refer to the following individuals who have purchased the Model Cook:—

David Kimball, Thos. F. Burt, John T. French, Rev. Mr. Davies, Wm. Pettigrew, Capt. John Davis, Jeremiah Raitt, Mrs. Ann T. Perkins, James W. Jarvis, Francis C. Jarvis, Thos. L. Tullock, Jacob Wendell, Capt. Jacob Thompson, Geo. J. G. Hadley, G. Melvin Buttrick, Jos. D. Akerman, James F. Shores, Wm. C. Newton, Horton D. Walker, Benj. Cheever, John Trundy, Richard Kendall, Geo. Rice, Benj. F. Cauney, Benj M. Parker, Charles A. Wiggin, George W. Plumer, Nath'l Dennett, Henry F. Gerrish, John Barratt, Thos Murphy, Capt. Wm. Lambert, Joseph Stiles, John Senter, Wm. Ball, Cyrus Plumer, Freeman Hurd, James M. Locke, Daniel Kendall, Isaiah Wilson, John E. Robarts of Portsmouth; Samuel C. Dixon, Daniel I. Pryor, Cushman Pryor, of Trefethen's Island; Geo. N. Dixon, Samuel F. Paul, Elias Remick, Timothy Dame, Eliot; Wm. S. Locke, Benj. Fernald, Mrs. Wm. Locke, Kittery; R. F. Gerrish, Kittery Point; Hon. VICTOR COAL STOVE.

We offer this beautiful coal burner to the public, with full confidence in its merits.

It was brought into market two years since, and has come rapidly into use.

The Victor is one of the handsomest parlor stoves in the market, and is perfect in its operation. The arrangement for dumping the ashes is very fine—no dust need escape into the room—a continuous fire may be kept throughout the winter—the coal all burned, and no clinkers made.

The quantity of fuel used is very small indeed. There is in this stove an excellent arrangement for ventilating the room in which it is placed; a feature not possessed by any other parlor stove.

Some of the sizes are provided with an oven and boiling place, making them very desirable for a dining room.

We sold a large number of Victor Stoves in our city last season, and they receive the highest commendation from those who are using them.

We have also the celebrated McGregor Stove, so well known in the market as to need no commendation.

A great variety of cheaper Stoves for coal and wood—Coal-hods—Patent Coal-sifters.

COAL LININGS,

and Repairing pieces for most of the stoves in use. Job Work attended to with dispatch.

Reader, do you wish to know where to find a splendid assortment of goods from which to select your Gift for the coming HOLIDAYS? If you do—and who does not?—please take my arm for a walk down Congress Street. Here we are at

JAMES F. SHORES, JR.

The window is adorned with fine Engravings, as a specimen of what may be found in the Picture Drawer; one of these, well framed by Mr. Barton, will be just the thing for some friend's parlor. Then the Half-Price Table well filled with FARIAN WARE, &c., which will be sold at ONE-HALF THE MARKET PRICE. Next are the High Colored PICTURE BOOKS and Cloth PICTURE BOOKS. Then the long case full of TOYS, samples of which are exhibited on the Table in the back of the store. Look at them—don't you wish you were a little child again that you might have a good time playing with a box of those Nine Pins, or Soldiers, or China Tea Sets, or Wooden Tea Sets, or Villages, or Noah's Arks, or Magnetic Toys, or those beautiful China or Biscuit Dolls, or, or—but we have not time to enumerate all.

Let us turn to the other side of the store. Next to the Toy Table comes the Table of Games, on which you see are

DOMINOES, SOLITAIRE,

And now, my friend, do you think you have seen enough? "Yes sir, I guess I have, and rather too much, for with such a variety before me I am at a loss what to select." Well, then you had better go home, get your Head settled, your Mind collected, your Purse well filled and tomorrow come back and make your selections.—But one word before we part—don't forget to tell your friends that THE PLACE to buy

A PSALM FOR NEW YEAR'S EVE.

A Friend stands at the door;
In either tight-closed hand
Hiding rich gifts. Three hundred and three score;
Waiting to strew them daily o'er the land,
Even as seed the sower.
Each drops he, treads it in and passes by;
It cannot be made fruitful till it die.

O good New Year, we clasp
This warm-shut hand of thine,
Looming forever, with half sigh, half gasp,
That which from ours falls like dead fingers twine
Ay, whether force its grasp
Here been, or gentle, having been, we know
That it was blessed; let the Old Year go.

O, New Year, teach us faith!
The road of life is hard; [scathe,
When our feet bleed and scourging winds us
Point thou to him whose visage was more marred
Than any man's: who saith,
"Make straight paths for your feet"—and to the opposed—
"Come ye to Me and I will give you rest."

Yet hang some lamp-like hope
Above the unknown way,
Kind year, to give unspirits freer scope
And our hands strength to work while it is day.
But if that way must slope
Tombward, O bring before our failing eyes
The lamp of life, the Hope that never dies.

Comfort our souls with love,
Love of all human kind;
Love special, close, as such like shelter'd dove,
Each weary heart its quiet nest may find;
And love that turns above
Adoringly: contented to resign
All loves, if need be, for the Love Divine.

Friend, come since like a friend,
And whether bright thy face,
Or dim with clouds we cannot comprehend,—
We'll hold our patient hands, each in his place,
And indifface to the end,
Knowing non leadest onwards to those spheres
Where there are neither days, nor months, nor years.

Redemption of Postage Stamps.

ON and after Jan. 1, 1863, for the term of thirty days, (Sundays excepted) at the usual office hours, Postage Stamps that have been used for Currency will be received at this office for redemption on the following conditions, viz.:

Stamps offered for redemption must be assorted, and each denomination must be inclosed in separate envelope, and endorsed with the alleged number and value. The several envelopes must then be placed in one sealed envelop and endorsed with the alleged aggregate value of the parcel, and the name and place of residence or business of the depositor.

Only one package will be redeemed for the same individual, family, firm or association.

Only such Stamps as have been used as Currency will be redeemed. Good Stamps, if such are found, will be returned.

Packages deposited for redemption, will be receipted for and registered. And on and after the twenty-fourth day of Jan. next, payment will be made on the presentation of the receipt. The undersigned is authorized whenever he "may deem it expedient for the interest of the Department, to require an affidavit from any applicant for the redemption of Postage Stamps, that he obtained the said Stamps honestly, and that they have never to his knowledge been used on letters, or cleaned after such use."

The Post-Offices at Portsmouth and Concord are the only offices in this State where Stamps are redeemed.

The undersigned is instructed to give express notice that the time for depositing Stamps for redemption is limited to thirty days, and will expire at this office on the fourth day of February, 1863; and that this time will not be extended.

After this period has expired, all persons who use Postage Stamps for Currency will do so at their own risk.

THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE.

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier for baking, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, it is free from the noxious headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke flue, with safety.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles to impede the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in this world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.
